Beneath A Sleeping Bag: $10,000 In LSD

Narcotics agents who found $10,000 forth of LSD under a sleeping bag in a vacant lot in Tamalpais Valley yesterday arrested a 26-year-old Canadian and accused him of dealing in interstate drug traffic.

Agents said they arranged a sale about 3:30 p.m. with Robert Anthony Watt, who gave no present address, at a house at 258 Green Street.

As the buy was made outside the house, nearby agents including Marin Drug Abuse officials and federal narcotic agents, swooped down. Watt ran, the agents said, but was caught a short distance from the house.

Also arrested were four other persons who were in the house who, a federal agent said, had offered him marijuana while he was negotiating the sale.

Booked into Marin County Jail on drug charges were Christine Crawford, 20, of 258 Crawford Street, Mill Valley; Joseph Eugene Baldeck, 25, of no fixed address; James Ayers Simpson, 25, of San Francisco, and Lyle Dean Adams, 39, of 255 Canal Street, San Rafael.

A search of the house and surrounding area turned up 2,000 capsules of LSD hidden in a cardboard box under the sleeping bag in a lot next to the house, according to the agents.

Inside the home, which they described as "typically hippie" furnished mainly with mattresses, they said they found suspected heroin in a shaving kit, marijuana, more LSD and narcotics equipment including needles and roache clips.

In the basement the agents found a paper bay containing $7,800 next to a pile of trash.

An infant who was present during the raid and apparently being cared for by Miss Crawford was turned over to his mother, who arrived while agents were there.

Watt was taken by federal agents to San Francisco to face federal charges of sale and possession of drugs.

All the others were in Marin County Jail today in lieu of $2,500 bail awaiting appearance in Marin Municipal Court today. They were all booked on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs, possession of marijuana and possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

Nixon's Critics Charge Meddling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., accused President Richard M. Nixon today of attempting to intimidate congressmen probing the role of the military budget in American life.

Proxmire, who is chairman of a joint Senate-House economic subcommittee holding hearings on the military budget and national priorities, objected to what he termed Nixon's strong language yesterday in a speech at the Air Force Academy on national defense.

Nixon said "new isolationists" were posing a false choice between meeting responsibilities at home and abroad.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the acting Senate Democratic leader, called Nixon's references to new isolationists and unilateral disarmers "unfortunate."

"I think he outlined what his sense of the priorities were," Kennedy told reporters, adding he thinks Congress has the responsibility of acting as it sees fit.

Proxmire protested that Nixon was trying to intimidate "those who question whether America's role in the world can be best served by a large and expanding military force instead of a more vigorous dedication of our resources to our domestic programs."

Proxmire issued the statement at his subcommittee's hearing.

He said the President's speech recognized the value of his subcommittee's probe but at the same time raised serious questions about its conduct.

"This committee is trying to ask the right questions," Proxmire said.

Meanwhile, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., called on Nixon to persuade South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu to accept a political settlement of the Vietnam war, "thus permitting 540,000 American boys to come home."

The alternative, Gore said, is "the Thieu plan of permitting a piecemeal withdrawal of U.S. troops along with a commitment to keep many, many U.S. soldiers in Vietnam indefinitely to keep President Thieu in office."

The Tennessee Democrat spoke out in a speech prepared for the Senate.

Other senators critical of the administration military policy took issue with what they saw as Nixon's implications they are "the new isolationists."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright led the expected outcry from Democratic opponents of the Vietnam War and the proposed Safeguard antiballistic missile system—ABM—after Nixon's speech

But joining the barrage of Democratic dissent was Republican Sen. James B. Pearson of Kansas who said he doesn't know any fellow critics of high-level military spending who want unilateral U.S. withdrawal

Third Smut Bill Passes In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Assembly, which hadn't passed a major antipornography bill in many years, today overwhelmingly approved its third one in two days.

The house, on a 49-7 vote, sent the Senate a measure which eliminates the requirement that "expert witnesses" must be called to testify in obscenity trials.

"Expert witnesses" often are book reviewers for newspapers.

The author, Assemblyman Frank Murphy, R-Santa Cruz, said the definition of an "expert" is so "strict and narrow it almost is impossible to prosecute."

Meanwhile, antipornography legislation backed by Gov. Ronald Reagan and Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch was a short step from final passage. But the author wasn't sure whether to take the step.

The two bills by Sen. Robert Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, easily passed the Assembly Wednesday and moved to the Senate for normally routine concurrence in previous lower house amendments.

But Lagomarsino said the

$12 Billion Bay Transport Plan Envisions New Roads, Subways

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

BERKELEY — A massive transportation system for the Bay Area, costing possibly as much as $12 billion in the next 20 years and including hundreds of miles of new superhighways and subways, was proposed by the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission yesterday.

The ambitious long-range transportation plan called for 1,400 miles of freeways in the nine-county Bay Area and 230 miles of rapid transit rails, compared to 357 miles of freeways and 75 miles of rapid transit now.

In a report to the Legislature and Gov. Ronald Reagan, BATSC also suggested formation of a nine-county regional agency to deal with transportation problems. The agency would have the power to levy general taxes for transportation programs and would allow use of highway user taxes such as gas and vehicle taxes to be used for such things as rapid transit systems, a departure from present mandatory application of such revenues exclusively to freeways and lesser thoroughfares.

In unveiling the final plan — the results of a six-year, $6 million study — Chairman Nils Eklund told a Berkeley news conference: "There will be nothing but transportation chaos if this plan is not completed by 1990." It can be done, he said, but not without dramatic new plans for financing.

Maps submitted with the report showed several new freeways, including one along the present route of Shoreline Highway in West Marin, one across central Marin and one west of Novato to Point Reyes.

The report also recommended development of rapid transit in Marin and elsewhere throughout the Bay Area. BATSC consultant Richard M. Zettel said the commission foresaw extension of rapid transit lines to Southern Marin during the 1980s with rail lines as far north as Novato in the 1980s. Eventually, the rapid transit system would reach into Sonoma County, maps indicated.

He said in the interim, there should be development of feeder bus lines to rapid transit stations followed possibly by "rapid bus extensions," utilizing, perhaps, separate freeway lanes.

The actual cost of the commission's proposals, in terms of 1969 dollars, was estimated by Eklund at $8 billion to $9 billion. But figuring a modest inflation rate of 3 per cent annually, he cautioned, the cost would go to $11 billion or $12 billion by 1990.

To carry out the 20-year program, BATSC urged formation of a regional government to handle functions such as transportation. In the absence of such an organization, however, the commission still recommended a regional transportation agency, under an appointive board, with the understanding it would be merged into a regional government if and when such was formed.

The transportation agency would have both policy and fiscal authority over all regional highways, regional rapid transit and Bay crossings.

The recommendation for the regional agency is basically contained in a bill by Assemblyman John D. Foran, D-San Francisco, now pending before the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

To finance its program, the commission urged accelerated financing programs on the part of the federal and state governments but also said the agency should have the power to impose transport user and general taxes.

It also suggests that highway user taxes, whether state regionally imposed, could be used for any public transportation

County Tax Rate Keeps On Climbing

Decision On Firefighting May Boost Bite To $2.50

Marin County's anticipated basic tax rate hit a new high yesterday of $2.502 or 23 cents more than this year's $2.27.

The indicated rate of $2.445, with which the county supervisors opened budget deliberations Monday, kept climbing instead of dropping.

The biggest jump in rate came when supervisors decided not to burden the unincorporated areas with the full 58.5 cents county fire tax rate proposed by the county administrator. They rolled that back to about 30 cents, which has the effect of spreading a part of that burden to all taxpayers in the county including cities and fire districts. That spread raised the anticipated basic tax rate countywide by 4.6 cents.

PORTION OF COUNTY

The total budget for the county fire department for next year is $665,657. County Administrator Alan Bruce proposed that $395,057 of this amount be charged as "structural fire protection" tax to areas not protected by cities and fire districts. This year, the "structural fire protection" portion of the county fire budget is only $133,858 out of $654,539. The state reimburses the county $211,600 for protection of state timber and grassland.

Supervisor Chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Louis H. Baar objected to shifting $395,056 to unincorporated areas. They insisted that unincorporated areas are not getting that much benefit in structural fire protection, and that the term "structural fire protection" is a misnomer because county fire equipment is not geared for fighting structural fires.

SHIFT SUGGESTED

They were backed by Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas and Ann H. McCorry of Greenbrae, who charged that fire tax rates were being shifted without a public hearing.

Supervisors Michael Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. argued that the county fire tax load should be shifted away from cities and fire districts because they are already paying for structural fire protection in addition to the county fire tax.

Ronald L. Usher, Corte Madera town manager agreed. "There is no rationale for city and fire district taxpayers to pay this tax and give unincorporated fringes a free ride," said Usher.

Progress Rapid In Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today that the training of South Vietnamese forces to take over more combat—and release American troops—is "moving along at a rapid pace."

Rogers also told a news conference in response to questions about peace negotiations on Vietnam that "we're not wedded to any government in Saigon."

"We're wedded to the principle that the people of South Vietnam will decide their own future," he said.

"Any government that the people of South Vietnam choose is all right with us."

Rogers refused to say whether or not President Richard M. Nixon, and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu would announce any plan for U.S. troop withdrawals from Souht Vietnam when they meet at Midway Island Sunday.

There has been speculation—which Rogers refused to support today—that they might announce a timetable for withdrawal of 50,000 troops or more.

Rogers was in South Vietnam three weeks ago and talked with top U.S. and South Vietnamese officials.

On other questions Rogers said:

"It would be a tragic thing if our relations deteriorated with Latin America and this administration does not intend to let that happen."

Rogers made that comment in summing up demonstrations against Nixon's special envoy, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, in Latin America in the last few weeks. Rockefeller had to cancel visits to the three countries, but Rogers noted that he had visited 10 countries, and Rogers said he thought even the dem-

Hanoi Brands Nixon 'Neo-Colonialist'

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam accused President Richard M. Nixon today of outdoing former President Lyndon B. Johnson in intensifying the Vietnamese War in pursuit of "neo-colonialist aims."

South Vietnam at the 20th session of the expanded peace talks accused the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong of trying to delay negotiations "because you expect a military victory."

The United States was more restrained, asking North Vietnam whether it was prepared to withdraw its forces in a peace settlement.

Ha Van Lau, North Vietnam's deputy representative, devoted almost his entire speech to an attack on the Nixon administration. He sat in for chief negotiator Xuan Thuy, who is in Hanoi for consultation

At one point, Lau declared that Nixon had gone "even further" than Johnson, and added: "The Nixon administration has tripled and even quadrupled the number of sweep operations, increased indiscriminate B52 bombings and intensified the use of toxic chemicals and poison gas."

U.S. officers in Saigon have denied that the number of sweep operations have been stepped up and insist they are at a lower level than a year ago.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who leaves later in the day en route to Midway Island for the meeting of Nixon Sunday with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, asked a series of questions about the Viet Cong's 10-point peace plan.

He asked North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front to spell out specifically whether North Vietnam is prepared to withdraw its troops from South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia and what kind of international supervision would be acceptable.

On the question of a political settlement, Lodge urged the NLF to accept Thieu's offer for private negotiations. He described as unrealistic the NLF's insistence that it would not deal with the present Saigon government.

Lau chided Nixon for his talk about "de-Americanizing the war."

"How could he possibly succeed?" he asked. "This is really a vicious circle. He has trapped himself in it because he never really wanted to settle the Vietnamese problem peacefully on the basis of the logical and reasonable solution put forward by the NLF."

Lau described Johnson's Vietnam policy as a "fiasco" and said Nixon's pursuit of the same policy was "based on the illusions of achieving neo-colonialism in South Vietnam and will bring no benefit either to the American people or to Mr. Nixon himself."

South Vietnam's chief negotiator, Pham Dang Lam, opened the session by declaring that "no question related to the future of the 17 million people of Vietnam can be discussed and solved without the participation and the approval" of the Saigon government.

County Tax Rate Keeps On Climbing

Decision On Firefighting May Boost Bite To $2.50

Marin County's anticipated basic tax rate hit a new high yesterday of $2.502 or 23 cents more than this year's $2.27.

The indicated rate of $2.445, with which the county supervisors opened budget deliberations Monday, kept climbing instead of dropping.

The biggest jump in rate came when supervisors decided not to burden the unincorporated areas with the full 58.5 cents county fire tax rate proposed by the county administrator. They rolled that back to about 30 cents, which has the effect of spreading a part of that burden to all taxpayers in the county including cities and fire districts. That spread raised the anticipated basic tax rate countywide by 4.6 cents.

PORTION OF COUNTY

The total budget for the county fire department for next year is $665,657. County Administrator Alan Bruce proposed that $395,057 of this amount be charged as "structural fire protection" tax to areas not protected by cities and fire districts. This year, the "structural fire protection" portion of the county fire budget is only $133,858 out of $654,539. The state reimburses the county $211,600 for protection of state timber and grassland.

Supervisor Chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Louis H. Baar objected to shifting $395,056 to unincorporated areas. They insisted that unincorporated areas are not getting that much benefit in structural fire protection, and that the term "structural fire protection" is a misnomer because county fire equipment is not geared for fighting structural fires.

They were backed by Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas and Ann H. McCorry of Greenbrae, who charged that fire tax rates were being shifted without a public hearing.

Supervisors Michael Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. argued that the county fire tax load should be shifted away from cities and fire districts because they are already paying for structural fire protection in addition to the county fire tax.

Ronald L. Usher, Corte Madera town manager agreed. "There is no rationale for city and fire district taxpayers to pay this tax and give unincorporated fringes a free ride," said Usher.

Rogers refused to say whether or not President Richard M. Nixon, and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu would announce any plan for U.S. troop withdrawals from Souht Vietnam when they meet at Midway Island Sunday.

There has been speculation—which Rogers refused to support today—that they might announce a timetable for withdrawal of 50,000 troops or more.

On other questions Rogers said:

"It would be a tragic thing if our relations deteriorated with Latin America and this administration does not intend to let that happen."

Rogers made that comment in summing up demonstrations against Nixon's special envoy, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, in Latin America in the last few weeks. Rockefeller had to cancel visits to the three countries, but Rogers noted that he had visited 10 countries, and Rogers said he thought even the dem-

TNT Stolen

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI) — The FBI revealed yesterday that 4,000 rounds of rifle ammunition and 40 blocks of TNT had been stolen from a Wyoming Army National Guard camp in late May.

"Whoever they were, they came prepared," said Maj. Gen. John R. Carson, the Wyoming adjutant general. "They knew what they were doing and what they wanted." The explosives and ammunition were taken from Camp Guernsey, site of the guard's ammunition and explosives bunker.

Valuable Find

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — An ancient Spanish galleon said to be almost completely intact has been found by divers in shallow water about 300 yards offshore, it was reported yesterday.

Carl Clausen, marine biologist at Florida Sate University, called it one of hhe most valunable underwater archeological finds in the state's history.

He said divers found what is believed to be the Capitana, a 135-foot frigate and flagship of the Galeones fleet which sank in 1715, in 15 feet of water.

Reds Gather

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev opend the Kremiln-dominated International Communist Conference today with a charge that imperialists of the world are afraid of Communist unity.

The conference, boycotted by China and several other major parties, has been promoted by Moscow as a step toward Communist unity. Seventy-five of the world's Communist parties are attending.

Senate Bill Proposes Junior College Cash

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — A bill that would grant more than $6 billion to states in the next four years to supplement support of junior colleges has been introduced by Sen. Harrison J. Williams Jr., D-N.J., and Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., as co-sponsors.

It would establish a bureau of community education in the U.S. Office of Education, to coordinate master plans for junior colleges developed by the states and to oversee grants given on the basis of population. Guidelines for the state master plans were derived in part from California's two-year college system, Cranston noted.

Explosion Deaths

CARNEYS POINT, N.J. (UPI) — Three thunderous explosions disintegrated four gunpowder storage buildings at a Du Pont Chemical plant yesterday. Three workers were killed, four were missing and 72 persons were injured.

Windows 10 miles away were shattered by the blast. The injured included 16 children who were cut by flying glass when the blast blew in windows of three schools in Penns Grove, N.J., about a mile from the plant.

Three bodies were found, but only one could be positively identified.

Only a ring of blackened earth remained to show where four one-story buildings once stood.

Now Impossible

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI) — Whether the United States or Russia is ahead in the space race can no longer be stated simply, rocket scientist Dr. Wernher von Braun said yesterday.

"A couple of years ago you could answer the question 'are we ahead of the Russians or are they ahead of us' in very simple terms," von Braun said. "For example, right after Sputnik it thing in orbit we didn't.

"So they were ahead in the space program. But today the space program has so many facets that it may be impossible for all eternity from now on to be ahead of them in all fields. And equally, it will be impossible for them to be ahead of us in all fields."

Joint Probe In Vessel Tragedy Due

PEARL HARBOR (UPI)— The U.S. and Australian governments worked out plans today for a joint investigation of a collision between two warships of their nations which killed 74 Americans.

The decision of the two navies to study the disaster together followed two somewhat differing versions of what occurred before the two vessels rammed during maneuvers near Vietnam Tuesday. The impact sent the forward part of the U.S. ship to the bottom of the sea.

The Australian Navy Ministry had said earlier the carrier Melbourne ordered the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans to change course. Reports received here by Pacific Fleet headquarters from survivors of the collision indicated crewmen aboard the Evans received no warning of the impending crash.

The two governments originally announced Tuesday they would conduct separate inquiries, but the Pentagon said Wednesday the Australian Navy had accepted the U.S. proposal for a "joint preliminary investigation."

U.S. Bombs North Over Plane Incident

SAIGON (UPI) — American warplanes bombed North Vietnam for the first time on record in six months today, raiding antiaircraft gunners who shot down an unarmed U.S. photo plane, military spokesmen said.

U.S. Air Force F4 Phantoms wheeled and dived in attacks on the guns near Dong Hoi, a North Vietnamese port on the South China Sea 40 miles above the border demilitarized zone (DMZ).

They were escorting an unarmed Phantom taking pictures of the flow of men and supplies down North Vietnam's panhandle toward the south. Ground fire hit the photo plane and it turned out to sea.

There, the two crewmen bailed out and were picked up by a rescue helicopter.

Spokesmen had no report on how much damage the two armed escorts did in their retaliatory raids against the ground gunners. The bombing of North Vietnam stopped Nov. 1 but photo flights with armed escorts have continued.

It was the fifth American plane lost over the north since the bomb halt.

The previous loss over the north occurred last Dec. 24 when ground fire hit a photo plane 10 miles north of Dong Hoi. Escort planes hit back that time, too. Todays' incident occurred three miles east of the port city, spokesmen said.

This was the first time since the Dec. 24 incident that the command has reported retaliatory strikes against North Vietnamese gunners, although previous incidents that did not involve U.S. losses may have gone unreported.

In Saigon, terrorists staged a second day of bombings, killing three South Vietnamese civilians and wounding 10 in seven explosions. One U.S. soldier was wounded trying to disarm another bomb.

The U.S. command released its weekly casualty report showing 261 GIs killed and 1,810 wounded last week—the fewest total losses in four weeks. The slight dropoff from the previous week was attributed to a two-day Communist truce and a one-day Allied standdown for Buddha's birthday.

South Vietnamese losses were put at 325 killed, 1,021 wounded and 30 missing, while Communist losses were 2,637 killed—both less than the previous week because of the truces.

All 79 On Mexican Jet Die In Crash

MONTERREY, Mexico (UPI) —A Mexican jetliner, skimming the rain-swept Sierra Madre for a place to land, crashed atop a 6,000 foot peak yesterday and burned, killing all 79 persons aboard, including tennis great Rafael Osuna.

A helicopter pilot, who returned from the crash site 20 miles northwest of Monterrey with five airline officials, described the scene:

"Everyone is dead. The bodies are so mangled it will be very difficult or impossible to identify everyone. Everything is burned."

The plane crashed into a part of the Sierra Madre known as "Monk's Mountains." The range is lush with vegetation that can be seen for miles.

A Mexican official who flew over the crash site said the plane smashed into a 500-foot high sheer vertical wall.

The official said a crew of specially trained mountain climbers arrived from Mexico City at 7:15 p.m. (PDT) yesterday and left immediately for the crash site.

The rescue team made its first attempt to scale the peak early today, but a spokesman said the first bodies probably would not be brought down until tonight.

Hayakawa's Wish: Permanent Status

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, acting president of San Francisco State College, would like to be named permanent president of the school.

He told newsmen yesterday the job of permanent president has great appeal to him and indicated the post was preferable to running for elective office.

"That's the job I really want right now and I want to stay with it," Hayakawa told an impromptu hallway news conference in the Capitol after testifying before a Senate committee.

The semantics professor, who became the college's acting president last November during intense strife on the campus, said he did not want to leave the post without accomplishing all the goals he set for himself.

"I don't think I should walk out now with it half done," he said.

Hayakawa has been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor, U.S. senator or state superintendent of public instruction. His popularity in some polls runs second only to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

In the past Hayakawa has left the door open for himself to decide later whether to decide to run for office. He is a Democrat.

Asked by newsmen what his political plans were, Hayakawa again brushed aside the question by refusing to speculate.

"I haven't got the time to worry about other things but education," he said.

Newsmen also questioned the bantam college president on whether he approves of a special selection committee proposed by state college Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke to find a person to succeed Hayakawa.

"I don't know," he replied. "It seems to me the kind of committee the chancellor of the state colleges advised is reasonable enough."

Chamber Backs Work On Creek

The Army Corps of Engineers' plans for completion of the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project have won endorsement from the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau.

In a letter to the county board of supervisors, Richard P. Nave, chamber president, said the chamber board agreed it would be "foolhardy and a shirking of duty to jeopardize completion either by delay or major modification."

The letter said it would be a "travesty to re-engineer the project for anything less than proposed."

The supervisors have set June 24 at 4 p.m. for a public hearing on phase three of the project from the College Avenue bridge in Kentfield to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Winship Avenue in Ross.

The chamber's letter said its board had made a "satisfying observation" that the Engineers Corps had embodied esthetics in its concrete channel design, within fund limits.

Tam Trustees To Hear Report On Study Items

Smoking, drugs and a drop in physical education attendance are specific problems which the Tamalpais High School Discipline Study Committee will suggest for further study in recommendations to be made at the Tamalpais High School District board meeting June 16.

These problems were agreed upon at a Tuesday meeting of the committee. Some members of the committee also said problems lie in more general areas such as free speech, due process and tension-reducing activities.

The committee plans to suggest that the board, or a subcommittee, define problem areas of study this summer, Edward J. Neumeir, district administrative assistant, reported. It was the last committee meeting of the school year.

Hallinan Compares Mutiny Trial To Dreyfus Case

FORT ORD (UPI) — Defense attorneys for 14 soldiers accused of mutiny described their clients as "hysterical children," but the prosecutor said they refused to obey an order and were therefore guilty.

The attorneys made their closing arguments in the 35-day trial yesterday and the case was expected to go to the five-member court martial panel today after instructions from the presiding officer.

Civilian attorney Terence Hallinan and military counsel Capt. Emmitt Yeary both criticized the Army's decision to court-martial 27 inmates at the San Francisco Presidio stockade for mutiny after a sit-down demonstration lact Oct. 14.

Capt. Dean Flippo, the prosecutor, said the defendants did in fact commit a "nonviolent mutiny" when they took part in the demonstration and were therefore guilty of the charges.

Flippo said there was "no doubt" that the soldiers "acted in concert, heard a legitimate order, and chose to disobey it." He added, "That's all there is to it—they refused to obey an order."

Hallinan compared the mutiny charges to the French Army court-martial 75 years ago of Capt. Alfred Dreyfus, who was sentenced to life imprisonment on Devil's Island.

"The conviction of Captain Dreyfus was based on a mistake," the attorney said. "That error came to light later, but the French general staff tried to cover up to save face. They even threw Emile Zola into prison for writing about it.

"The French Army has not recovered to this day," Hallinan said. "This too is a national scandal. The entire nation is watching you," he told the court-martial panel.

Hallinan then pointed to the defendants, crew-cut young men 19 and 20 years old.

Lt. Col. James Hagan, the law officer or judge, was scheduled to instruct the panel of three sergeants, a major and a lieutenant colonel today before giving them the case.

In four previous courts-martial, eight other demonstrators were found guilty of mutiny and sentenced to prison. Three of the original 27 escaped from the stockade and two are under medical treatment.

Taboo originally was a Polynesian word denoting persons, places, things or acts to be shunned.

Hungry Burglar Hits Sausalito Restaurant

An omnivorous burglar broke into the Schooner restaurant on Gate 5 Road Monday night or Tuesday and made off with an assortment of candy, meat, cheese and other foods, Sausalito police reported yesterday. The burglar also drank two bottles of beer as he worked.

Hayakawa's Wish: Permanent Status

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, acting president of San Francisco State College, would like to be named permanent president of the school.

He told newsmen yesterday the job of permanent president has great appeal to him and indicated the post was preferable to running for elective office.

"That's the job I really want right now and I want to stay with it," Hayakawa told an impromptu hallway news conference in the Capitol after testifying before a Senate committee.

The semantics professor, who became the college's acting president last November during intense strife on the campus, said he did not want to leave the post without accomplishing all the goals he set for himself.

"I don't think I should walk out now with it half done," he said.

Hayakawa has been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor, U.S. senator or state superintendent of public instruction. His popularity in some polls runs second only to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

In the past Hayakawa has left the door open for himself to decide later whether to decide to run for office. He is a Democrat.

Asked by newsmen what his political plans were, Hayakawa again brushed aside the question by refusing to speculate.

"I haven't got the time to worry about other things but education," he said.

Newsmen also questioned the bantam college president on whether he approves of a special selection committee proposed by state college Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke to find a person to succeed Hayakawa.

"I don't know," he replied. "It seems to me the kind of committee the chancellor of the state colleges advised is reasonable enough."

Chamber Backs Work On Creek

The Army Corps of Engineers' plans for completion of the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project have won endorsement from the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau.

In a letter to the county board of supervisors, Richard P. Nave, chamber president, said the chamber board agreed it would be "foolhardy and a shirking of duty to jeopardize completion either by delay or major modification."

The letter said it would be a "travesty to re-engineer the project for anything less than proposed."

The supervisors have set June 24 at 4 p.m. for a public hearing on phase three of the project from the College Avenue bridge in Kentfield to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Winship Avenue in Ross.

The chamber's letter said its board had made a "satisfying observation" that the Engineers Corps had embodied esthetics in its concrete channel design, within fund limits.

Tam Trustees To Hear Report On Study Items

Smoking, drugs and a drop in physical education attendance are specific problems which the Tamalpais High School Discipline Study Committee will suggest for further study in recommendations to be made at the Tamalpais High School District board meeting June 16.

These problems were agreed upon at a Tuesday meeting of the committee. Some members of the committee also said problems lie in more general areas such as free speech, due process and tension-reducing activities.

The committee plans to suggest that the board, or a subcommittee, define problem areas of study this summer, Edward J. Neumeir, district administrative assistant, reported. It was the last committee meeting of the school year.

Hallinan Compares Mutiny Trial To Dreyfus Case

FORT ORD (UPI) — Defense attorneys for 14 soldiers accused of mutiny described their clients as "hysterical children," but the prosecutor said they refused to obey an order and were therefore guilty.

The attorneys made their closing arguments in the 35-day trial yesterday and the case was expected to go to the five-member court martial panel today after instructions from the presiding officer.

Civilian attorney Terence Hallinan and military counsel Capt. Emmitt Yeary both criticized the Army's decision to court-martial 27 inmates at the San Francisco Presidio stockade for mutiny after a sit-down demonstration lact Oct. 14.

Capt. Dean Flippo, the prosecutor, said the defendants did in fact commit a "nonviolent mutiny" when they took part in the demonstration and were therefore guilty of the charges.

Flippo said there was "no doubt" that the soldiers "acted in concert, heard a legitimate order, and chose to disobey it." He added, "That's all there is to it—they refused to obey an order."

Hallinan compared the mutiny charges to the French Army court-martial 75 years ago of Capt. Alfred Dreyfus, who was sentenced to life imprisonment on Devil's Island.

"The conviction of Captain Dreyfus was based on a mistake," the attorney said. "That error came to light later, but the French general staff tried to cover up to save face. They even threw Emile Zola into prison for writing about it.

"The French Army has not recovered to this day," Hallinan said. "This too is a national scandal. The entire nation is watching you," he told the court-martial panel.

Hallinan then pointed to the defendants, crew-cut young men 19 and 20 years old.

Lt. Col. James Hagan, the law officer or judge, was scheduled to instruct the panel of three sergeants, a major and a lieutenant colonel today before giving them the case.

In four previous courts-martial, eight other demonstrators were found guilty of mutiny and sentenced to prison. Three of the original 27 escaped from the stockade and two are under medical treatment.

Hail, Cloudburst Batter Ashland

ASHLAND, Ore. (UPI)—A severe rain and hail storm struck this southern Oregon city last night. Trees were knocked down, mudslides blocked roads and streets, and cars and buildings were damaged.

Larry James, district engineer for the U.S. Forest Service, said ranger station equipment on the edge of Ashland recorded 1.2 inches of rain between 7:30 p.m. and 11 p.m.

He said hail "bigger than golf balls" fell for about 20 minutes during that period, damaging cars and roofs of homes. Some windows were broken.

Water 30 inches deep ran down Main Street at the height of the storm.

On a motion by Wornum, the supervisors agreed to a compromise amount of $200,000 to be designated as the "structural fire protection" portion to be borne by unincorporated areas. But they decided to call it a "special fire protection tax," striking the word "structural."

The supervisors added $10,460 to the community mental health budget for a drug education program for teen-agers. The community planning group for alcohol-drug abuse problems recommended the program, to be operated by the Catholic Social Service of Marin.

Both Supervisors Wornum and Arrigoni strongly endorsed the drug education program, pointing out that more emphasis is needed on prevention because enforcement has not proved successful so far.

The total community mental health budget will be $2,240,178 as compared with $942,498 for this year. The increase is for completion and full operation of the new community mental health center at Marin General Hospital. All but $395,502 of the total budget is reimbursed by state and federal funds.

The county clerk's budget will be $299,833, up from this year's $246,891. The elections department budget is $306,489 as compared with this year's $332,306.

from Vietnam or to disarm alone.

"I disagree with the President," Pearson, an ABM critic, said in an interview. "What we want to do is to prevent the start of a new nuclear arms race. And I don't think it's isolationism to oppose excessive military spending."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Nixon's references to new isolationists offended him greatly.

Nixon's speech came the same day that Fulbright appeared before a Senate-House subcommittee to advocate a crackdown on defense outlays.

At an impromptu news conference, Fulbright accused Nixon of trying to make critics appear unpatriotic.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said that no responsible American advocates that the United States lay down its arms alone.

"What is sweeping America is a demand that we readjust our priorities and our goals so that we tackle the immense problems we face at home and abroad with realism and not with rhetoric," Cranston said.

Meanwhile today, Nixon set up shop north of his San Clemente residence in Southern California today in the roomier accommodations of a coastal inn for a series of essentially domestic conference and announcements.

The President, who arrived at his new home yesterday, arranged for office and conference space at the Newport Inn, about 25 miles north of San Clemente toward Los Angeles. Today and Friday, suites in the inn will be the White House offices from which Nixon will announce at least one new major appointment—a new director of the Veterans Administration to succeed William Driver.

The expected appointee was Donald Johnson of West Branch, Iowa, former national commander of the American Legion.

There will also be some advance discussion of his Sunday meeting at Midway Island with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, particularly after Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, special assistant to the President for national security affairs, arrives during the day.

Trial Is Set Over Boundary

Trial has been set for he week of Nov. 10 in Marin Superior Court in the suit of Marina Improvement Club against the Marin Yacht club and the City of San Rafael.

The suit; filed in November 1966, accuses the city of betraying its residents by allegedly establishing a careless and inaccurate tidelands boundary for the yacht club.

The State Lands Commission has authorized the state to intervene in the suit.

Three Juvenile Hall Escapers Returned

Three youths were booked yesterday into Marin County Juvenile Hall as escapees from the hall, when caught in a marsh area on Francisco Boulevard after San Rafael police received a tip they were in the area.

The trio had escaped from the hall at 10:04 p.m. Tuesday and were located at 1:31 p.m. yesterday, police said.

Corte Madera 'People's Park' Sought On Lot

The Marina Village Homeowners Association will ask the Corte Madera Town Council to investigate creating a temporary "people's park" at the northeast corner of Harbor and Paradise Drives, acting president David I. Freed said today.

There are no parks in east Corte Madera, Freed said, and the association would like to see if the town and the owner of the vacant land would permit a temporary park. "We would like to put in some benches and some shrubs," said Freed. Freed did not know the owner's name, he said.

The association, which met Tuesday night after being inactive since Christmas of 1964, also agreed to investigate the following:

An assessment district for undergrounding utilities, pedestrian walkways on San Clemente Drive, fast traffic on Paradise Drive and a proposed sewer insepction on Echo Drive.

Freed was named acting president at the meeting;

Ingerman, acting secretary and Henry Dobson, treasurer. Directors elected were Robert J. Morgenlaender, John D. Conkle, Patrick Dowling, Norma Axton, Kay Orton, Werner Rudiger, Ingerman and Freed.

Judge Continues Embezzling Case

A former San Rafael man who now lives in Chicao was brought into Marin Municipal Court yesterday to face charges tat he embezzled about $600 from his former employer, Western Union in San Rafael, last year.

Charged was James Ray Purcell, 23.

Judge Hadden W. Roth continued Purcell's case until Aug. 26, when Purcell will finish serving a sentence in Butte County for failing to support his children.

Purcell is accused of taking the money between July and October of last year.

There "seems to be general agreement" between the United States and Russia and some other countries that a final plan for settling the Middle East crisis "has to be a package—a total agreement." Rogers did not explain this except to say that a step-by-step process is no longer considered feasible.

23 Paper License Plates Are Stolen

A book of dealers report of sale of used cars forms with 23 paper license plates and temporary identification forms was reported taken from Marin Dodge a Francisco Boulevard and Grand Avenue, Monday night, police said today.

purpose. This represented a significant victory for rapid transit backers over freeway supporters who have long fought using gas and vehicle taxes for subways.

Also dropped from the report was a Zettel recommendation that a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge "be accepted as a development guide for highways." The commission shelved that proposal in the face of strong opposition from both the San Francisco and Marin boards of supervisors.

Even the broad range of new freeways and subways proposed by the commission would not completely meet transportation needs, the report noted. Without specifying them, but presumably referring to the "southern (population) tilt" toward counties of San Mateo and Santa Clara, the report predicted "critical overloads" in some cases even if the new systems are built.

Maps submitted with the report showed the proposed freeway along the Shoreline Highway route continuing from the east edge of Tomales Bay overland to Sebastopol where spurs would be built to connect with Highway 101 at Santa Rosa and Rohnert Park.

One freeway on the peninsula would run along the edge of the bay from San Francisco to San Jose with some of it going offshore. Eklund conceded that proposal would be among the most controversial.

The subway system envisions a rail network from Napa to San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties with a loop around the southern tip of the bay to connect the peninsula and East Bay systems.

The 16 captains of Harbor Tours Inc. who pilot the tour and ferry boats from Tiburon across the Bay were still on strike today with no negotiations scheduled.

The strike, which started yesterday, forced 200 Marinites who usually commute to San Francisco by ferry boat to find other transportation. It also idled ferry service to Angel Island and the company's tours of San Francisco Bay.

from Vietnam or to disarm alone.

"I disagree with the President," Pearson, an ABM critic, said in an interview. "What we want to do is to prevent the start of a new nuclear arms race. And I don't think it's isolationism to oppose excessive military spending."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Nixon's references to new isolationists offended him greatly.

Nixon's speech came the same day that Fulbright appeared before a Senate-House subcommittee to advocate a crackdown on defense outlays.

At an impromptu news conference, Fulbright accused Nixon of trying to make critics appear unpatriotic.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said that no responsible American advocates that the United States lay down its arms alone.

"What is sweeping America is a demand that we readjust our priorities and our goals so that we tackle the immense problems we face at home and abroad with realism and not with rhetoric," Cranston said.

Meanwhile today, Nixon set up shop north of his San Clemente residence in Southern California today in the roomier accommodations of a coastal inn for a series of essentially domestic conference and announcements.

The President, who arrived at his new home yesterday, arranged for office and conference space at the Newport Inn, about 25 miles north of San Clemente toward Los Angeles. Today and Friday, suites in the inn will be the White House offices from which Nixon will announce at least oné new major appointment—a new director of the Veterans Administration to succeed William Driver.

The expected appointee was Donald Johnson of West Branch, Iowa, former national commander of the American Legion.

There will also be some advance discussion of his Sunday meeting at Midway Island with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, particularly after Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, special assistant to the President for national security affairs, arrives during the day.

Corte Madera 'People's Park' Sought On Lot

The Marina Village Homeowners Association will ask the Corte Madera Town Council to investigate creating a temporary "people's park" at the northeast corner of Harbor and Paradise Drives, acting president David I. Freed said today.

There are no parks in east Corte Madera, Freed said, and the association would like to see if the town and the owner of the vacant land would permit a temporary park. "We would like to put in some benches and some shrubs," said Freed. Freed did not know the owner's name, he said.

The association, which met Tuesday night after being inactive since Christmas of 1964, also agreed to investigate the following:

An assessment district for undergrounding utilities, pedestrian walkways on San Clemente Drive, fast traffic on Paradise Drive and a proposed sewer insepction on Echo Drive.

Freed was named acting president at the meeting;

Ingerman, acting secretary and Henry Dobson, treasurer. Directors elected were Robert J. Morgenlaender, John D. Conkle, Patrick Dowling, Norma Axton, Kay Orton, Werner Rudiger, Ingerman and Freed.

onstrators would help bring about improvements in U.S.-Latin American relations.

There "seems to be general agreement" between the United States and Russia and some other countries that a final plan for settling the Middle East crisis "has to be a package —a total agreement." Rogers did not explain this except to say that a step-by-step process is no longer considered feasible.

purpose. This represented a significant victory for rapid transit backers over freeway supporters who have long fought using gas and vehicle taxes for subways.

Also dropped from the report was a Zettel recommendation that a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge "be accepted as a development guide for highways." The commission shelved that proposal in the face of strong opposition from both the San Francisco and Marin boards of supervisors.

Even the broad range of new freeways and subways proposed by the commission would not completely meet transportation needs, the report noted. Without specifying them, but presumably referring to the "southern (population) tilt" toward counties of San Mateo and Santa Clara, the report predicted "critical overloads" in some cases even if the new systems are built.

Maps submitted with the report showed the proposed freeway along the Shoreline Highway route continuing from the east edge of Tomales Bay overland to Sebastopol where spurs would be built to connect with Highway 101 at Santa Rosa and Rohnert Park.

One freeway on the peninsula would run along the edge of the bay from San Francisco to San Jose with some of it going offshore. Eklund conceded that proposal would be among the most controversial.

The subway system envisions a rail network from Napa to San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties with a loop around the southern tip of the bay to connect the peninsula and East Bay systems.

Residents Oppose More Commercial In San Marin

The San Marin Improvement Association board has voted unamiously to oppose any new commercial area outside of that which is zoned commercial in the master plan for San Marin, according to publicity chairman Ronald Q. Lewton.

The board took the action Tuesday night because of an application for a zone change from residential to commercial by Kenneth Niles for a 7-11 market north of the Shall service station at San Andreas Drive and San Marin Drive.

The association also asked Merle L. Sebald of G'Tec Cable TV to see if a temporary community antenna could be erected in the Parkwood Estates area while the Federal Communications Commission is deciding on the cable restrictions in Novato.

Richard Kuhn, special projects chairman, announced that the San Marin High School gymnasium would be open from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. today for adults in San Marin for volleyball and other sports.

Smith Refuses To Delay Marijuana Case Hearing

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court yesterday refused to postpone a preliminary hearing for a man accused of marijuana possession so that his attorney might have nore time to prepare defense on constitutional grounds.

Attorney Richard Cohen of San Francisco said that he intends to question the law against marijuana on the grounds it denies religious freedom and needed nore time as he had just come into the case.

Judge Smith said the motion had not been "presented in a timely fashion" as the preliminary hearing was already set for tomorrow and ordered it to proceed as scheduled.

Cohen's client is Jeffery Neil Stallard, a 28-year-old transient who got himself jailed on April 1 by dumping a marijuana cigarette out of his boot onto the floor of the sheriff's department.

He had asked to be jailed and was refused until he revealed the handmade cigarette, according to deputies.

In a recent letter ot Marin Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, Cohen said that he intends to continue to test the legality of laws against marijuana and that he himself "turns on with pot."

Final Paper Brings Cries Of Obscenity

The final edition of the Sonoma State College newspaper "Steppes — sprinkled with four letter words and pictures of nudes — has been labled "highly offensive" by the college president and many student readers.

President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. said today that he had received numerous complaints from within and without the college concerning the May 28 issue.

The issue included a photograph of student body president Terry Brennan and two unidentified co-eds in the nude. A short editorial by Michael Funke commented: "It's nice to see the student body president's student body."

Nichols said that Funke had resigned his editorship two weeks ago, after lengthy meetings with the student-faculty publication board. The student appointed to edit the final edition was later injured in an automobile accident and was unable to fulfill the task.

In Funke's final editorial he explained the circumstances of his resignation by saying, "another hassle: - - - - it. I resign. Far out.

Nichols, acknowledging his total responsibility for the college, said he tries to operate through placing great responsibility on students and the student government.

"While not advocating censorship, we feel it is inappropriate for the student newspaper to be so offensive and are of the opinion that we will receive broad support toi nsure a more responsible paper in the future," he said. No disciplinary action against Funke is planned.

Funke was not available for comment today, but had defended charges of obscentiy in the past by saying there are some things more obscene than words and pictures. He listed poverty and the war in Vietnam as topping the obscene list.

The student body, gradually becoming accustomed to the increasingly obscene publication, still registered shock this week. "Our paper makes the Berkeley Barb look like the Christian Science Monitor," a student said.

$800 In Stereo Parts Looted

More than $800 worth of stereo equipment was stolen from an apartment at 845 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, Tuesday night — so boldly a witness didn't realize it was a burglary.

San Rafael police said William Fred Sliger of 845 Las Gallinas Avenue reported yesterday a tape deck, stereo receiver, tapes, earphones and speakers were taken from the room. A lock was pried to gain entrance.

While police were investigating, a neighbor told officers he had seen two men carrying the items to a vehicle but they were so bold he was not suspicious.

Restaurant Plans Gain In Sausalito

Plans for a new restaurant in Sausalito got half-way home last night despite continuing protest from another restaurant owner.

The Sausalito Planning Commission unanimously approved parking and landscaping plans for the restaurant, proposed by Edgewater Yacht Sales, Inc., in the present yacht sales building at Bridgeway and Turney Street.

The commission also recommended the city council approve an encroachment permit so Edgewater can build a public walk in the street right-of-way on Turney and Humboldt streets. Humboldt is an underwater street bayward of the building.

Attorney Richard V. Bettini, representing Sam Zakessian of Zack's restaurant, repeated objections he made Tuesday before the city council — that Edgewater had proceeded illegally with remodeling the building before parking and landscaping plans were approved — and asked that the building permits be revoked and work halted.

The council ordered remodeling to stop until the commission approved the parking and landscaping plans, and until a bond was posted for completion of bay fill for a 19-car parking lot.

The commission postponed to July 2 two other major hearings — a use permit request by Joseph Duffell for planned unit development on the American Distillery property north of the city, and a use permit application by Loyal Davis to build a 19-unit apartment in Marina Vista subdivision.

The Sausalito Planning Commission also:

REBUILDING — Approved a variance and use permit to allow reconstruction of two dwelling units at 63 Central Avenue where a four-unit apartment was damaged by Fire. Applicant Robert Engman had asked permission to build three units.

GAS STATION — Approved a variance to allow Mobil Oil Co. to rebuild a service station at Second and Main streets with a reduced rear setback and a free-standing sign more than five feet from the building.

LOT SPLIT — Approved a lot split sought by Guy Duryee for property in Marinship.

SUBDIVISION — Approved a request by Fred DeCook to split a parcel on Glen Drive into seven lots of 6,950 to 6,010 square feet each.

Clothes Stolen

Women's clothes valued at $188 were reported taken from the Rag Doll at 532 Fourth Street, San Rafael, while the store was closed, sometime after May 25, police said today. Owner Constance Lynn Phillips of 721 Las Colindas Avenue reported entrance was gained by prying a lock.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Four Obdurate Men Circumvent The Voters

Four members of the California Assembly this week subverted the democratic process to prevent the 76 other Assembly members from voting on a bill that had already passed the Senate.

The four are Earle P. Crandall, R-San Jose, a former school superintendent; James W. Dent, R-Concord, a school administrator; John F. Dunlap, R-Vallejo, an attorney and former school trustee, and Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley, a rancher and former school trustee.

By their votes, they killed in committee Senate Bill 35, by John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, and a long list of co-sponsors including John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael. This bill easily passed the Senate early in the current session and had been bottled up since then in the Assembly Education Committee's subcommittee on school finance.

The obdurate four—Crandall, Dent, Dunlap and Veysey — are members of that subcommittee (Veysey being also chairman of the education committee).

SCHMITZ'S BILL would repeal a section of the Unruh Education Act of 1967 which, as Schmitz described it, "was snuck in" at the last minute. That section takes away the voters' right to pass on increases in school district tax ceilings as of July 1, 1971.

Schmitz put the same bill in last year. It passed the Senate then, too, but was kept bottled up in the Assembly Education Committee.

This year, the committee had kept it since Febraury, and finally held a subcommittee hearing on it this week. At conclusion of the hearing, the subcommittee voted 4-3 not to send the bill to the floor.

THE LINEUP against letting the bill go to the floor for a vote is revealing. Appearing against it were lobbyists for the California Association of School Administrators and the California School Boards Association — although many school board members are extremely worried over the additional pressures to which they will be subjected if ceilings are removed from school tax rates.

Appearing against it also was a spokesman for the state Department of Education, who said he spoke for State Supt. Max Rafferty.

The California Teachers Association did not put in an appearance. It did not need to. It had done its work in advance. The very makeup of the subcommittee testifies to the CTA's efficiency. Besides Dent and Crandall, it includes a third school administrator, William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights — but he bolted to vote with John L. E. Collier, R-South Pasadena, and Kenneth Cory, D-Anaheim, both businessmen, to report the bill out.

THE COMMITTEE system is necessary to achieve anything remotely resembling efficiency in conduct of the legislature. Committees have useful functions. They can winnow out frivolous bills, combine bills which largely duplicate each other, amend bills to improve their clarity or remove contradictory or objectionable provisions, etc.

It is no proper part of a committee's function, however, to prevent one house of the legislature from voting on a bill that has already been passed by the other house.

Doubtless the reason that Crandall, Dent, Dunlap and Veysey killed SB 35 was that they were afraid — with ample cause — that it would pass if it reached the floor.

They voted "nyet." So voters who elected 76 other assemblymen are denied a chance for their representatives to act on this important measure because of Crandall, Dent, Dunlap and Veysey.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Duffy Would Cut Red Tape To Enhance Food Stamp Plan

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — At least one assemblyman recognizes that bureaucratic administration is costing the taxpayers a lot more than it should, and he proposes legislation which would correct a small part of it.

This is Gordon Duffy, R-Hanford, chairman of the Assembly's committee on health and welfare. Because of his position, his proposal for getting the most out of the federal food program may stand a chance of getting farther than first base.

"THIS PLAN," he says, "vastly simplifies administrative procedures now being used to distribute food stamps. County administrative costs alone are as much as seven per cent of the value of bonus stamps going to program participants."

The plan is embodied in AB 2169, called the "Child and Family Nutrition Act of 1969." It calls for direct distribution of food stamps to families found to have a nutritional deficit in their incomes.

"Essentially," he says, "the deficit would be the difference between the amount of a family's income they can afford to spend on food, and the cost of food recommended for such a family in the U. S. Departmeht of Agriculture low-cost food plan.

"By eliminating the present cumbersome requirement for purchases, and simply mailing stamps in the amount of the family's nutritional deficit, county administrative costs can be reduced as much as 75 per cent.

"THE SECOND part of my plan," he says, "provides the counties with an opportunity to re-invest a small portion of these administrative savings to earn state matching funds for feeding hungry school children.

"Each county dollar invested in the proposed school nutrition fund would return approximately $3 to the county for assisting local school districts in nutrition programs for needy children. These funds would enable many poorer districts to put up the money needed to earn federal matching funds under the National School Lunch Act. . . .

"Why should our counties be forced, by rigid federal regulations, to spend $1 or $3 a month getting a $6 stamp bonus to a family that is needy, when the same thing can be done for the price of a 6-cent postage stamp?

THE ASSEMBLYMAN says he wants to see some of the savings go into nutritous meals for the potential dropout who isn't concentrating on his school work because he's hungry.

"I also expect the Nixon administration to respond enthusiastically," Duffy said. "This plan, although it goes somewhat beyond what Washington is considering, reflects a great deal of the president's own thinking on the subject of hunger. With proper federal cooperation, California will be able to demonstrate a program on which to base a sound national philosophy."

CYNIC'S CORNER BY INTERLANDI

"He wants to know why we're against the ABM system, and aren't we the ones who were also against back yard shelters!"

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

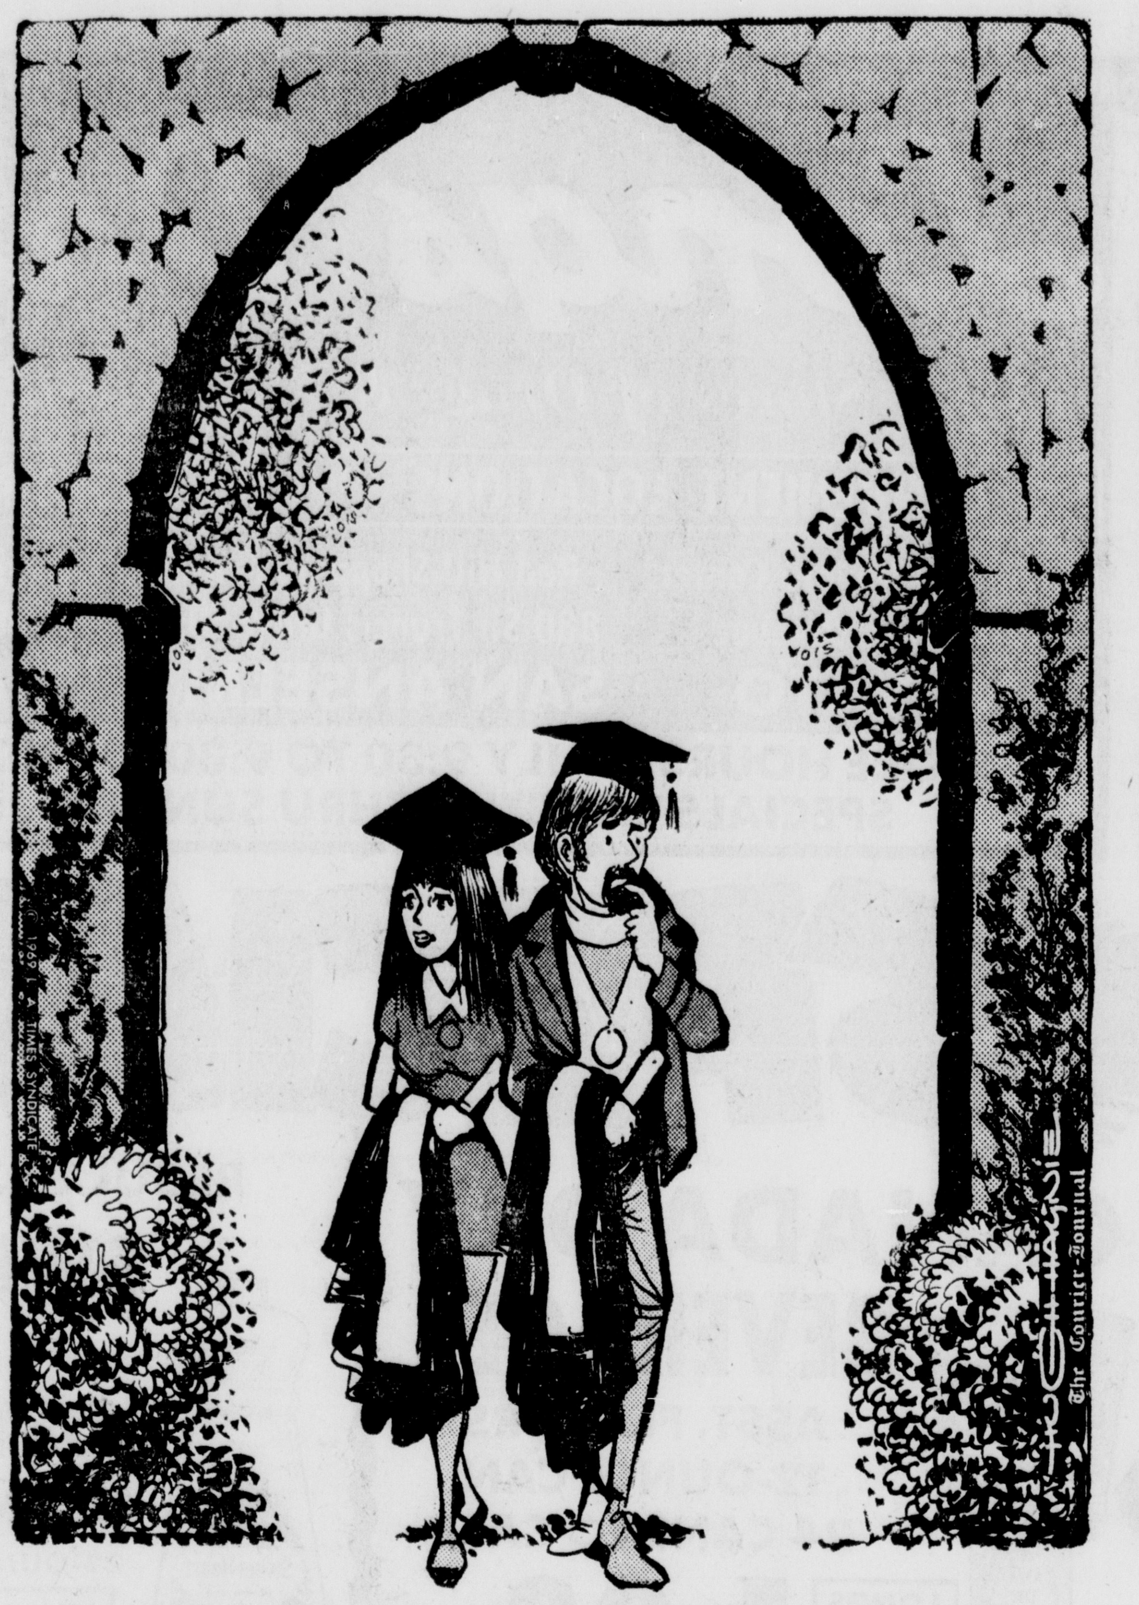
The reform of education will come about not through any easy gimmickry or by abandoning the traditional liberal arts or rejecting the past as irrelevant. It will come about by concentrating on the human task of teaching, and this is no easy task. —Mortimer Smith.

Old families last not three oaks. — Thomas Browne.

To tax and to please, no more than to love and to be wise, is not given to men. — Edmund Burke.



"It really IS a cold, cruel world we're entering — why, out there they actually arrest you for burning, looting and destroying property!"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Not All Drug Use Is Drug Abuse

Regarding "Drugs: Unreal Debates and Too Real Tragedy" and reporter's (Hatfield) column on same: I would like to agree that too much has been said by "faultfinders and apologists . . . talking about something that is not quite real to them." Legal officials and school administrators, by and large, either know nothing about the realities of drug use and abuse, or those who do know still spread myths and lies. This causes a cynical, at best, reaction by the young drug users . . .

May I suggest that our entire culture is a "drug scene." Watch TV for an hour and count the number of times someone "turns on" with a "pick-me-up"; someone relaxes with a tranquilizing agent; or someone goes to sleep with yet another drug. Alcohol, the number one abused drug in our country, and nicotine, the second most abused drug, are proven dangerous drugs which have been researched and demonstrated to lead to serious illness and death. Yet we see them advertised constantly. Who gets 30 years in prison for smoking "tobacco"?

It is tragic to see the results of drug abuse. But all drug use is not drug abuse and we need to become a bit more rational in our facing this extremely emotional subject. When someone can receive a 30-year prison term for mere possession of marijuana, and another who has shot and killed a kid can get off with no more than five years there is something basically wrong with our legal system. We the people can change it. Are you willing to help?

NORMAN E. LEACH
San Anselmo

(Editor's note: The maximum sentence for marijuana possession under California law is 10 years. The maximum sentence for killing a person is death in the lethal gas chamber.)

Robert Kennedy's Words Remembered

A year ago, at the end of a most grueling day, Robert Kennedy still found words for those of us waiting to hear him. In a moment I found him staring at me, a look of curiosity on his face. (I thought perhaps he was wondering what I was doing in a "ghetto" neighborhood.) But his eyes were so full with grief and sorrow, I turned away, shaken.

When I later read that the responsiveness of the people helped to make him feel better, I was sorry. But as I committed myself to campaign for him, there would be a next time. Next time I wolud smile. Next time I would shake his hand. There was no next time. And as I think about the world today, I can't help but wonder how different it might be, were Robert Kennedy alive. Above all else, he was a man who truly cared, and meant what he said.

To all those who feel the worth of their cause justifies violence, stop for a moment, listen again to the pleas of Robert Kennedy.

"What we need in the United States . . . is love and wisdom and compassion toward one another, and a feeling of justice toward those who still suffer within our own country, whether they be white or they be black.

"Let us dedicate ourselves to what the Greeks wrote so many years ago: to tame the savageness of man and make gentle the life of the world. Let us dedicate ourselves to that, and say a prayer for our country and for our peole."

I believe we could have a better America if we replaced the philosophy, "Do your own thing," and instead, shared a responsibility to "make gentle the life of the world."

'Defend America' Letters Urged

Congress now has before it a very critical consideration — and I have written Congressmen Mailliard and Clausen and Senator Murphy, urging their support of the Nixon "Safeguard" ABM defense system.

I was impressed with this sense of urgency by the propaganda barrage which I witnessed on our courthouse lawn recently, demanding that our nation be disarmed. The misguided "sob-sisters" and "peaceniks" who paraded in front of the courthouse—perhaps many of them unwittingly—were obeying a direct command of "orders" from the Daily World (March 18 issue) to "demand on Congres that ABM be abandoned."

It behooves us to flood Congress with demands for a strong and superior nuclear weapons system — not with the attitude of aggression, but to defend America from Soviet attack. Americans — wake up — and stand up for America!

Situation Compared To Nazi Germany

I cannot comprehend how we can go about our "daily lives" choosing not to see what is happening in our country (reminds me of Nazi Germany — "What gas ovens?"). The brutalizing of hundreds of our citizens in concentration camps, poison gas being sprayed from helicopters, National Guard's bayonets stabbing innocent people, etc., is almost incredible.

So long as government is not responsive to the needs of the people, the revolution will grow. The middle class citizen is forced to choose between official violence and reactive violence.

Every person is responsible! To choose to do nothing is to approve of a government that mocks the tradition of American liberty. # University Is Testing Ground In Black Power Struggle

BOSTON — "I have not yet struck out of my will the bequest for Harvard, but this is to serve notice on you that I am reserving judgment until I see the outcome of some of the issues before you."

In the hundreds of letters flooding in on Harvard's president Nathan Pusey from alumni indignant over the recent turmoil, the above paragraph is almost a stock beginning. For alumni across the county, Harvard is a religion, and their devout offerings have built up the Harvard endowment to more than a billion dollars. The faithful today see their revered institution threatened by heretical change and they mean to stop the money supply unless the heresy is expunged.

One thing they object to strenuously is a decision reflecting the black-white confrontation that is a sign of the times not only in most universities but at every level of American life. Responding to the demands of Harvard's black students, about 600 in an enrollment of 15,000 when the specialized schools are included, the administration gave black representatives a voice on a committee selecting faculty for a black studies program. While the selections can be overruled by a higher body, this means in the end passing the buck to Pusey, who has enough troubles without that one.

FOR MANY alumni and, for that matter, many faculty members, the concession, even though it is to run for only two years, seems a dangerous precedent threatening the independence of the teaching staff. But those who took the decision in the tension immediately following the April upheaval were faced with a fact and not a theory, and they believe Harvard is strong enough to come through without any serious damage.

Whether that is true of other institutions of learning, far less wealthy and for more vulnerable to attack, is questionable. Emerson College here in Boston is a case in point. A small college specializing in speech and the arts, Emerson, like numerous independents around the country, relies almost entirely on tuition and fees for operating costs. In a black crisis last month serious damage was narrowly averted.

OUT OF EMERSON'S 1,200 enrollment, 29 are blacks. Half of them formed Eboni, an Emerson black organization. They presented 10 "proposals" which later became demands to president Chapin. The demands included a black recruiter for admissions, a course in black history and culture to be required of all students, "soul food" to be served in the dining room twice a month, the birthdays of Malcolm X and Martin Luther King Jr. to be school holidays. Chapin, a former assistant dean of the Harvard Business School, granted in modified form some of the demands, including two blacks and two whites with an equal voice on the admissions policy committee.

On May 9, Eboni members with 10 non-students, three of whom were identified as Black Panthers, went to Chapin's office to get a final answer to all their demands. Their way was barred by whites supporting the president. At a critical moment someone sounded the Black Panther cry, and eerie invocation to trouble. Only quick thinking by Chapin, admitting the blacks, quieting the whites and leaving his office to the occupiers, prevented what would almost certainly have been serious violence and destruction. With the great majority of the school supporting the president, the crisis subsided, although with no assurance that it will not be precipitated in the fall.

TACTICS SUCH as those applied at Emerson are alienating not only white students who start out, as a recent Gallup Poll showed, with a deep sense of the injustices in American society, but they are having a damaging effect on the civil rights movement. The moderates among the blacks, the preponderant majority, are paying the penalty. In the universities they are being told by the militants, "You'd better be with us or else."

The university is a testng ground. The confrontation on the campus is a forecast of what is likely to happen in the outside world.

British Hopes Revived For Common Market Role

By JOSEPH GRIGG

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's stalled bid for European Common Market membership has received two powerful boosts in less than a month.

Yet British officials warn that this country may still have a long wait ahead before it finally joins France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg in the economic club.

THE FIRST apparent breakthrough was the defeat and resignation of former French President Charles de Gaulle at the end of April. De Gaulle twice vetoed Britain's bid since it was made in 1963.

The second was a strong plug for Britain this week by West Germany's finance minister, Franz Josef Strauss, who called for immediate resumption of negotiations between Britain and "The Six."

British hopes were further boosted by the fact that Gaullist candidate and former Premier Georges Pompidou has indicated he might ease the De Gaulle veto if he wins the French presidency.

BUT BRITISH officials, after having had their fingers burned by the De Gaulle vetos in 1963 and 1967, now are playing it cool.

Having been snubbed humiliatingly in the past, Britain is unlikely to resume banging on the Common Market door in the near future unless she is invited to.

British officials see no prospect of new moves, in any case, until after the French presidential elections in June and West German parliamentary elections in September.

One reason for this caution is a feeling that, despite encouraging noises from the continent, it is far from certain that all the Common Market members really want Britain in right now.

FRANCE, with problems of its own, would be in no real hurry to expand the market.

Regardless of Strauss' statement, many British officials are not convinced that West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger is all that enthusiastic about bringing Britain in.

The only thing this country can do, British officials say, is to play it by ear and grab the first serious opportunity for getting negotiations started without risk of a new, and probably fatal rebuff.

Four Obdurate Men Circumvent The Voters

Four members of the California Assembly this week subverted the democratic process to prevent the 76 other Assembly members from voting on a bill that had already passed the Senate.

The four are Earle P. Crandall, R-San Jose, a former school superintendent; James W. Dent, R-Concord, a school administrator; John F. Dunlap, R-Vallejo, an attorney and former school trustee, and Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley, a rancher and former school trustee.

By their votes, they killed in committee Senate Bill 35, by John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, and a long list of co-sponsors including John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael. This bill easily passed the Senate early in the current session and had been bottled up since then in the Assembly Education Committee's subcommittee on school finance.

The obdurate four—Crandall, Dent, Dunlap and Veysey — are members of that subcommittee (Veysey being also chairman of the education committee).

SCHMITZ'S BILL would repeal a section of the Unruh Education Act of 1967 which, as Schmitz described it, "was snuck in" at the last minute. That section takes away the voters' right to pass on increases in school district tax ceilings as of July 1, 1971.

Schmitz put the same bill in last year. It passed the Senate then, too, but was kept bottled up in the Assembly Education Committee.

This year, the committee had kept it since Febraury, and finally held a subcommittee hearing on it this week. At conclusion of the hearing, the subcommittee voted 4-3 not to send the bill to the floor.

THE LINEUP against letting the bill go to the floor for a vote is revealing. Appearing against it were lobbyists for the California Association of School Administrators and the California School Boards Association — although many school board members are extremely worried over the additional pressures to which they will be subjected if ceilings are removed from school tax rates.

Appearing against it also was a spokesman for the state Department of Education, who said he spoke for State Supt. Max Rafferty.

The California Teachers Association did not put in an appearance. It did not need to. It had done its work in advance. The very makeup of the subcommittee testifies to the CTA's efficiency. Besides Dent and Crandall, it includes a third school administrator, William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights — but he bolted to vote with John L. E. Collier, R-South Pasadena, and Kenneth Cory, D-Anaheim, both businessmen, to report the bill out.

THE COMMITTEE system is necessary to achieve anything remotely resembling efficiency in conduct of the legislature. Committees have useful functions. They can winnow out frivolous bills, combine bills which largely duplicate each other, amend bills to improve their clarity or remove contradictory or objectionable provisions, etc.

It is no proper part of a committee's function, however, to prevent one house of the legislature from voting on a bill that has already been passed by the other house.

Doubtless the reason that Crandall, Dent, Dunlap and Veysey killed SB 35 was that they were afraid — with ample cause — that it would pass if it reached the floor.

They voted "nyet." So voters who elected 76 other assemblymen are denied a chance for their representatives to act on this important measure because of Crandall, Dent, Dunlap and Veysey.

Duffy Would Cut Red Tape To Enhance Food Stamp Plan

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — At least one assemblyman recognizes that bureaucratic administration is costing the taxpayers a lot more than it should, and he proposes legislation which would correct a small part of it.

This is Gordon Duffy, R-Hanford, chairman of the Assembly's committee on health and welfare. Because of his position, his proposal for getting the most out of the federal food program may stand a chance of getting farther than first base.

"THIS PLAN," he says, "vastly simplifies administrative procedures now being used to distribute food stamps. County administrative costs alone are as much as seven per cent of the value of bonus stamps going to program participants."

The plan is embodied in AB 2169, called the "Child and Family Nutrition Act of 1969." It calls for direct distribution of food stamps to families found to have a nutritional deficit in their incomes.

"Essentially," he says, "the deficit would be the difference between the amount of a family's income they can afford to spend on food, and the cost of food recommended for such a family in the U. S. Department of Agriculture low-cost food plan.

"By eliminating the present cumbersome requirement for purchases, and simply mailing stamps in the amount of the family's nutritional deficit, county administrative costs can be reduced as much as 75 per cent.

"THE SECOND part of my plan," he says, "provides the counties with an opportunity to re-invest a small portion of these administrative savings to earn state matching funds for feeding hungry school children.

"Each county dollar invested in the proposed school nutrition fund would return approximately $3 to the county for assisting local school districts in nutrition programs for needy children. These funds would enable many poorer districts to put up the money needed to earn federal matching funds under the National School Lunch Act. . . .

"Why should our counties be forced, by rigid federal regulations, to spend $1 or $3 a month getting a $6 stamp bonus to a family that is needy, when the same thing can be done for the price of a 6-cent postage stamp?

THE ASSEMBLYMAN says he wants to see some of the savings go into nutritous meals for the potential dropout who isn't concentrating on his school work because he's hungry.

"I also expect the Nixon administration to respond enthusiastically," Duffy said. "This plan, although it goes somewhat beyond what Washington is considering, reflects a great deal of the president's own thinking on the subject of hunger. With proper federal cooperation, California will be able to demonstrate a program on which to base a sound national philosophy."

Not All Drug Use Is Drug Abuse

Regarding "Drugs: Unreal Debates and Too Real Tragedy" and reporter's (Hatfield) column on same: I would like to agree that too much has been said by "faultfinders and apologists . . . talking about something that is not quite real to them." Legal officials and school administrators, by and large, either know nothing about the realities of drug use and abuse, or those who do know still spread myths and lies. This causes a cynical, at best, reaction by the young drug users . . .

May I suggest that our entire culture is a "drug scene." Watch TV for an hour and count the number of times someone "turns on" with a "pick-me-up"; someone relaxes with a tranquilizing agent; or someone goes to sleep with yet another drug. Alcohol, the number one abused drug in our country, and nicotine, the second most abused drug, are proven dangerous drugs which have been researched and demonstrated to lead to serious illness and death. Yet we see them advertised constantly. Who gets 30 years in prison for smoking "tobacco"?

It is tragic to see the results of drug abuse. But all drug use is not drug abuse and we need to become a bit more rational in our facing this extremely emotional subject. When someone can receive a 30-year prison term for mere possession of marijuana, and another who has shot and killed a kid can get off with no more than five years there is something basically wrong with our legal system. We the people can change it. Are you willing to help?

Robert Kennedy's Words Remembered

A year ago, at the end of a most grueling day, Robert Kennedy still found words for those of us waiting to hear him. In a moment I found him staring at me, a look of curiosity on his face. (I thought perhaps he was wondering what I was doing in a "ghetto" neighborhood.) But his eyes were so full with grief and sorrow, I turned away, shaken.

When I later read that the responsiveness of the people helped to make him feel better, I was sorry. But as I committed myself to campaign for him, there would be a next time. Next time I wolud smile. Next time I would shake his hand. There was no next time. And as I think about the world today, I can't help but wonder how different it might be, were Robert Kennedy alive. Above all else, he was a man who truly cared, and meant what he said.

To all those who feel the worth of their cause justifies violence, stop for a moment, listen again to the pleas of Robert Kennedy.

"What we need in the United States . . . is love and wisdom and compassion toward one another, and a feeling of justice toward those who still suffer within our own country, whether they be white or they be black.

"Let us dedicate ourselves to what the Greeks wrote so many years ago: to tame the savageness of man and make gentle the life of the world. Let us dedicate ourselves to that, and say a prayer for our country and for our peole."

I believe we could have a better America if we replaced the philosophy, "Do your own thing," and instead, shared a responsibility to "make gentle the life of the world."

There's Still Man In Larkspur Who Cooks On Wood Stove

The other day we met a man who never runs out of stories.

He is William Frizzi. He lives on the side of the mountain in Larkspur and you get to his house by going down a steep path past some pigeon houses.

Bill Frizzi is America. He was a licensed radio operator aboard the steamer Willamette, an electrician at the Rose Bowl, a contractor, and he was drafted at 45. He knew the Barbary Coast and, economically, he's been up and down, having pulled himself up after the depression.

Frizzi fishes, he hunts, he plants strawberries and rhubarb. He keeps bees. He has invented an electric fly catcher. He tries to trap raccoons so they won't eat his garden. Often they outwit him.

SINGLE, FRIZZI does his own cooking over a wood stove and he believes he is probably the only person in Larkspur to cook with wood.

His father, Gus, died in the same house Frizzi lives in about 90 minutes before the 1906 earthquake. "When my old-man went through the gate," says the lively septagenarian, "he shook the hell out of things. He was shaking so that the nurse said, 'Gus's coming back'."

Frizzi was with the Larkspur Volunteer Firemen 25 years.

We asked him why he has holes in the tops of his shoes and the bee man replied, "To keep my feet healthy. I punched holes in them."

He does look very healthy with reddish cheeks, a wild tuft of hair sticking almost straight up and, apparently wiry, he seems to leap about the mountainside from terrace to terrace.

BORN IN 1897 in downtown Larkspur, Frizzi calls himslef "the oldest native born in Larkspur."

His fahter was Swiss-Italian from Canton Tessino and had a bar in Larkspur called "Gus Frizzi's Exchange" when beer sold at five cents a glass. His mother ran a store, "Frizzi's Bakery, Ice Cream and Candies."

Asked about the times today, Frizzi commented, "We've gone a long way since Marconi."

"What about the moon?" we asked. The outdoorsman replied, "It's not for man. No oxygen. How the hell is a man going to live?"

He explained that if he didn't hunt and fish he might be in the cemetery now.

We walked by the fly trap and asked if it works. "Damn right it works," said our host.

We walked down the steep slope past the bee hives and Frizzi cautioned: "Look out for the eyes is the main thing."

FRIZZI SAID the original fighter Joe Walcott used to train in Larkspur and ran between Larkspur and Billy Shannon's in San Rafael.

Grapes grow up and down along the path on a trellis in the tightly planted garden. "There isn't a man who comes here who doesn't say: 'You've got every inch used,' " said Frizzi.

The twinkly eyed man gave us a bottle of honey and honey vinegar, then pointed out a large crock outside in which the vinegar — made with honey, water and yeast—was bubbling.

Then he took us up to the barn. "My mother milked a cow in this shed," he said. "I'll bet I'm the only man in Larkspur who can show you the barn where his mother milked a cow."

Also a scull builder, the lively man says he has built about 30 which are used for duck hunting. When he leaped up to get some old pictures, he chuckled and said, "I could write a book."

"YOU SHOULDN'T have come here," he admonished as if it's usually hard to pull stories out of people but with him they just flow.

We told him that we live by the story and to talk on. He did.

The hunter said he used to hunt black sea brant but that they are not plentiful any more. On questioning what a brant is, Frizzi hopped off into another room and brought back an article and a book on the birds.

Frizzie said he last worked regularly for Rex Electric in San Anselmo. "I was a damned good motor man," he said casually. What's that? we asked. "I rewound motors — armatures," he replied.

We walked up the steep path to the gate, past the pigeons, past the barn where Mrs. Frizzi had milked the cow, our bottles in one arm and behind — a new story friend on the mountain.

Bay District Gaining In Smog Battle

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Pollution from all sources in the Bay Area during 1968 decreased by 265 tons per day from 1967, despite another big increase in auto pollution, the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District board was told yesterday.

The district's staff reported that while total pollution decreased by 2.7 per cent, pollutants emitted by automobiles and other internal combustion vehicles increased by 143 tons daily, or 2.2 per cent.

Vehicle pollution is the responsibility of the State Air Resources Board while pollutants from other sources; such as factories; commercial districts and dumps, are the responsibility of the regional pollution control district.

The report showed contaminants under its control were reduced during 1968 by 408 tons per day, down 13 per cent from 1967.

Overall; the district estimated that 9,473 tons of pollutants per day were belched into the skies each day in 1968, 71 per cent from vehicles and 29 per cent from other sources.

In 1967, the daily average was estimated at 9,738 tons per day.

District information director Edward W. McHugh said another staff report to the directors told them that if current air quality standards being considered by the state are adopted, the district may have to impose stricter regulations to bring its pollutant sources into conformance with the state standards.

In other action, the board adopted a $1.8 million budget for 1969-70, up from $1.45 million this fiscal year. Most of the increase —$225,000 —was to provide improvements on the district's building at 939 Ellis Street so offices of the San Francisco Redevelopment Agency can move in this fall.

Another $57,000 will pay for a new air monitoring station at Livermore and the rest of the increase will pay for a general 5 per cent salary increase and the addition of five new employees.

State Lobbyist Gets New Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's legislative advocate in Washington, D.C., will be appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan as his chief assistant for intergovernmental relations, administration sources said today.

Edgar M. Gillenwaters, who has held the lobbyist post the past two and one-half years, will succeed Ronald B. Frankum, who is expected to join the staff of Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke.

Gillenwaters will be replaced July 1 by James E. Jenkins, lobbyist for the city of San Diego.

In the new job, Gillenwaters will be the governor's liaison man with city and county governments and coordinate state relations with Congress and federal government agencies in California.

Need Money For Recreation? Just Produce An Over-Run

WASHINGTON — The District of Columbia almost had a crisis on Memorial Day weekend. The recreation department of the city decided not to open the 15 municipal swimming pools because the department did not have the funds. Mayor Walter Washington, who was informed of the decision by newspaper reporters, angrily ordered the pools opened and said he'd get the money somewhere.

Since Congress is in charge of the city's budget, the mayor could find himself in trouble. The reason is that Mayor Washington will probably appeal to Congress for funds for recreation facilities on the grounds that he needs the money to cool off the summer and give the kids in the district something to do to keep them out of trouble.

MY FRIEND DOYLE believes this type of appeal is a waste of time.

"Congress can't get excited about such arguments," he said. "They've got much bigger fish to fry."

"But what's the solution?"

"The solution to Washington's recreational budget problems can be found in the Defense Department."

"I don't understand."

"Congress is constantly telling the city it has to live within its budget. If it doles out X amount of dollars, then the district shouldn't come back and ask for Y."

"THAT MAKES fiscal sense," I said.

"It does," said Doyle, "in every department but defense. What is the most popular word in the military-industrial complex?"

"Overrun?"

"Exactly. Whenever a defense contractor finds that it's going to cost him more money to make something than he originally thought it would be charges it to overrun. This is something Congress understands. No one is this country expects a defense contractor to stay within the price he originally bid to win the contract."

"Of course not," I said.

"OK," DOYLE said. "Congress is getting use to overruns. One hundred million dollars here, $500 million there, a billon dollars someplace else. It is all part of the game."

"But what has that got to do with Mayor Washington?"

"Instead of the mayor going up to the Hill and pleading on his hands and knees for extra money to see him through the long, hot summer, he should go up there and proudly announce he's had an overrun on the recreation program of $10 million and apologize to Congress that it wasn't more."

"WOULD CONGRESS go for it?"

"Of course, if the mayor explained it. He could say the overrun was caused by inflation, spare parts for recreation centers, labor problems and mistakes made in his department in estimating the recreational needs of the district."

"He'd be speaking their language," I admitted.

"The mayor would continue by warning that Moscow now has more playgrounds than Washington, and the playground gap might become insurmountable by 1975."

"WHY, IT'S the old Soviet gap trick," I said.

"Right! When Congress hears that Moscow is building more playgrounds, it will not only demand parity but superiority in the stockpiling of playgrounds. The mayor will not only get his money, but they'll insist he take more than he needs."

"It could work," I said.

"Of course it could work," Doyle said. "But it all depends on the mayor's attitude. If he's humble, Congress will have no respect for him. But if, after he gets his funds, he warns them that he can't guarantee there won't be another overrun before the summer is over, they'll carry him out of the hearing room on their shoulders."

There's Still Man In Larkspur Who Cooks On Wood Stove

The other day we met a man who never runs out of stories.

He is William Frizzi. He lives on the side of the mountain in Larkspur and you get to his house by going down a steep path past some pigeon houses.

Bill Frizzi is America. He was a licensed radio operator aboard the steamer Willamette, an electrician at the Rose Bowl, a contractor, and he was drafted at 45. He knew the Barbary Coast and, economically, he's been up and down, having pulled himself up after the depression.

Frizzi fishes, he hunts, he plants strawberries and rhubarb. He keeps bees. He has invented an electric fly catcher. He tries to trap raccoons so they won't eat his garden. Often they outwit him.

SINGLE, FRIZZI does his own cooking over a wood stove and he believes he is probably the only person in Larkspur to cook with wood.

His father, Gus, died in the same house Frizzi lives in about 90 minutes before the 1906 earthquake. "When my old-man went through the gate," says the lively septagenarian, "he shook the hell out of things. He was shaking so that the nurse said, 'Gus's coming back'."

Frizzi was with the Larkspur Volunteer Firemen 25 years.

We asked him why he has holes in the tops of his shoes and the bee man replied, "To keep my feet healthy. I punched holes in them."

He does look very healthy with reddish cheeks, a wild tuft of hair sticking almost straight up and, apparently wiry, he seems to leap about the mountainside from terrace to terrace.

BORN IN 1897 in downtown Larkspur, Frizzi calls himslef "the oldest native born in Larkspur."

His fahter was Swiss-Italian from Canton Tessino and had a bar in Larkspur called "Gus Frizzi's Exchange" when beer sold at five cents a glass. His mother ran a store, "Frizzi's Bakery, Ice Cream and Candies."

Asked about the times today, Frizzi commented, "We've gone a long way since Marconi."

"What about the moon?" we asked. The outdoorsman replied, "It's not for man. No oxygen. How the hell is a man going to live?"

He explained that if he didn't hunt and fish he might be in the cemetery now.

We walked by the fly trap and asked if it works. "Damn right it works," said our host.

We walked down the steep slope past the bee hives and Frizzi cautioned: "Look out for the eyes is the main thing."

FRIZZI SAID the original fighter Joe Walcott used to train in Larkspur and ran between Larkspur and Billy Shannon's in San Rafael.

Grapes grow up and down along the path on a trellis in the tightly planted garden. "There isn't a man who comes here who doesn't say: 'You've got every inch used,' " said Frizzi.

The twinkly eyed man gave us a bottle of honey and honey vinegar, then pointed out a large crock outside in which the vinegar — made with honey, water and yeast—was bubbling.

Then he took us up to the barn. "My mother milked a cow in this shed," he said. "I'll bet I'm the only man in Larkspur who can show you the barn where his mother milked a cow."

Also a scull builder, the lively man says he has built about 30 which are used for duck hunting. When he leaped up to get some old pictures, he chuckled and said, "I could write a book."

"YOU SHOULDN'T have come here," he admonished as if it's usually hard to pull stories out of people but with him they just flow.

We told him that we live by the story and to talk on. He did.

The hunter said he used to hunt black sea brant but that they are not plentiful any more. On questioning what a brant is, Frizzi hopped off into another room and brought back an article and a book on the birds.

Frizzie said he last worked regularly for Rex Electric in San Anselmo. "I was a damned good motor man," he said casually. What's that? we asked. "I rewound motors — armatures," he replied.

We walked up the steep path to the gate, past the pigeons, past the barn where Mrs. Frizzi had milked the cow, our bottles in one arm and behind — a new story friend on the mountain.

Bay District Gaining In Smog Battle

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Pollution from all sources in the Bay Area during 1968 decreased by 265 tons per day from 1967, despite another big increase in auto pollution, the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District board was told yesterday.

The district's staff reported that while total pollution decreased by 2.7 per cent, pollutants emitted by automobiles and other internal combustion vehicles increased by 143 tons daily, or 2.2 per cent.

Vehicle pollution is the responsibility of the State Air Resources Board while pollutants from other sources; such as factories; commercial districts and dumps, are the responsibility of the regional pollution control district.

The report showed contaminants under its control were reduced during 1968 by 408 tons per day, down 13 per cent from 1967.

Overall; the district estimated that 9,473 tons of pollutants per day were belched into the skies each day in 1968, 71 per cent from vehicles and 29 per cent from other sources.

In 1967, the daily average was estimated at 9,738 tons per day.

District information director Edward W. McHugh said another staff report to the directors told them that if current air quality standards being considered by the state are adopted, the district may have to impose stricter regulations to bring its pollutant sources into conformance with the state standards.

In other action, the board adopted a $1.8 million budget for 1969-70, up from $1.45 million this fiscal year. Most of the increase —$225,000 —was to provide improvements on the district's building at 939 Ellis Street so offices of the San Francisco Redevelopment Agency can move in this fall.

Another $57,000 will pay for a new air monitoring station at Livermore and the rest of the increase will pay for a general 5 per cent salary increase and the addition of five new employees.

State Lobbyist Gets New Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's legislative advocate in Washington, D.C., will be appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan as his chief assistant for intergovernmental relations, administration sources said today.

Edgar M. Gillenwaters, who has held the lobbyist post the past two and one-half years, will succeed Ronald B. Frankum, who is expected to join the staff of Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke.

Gillenwaters will be replaced July 1 by James E. Jenkins, lobbyist for the city of San Diego.

In the new job, Gillenwaters will be the governor's liaison man with city and county governments and coordinate state relations with Congress and federal government agencies in California.

Substituting Flag Pledge With Quotations Touches Off A Roar

By JOANNE GRANT

A proposal to replace the flag salute with a patriotic quotation touched off a scathing indictment of some schools, administrators and students yesterday at a meeting of the San Rafael Lions Club.

Lions, lunching at the San Rafael Elks' clubhouse, also voiced strident disapproval of the idea itself.

The proposal, currently under discussion at Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo, was outlined by Dean of Students Thomas E. McEntee and student Richmond Young.

McEntee explained the state education code requires a "daily patriotic exercise" in the schools but leaves the form to local authorities.

Until last year, Drake's governing body, the Tamalpais High School District board, had required daily recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance. Last year, the Tam board authorized choosing between the flag salute and a patriotic statement, with the final decision in the hands of principals.

"This year some students felt the Pledge of Allegiance left a little to be desired," McEntee said. Working through channels, including an opinion from the county counsel's office, students agreed they would like to try daily patriotic statements. (The practice has not yet begun.)

Young, a prime initiator of the move to change, explained that through constant repetition, the pledge had become meaningless to many students.

He pointed out that being required to say "I pledge of allegiance" every day makes it seem like allegiance is an impermanent thing.

Some students object to the line "with liberty and justice for all" because they doubt that's exactly true of the nation.

Another reason students wanted to change was that having to say the flag salute makes it seem "that somehow our educational system has failed." History, government and other classes should instill loyalty and devotion to the country, he explained.

Patriotic quotations would make people think, the high school junior maintained. The intent of the education code is to foster greater understanding, greater devotion, he said. "Repitition of the flag salute does not lead to greater understanding."

McEntee read from a list of possible patriotic statements by men generally considered impeccable — William Pen, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and John F. Kennedy.

For example, a statement from Thomas Paine, "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must, like men, undergo the fatigue of supporting it," and Kennedy's, "And so my fellow Americans, ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country," were cited by McEntee.

Several Lions asked for clarification of specific points in the presentation and many more were critical.

"What are you kids doing to make it (the country) better?" asked Robert J. Brusatori, voicing an angry recommendation to think of the boys fighting in Vietnam — as he questioned Young's loyalty.

"Might it not be wise to consider the adult community who pay the bills?" queried Clifford S. Lund. "We disagree with this permisiveness," he said castigating school administration and young people, who he said, "do not have enough experience to decide what's right or wrong."

McEntee pointed out that people don't even come to Parent-Teacher Association meetings to discuss matters of concern.

"Was the individual who sponsored this connected with any left wing organization?" asked Jack E. Bucknum indignantly.

"No I wasn't," Young replied.

Another Lion told Young he had noticed the youth omitted the phrase "under God" when he recited the pledge yesterday.

Noting he does believe in God, Young answered, "I think it's kind or arrogant to assume naturally that God has given his blessing to the United States."

McEntee pointed out if the idea is put in perspective "it's not trying to do away with something, it's trying to look at things from a different standpoint."

Veteran Loans Hurt By Bonds

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A huge backlog of more than 3,000 applications for California veterans farm and home loans has resulted from the state's inability to sell bonds, a legislative committee learned yesterday.

Frank Nicol, newly appointed director of veterans affairs, said his department is financing only 250 loans a month, compared with the usual 1,250 loans.

He told the Senate Rules Committee he is giving top priority to alternative methods of financing veterans loans, possibly issuance of revenue bonds.

Petaluma Annexation Approved By County

The Sonoma County Local Agency Formation Commission yesterday approved the annexation of 49 acres on Ely Road to the City of Petaluma.

The land, known as the Bazanno annexation, is adjacent to La Tercera School and will eventually become a subdivision. The are also includes a proposed three-acre park site on the city general plan.

Substituting Flag Pledge With Quotations Touches Off A Roar

By JOANNE GRANT

A proposal to replace the flag salute with a patriotic quotation touched off a scathing indictment of some schools, administrators and students yesterday at a meeting of the San Rafael Lions Club.

Lions, lunching at the San Rafael Elks' clubhouse, also voiced strident disapproval of the idea itself.

The proposal, currently under discussion at Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo, was outlined by Dean of Students Thomas E. McEntee and student Richmond Young.

McEntee explained the state education code requires a "daily patriotic exercise" in the schools but leaves the form to local authorities.

Until last year, Drake's governing body, the Tamalpais High School District board, had required daily recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance. Last year, the Tam board authorized choosing between the flag salute and a patriotic statement, with the final decision in the hands of principals.

"This year some students felt the Pledge of Allegiance left a little to be desired," McEntee said. Working through channels, including an opinion from the county counsel's office, students agreed they would like to try daily patriotic statements. (The practice has not yet begun.)

Young, a prime initiator of the move to change, explained that through constant repetition, the pledge had become meaningless to many students.

He pointed out that being required to say "I pledge of allegiance" every day makes it seem like allegiance is an impermanent thing.

Some students object to the line "with liberty and justice for all" because they doubt that's exactly true of the nation.

Another reason students wanted to change was that having to say the flag salute makes it seem "that somehow our educational system has failed." History, government and other classes should instill loyalty and devotion to the country, he explained.

Patriotic quotations would make people think, the high school junior maintained. The intent of the education code is to foster greater understanding, greater devotion, he said. "Repitition of the flag salute does not lead to greater understanding."

McEntee read from a list of possible patriotic statements by men generally considered impeccable — William Pen, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and John F. Kennedy.

For example, a statement from Thomas Paine, "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must, like men, undergo the fatigue of supporting it," and Kennedy's, "And so my fellow Americans, ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country," were cited by McEntee.

Several Lions asked for clarification of specific points in the presentation and many more were critical.

"What are you kids doing to make it (the country) better?" asked Robert J. Brusatori, voicing an angry recommendation to think of the boys fighting in Vietnam — as he questioned Young's loyalty.

"Might it not be wise to consider the adult community who pay the bills?" queried Clifford S. Lund. "We disagree with this permisiveness," he said castigating school administration and young people, who he said, "do not have enough experience to decide what's right or wrong."

McEntee pointed out that people don't even come to Parent-Teacher Association meetings to discuss matters of concern.

"Was the individual who sponsored this connected with any left wing organization?" asked Jack E. Bucknum indignantly.

"No I wasn't," Young replied.

Another Lion told Young he had noticed the youth omitted the phrase "under God" when he recited the pledge yesterday.

Noting he does believe in God, Young answered, "I think it's kind or arrogant to assume naturally that God has given his blessing to the United States."

McEntee pointed out if the idea is put in perspective "it's not trying to do away with something, it's trying to look at things from a different standpoint."

Veteran Loans Hurt By Bonds

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A huge backlog of more than 3,000 applications for California veterans farm and home loans has resulted from the state's inability to sell bonds, a legislative committee learned yesterday.

Frank Nicol, newly appointed director of veterans affairs, said his department is financing only 250 loans a month, compared with the usual 1,250 loans.

He told the Senate Rules Committee he is giving top priority to alternative methods of financing veterans loans, possibly issuance of revenue bonds.

Petaluma Annexation Approved By County

The Sonoma County Local Agency Formation Commission yesterday approved the annexation of 49 acres on Ely Road to the City of Petaluma.

The land, known as the Bazanno annexation, is adjacent to La Tercera School and will eventually become a subdivision. The are also includes a proposed three-acre park site on the city general plan.

Mass Hearings Set In U.C. Park Feud

BERKELEY (UPI) — It was a confused scene in the Berkeley Veterans Memorial Building yesterday when more than 400 persons jailed in a mass arrest of alleged People's Park demonstrators had their day in court.

Berkeley Municipal Judge Mario Barsotti divided the defendants into three large groups which will appear separately next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to have a date set for their jury trials.

About one-third entered pleas of innocent and others withheld their pleas until their next appearance. nobody pleaded guilty.

Among the defendants are Richard W. Beban, 21, and James Kimo Campbell, 22, students at the College of Marin who were working for the Berkeley radio station KPFA when they were arrested.

Neither entered pleas yesterday and were scheduled to return Tuesday.

Both gave copies of letters from Lincoln Bergman, news director of KPFA, attesting that the two were working and that he had forgotten to get them a daily press pass, to the district attorney's office in an effort to have charges against them dropped.

Several major motions were made on behalf of the defendants.

The first asked that charges against six defendants be dismissed on grounds that their rights were violated during the mass arrest and during their confinement at the Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center. Some 200 defendants later joined in the motion.

Another motion asked that about 75 defendants be tried independently of the groups in which they had been placed.

Meanwhile, University of California authorities launched a barrage of serious disciplinary charges at Daniel Siegel, who is slated to be next year's student body president at Berkeley.

The six specific charges and other unspecified ones were to be reviewed today by the Committee in Student Conduct, composed of five faculty members and four students.

Most of the accusations sprang from a May 15 speech by Siegel at Sproul Hall in which he told a rally: "Let's go down and take over the park."

Siegel also faces arraignment on June 24 on a criminal charge of inciting a riot.

Her husband, Thomas, and mother, Mrs. Virginia W. Morse, filed suit against S.P., Southern Pacific Pipelines, Alec Robertson-Bakersfield Construction Co. and ARB Inc.

They charged S.P. "carelessly and negligently caused, permitted and allowed certain construction work to take place in dangerous proximity" to the railroad tracks.

Novato Cuts $410,870 Police Fund By $2,105

In its second budget session, the Novato City Council last night cut $2,105 from the police department budget, lowering it from the $410,870 recommended by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown to $408,765 for fiscal 1969-70.

It is still $52,445 more than the $356,320 budget for the current year.

The council deleted $600 for a three-wheel patrolster, $1,735 for a parking enforcement vehicle and first aid kit, and $200 for the police reserve uniforms. The police no longer have a reserve, Brown said. the council added $430 for radio expenses.

The council left unchanged Brown's recommended budget of $127,330 for the engineering department, $6,450 more than the current $120,880.

The maintenance budget for public works also was left unchanged from the manager's recommendation of $109,630, which was $7,460 less than the current $117,090.

Councilman Babe Silva questioned having a superintendent, foreman, and leadman in an 11-man maintenance crew. The council left this question to be answered at a later budget meeting with Public Works Director Clifford E. Temps.

The only other budget approved by the council was the $31,045 traffic stafety budget, up $3,960 from the current $27,085.

The council will resume budget deliberations at 8 p.m. today.

Less Starch Used

OSLO (UPI)—The average Norwegian will eat 10 per cent less potatoes in 1980 and his consumption of bread and cereals will decrease between 12 and 13 per cent, according to a prognosis by the Norwegian agriculture ministry. On the other hand, consumption of meat, fruit, vegetables and eggs will increase, the forecast said.

Final Science Probe Launched

VANDENBERG AFB (UPI)—The sixth and last in a line of OGO scientific spacecraft was launched into polar orbit today from this coastal base.

The OGO was launched at 7:43 a.m. PDT atop a Thor-Agena D rocket.

The craft carried 25 scientific experiments designed to investigate the environment around the sun.

The sixth OGO had the same boxlike design of its predecessors, the first of which was orbited in 1964.

THE REV. AND Mrs. Samuel L. Banks Jr. of Marin City have served as a foster home for children in Marin County for three years. They relax with their own children, Javette, two years old, picking the piece she wants to snap into her game, and four-year-old Samuel III on his father's lap.

HOMES FOR HOMELESS

Family Opens Its Home To Children

Third in a series describing the goals of an inter-agency committee searching for substitute homes for Marin men, women and children in need of a warm and understanding atmosphere.

By JOAN LISETOR

A crash on the freeway — the occupants of the car, a husband and wife, are injured. In the back seat of the car are two small children.

Mother and father require hospitalization, but what happens to the two small children who have no relatives in the immediate area?

If the accident had occured in Marin County they would have been placed in a receiving home until relatives could have been contacted or the parents had recovered.

THERE ARE three types of substitute homes for children in Marin County, and the Samuel L. Banks Jr. family of Marin City has served as a foster home in each category.

"We heard there was a need and thought we might be able to help," says Bobbie Banks, whose foster mother career began in 1966.

For one year the Bankses opened their home to children who were separated from their natural parents and in need of a home for a variety of reasons such as illness, unemployment, imprisonment or mental instability of the parents.

"When it was time for our license to be renewed the social worker told us of the need for a receiving home, and again we thought we might be able to help," Mrs. Banks explains.

DURING THE time the Bankses home was one of Marin County's three receiving homes they were on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Their home was continuously available to children of all ages who otherwise would have no one to care for them in an emergency.

The Marin County Probation Office and the police departments know when relatives, neighbors or friends are not available they can call on one of these families at any hour, and the child who is stranded will receive a warm and reassuring reception.

"It is a very demanding role to be available to children at all hours, but receiving homes perform an important service for Marin's stranded children," says Helen Williams, supervising social worker for the Marin County Department of Public Social Services and a member of the Out-Of-Home Placement Committee. "It is because of these families that we do not have to rely on the big detention shelters found in urban areas where large numbers of children of all ages are housed."

Children stay in receiving homes usually for just a few days to keep space available to accommodate the next emergency. If his parents or relatives are not able to care for him for some time, he must be placed in a regular foster home.

"IT TAKES time to select the right foster home and to prepare him for this new experience," says Miss Williams. "Because of this we are attempting to develop the third type of substitute home — good neighbor emergency homes."

The Bankses are now serving as a good neighbor home, the only one in Southern Marin. Reverend and Mrs. Banks have two children: Samuel III, four years old, and Javette, two years old.

"The children are used to having other children in the house and have developed no hostilities. To them having children come and go is the normal way of life," says Bobbie Banks.

Good neighbor homes are needed in every neighborhood of Marin County. If children could remain in their own neighborhoods and could continue in their own schools, the social workers could have the time needed to get to know them and could select foster parents according to their needs.

IN THIS case the child would have an opportunity to become acquainted with his foster parents before moving into the home, and while he is becoming acquainted he could remain in a neighborhood familiar to him and continue in the same school so he does not have to undergo the additional shock of being suddenly placed in totally unfamiliar surroundings.

"The impact of this crisis," explains Miss Williams, "can be reduced by maintaining what ties we can to the things with which he is familiar and by having enough time to prepare him for placement in a foster home."

Substitute homes of all types are needed in Marin, but the Department of Public Social Services is concentrating its efforts currently on a search for families who are willing, on occasion, to open their door to a homeless child for a relatively short period of time.

Explains Helen Williams, "Unlike the receiving home, a good neighbor home need not be on call day and night continuously. Such a family need not have an extra bedroom, only an available bed or two and the capacity and warmth to understand and respond to a distressed child."

NEXT WEEK: A home for former mental patients.

REVEREND BANKS and son Samuel practice a golf swing in front of their house. The Banks family is being used by the County of Marin as a good neighbor emergency home for distressed children in need of temporary homes with families who have the capacity and warmth to understand and respond to their needs.

Travel Plans Delay Parties

By MOLLY MARIN

Summer social activities for the Marin Ball debutantes will begin later than usual this year, as many of the girls are planning travels and other summer activities away from Marin.

The girls will gather at an instructional meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Fred Scatena Jr. in Kentfield on Tuesday morning. Mrs. Scatena is chairman for the Dec. 20 ball.

The only early summer party scheduled so far is a tea to be given by Mrs. Dewey Donnell for her daughter Sandra at the Francisca Club on June 18. Sandra is a Marin Ball debutante and is bowing also at the San Francisco Debutante Ball on June 21.

Other party dates for Marin debs are set for the latter part of August and early September. The Peter Behrs of Mill Valley will host a dinner Dec. 19, after the rehearsal for the Debutante Ball, to honor their deb daughter, Trudi. The setting will be the Ft. Mason Officers Club in San Francisco. The ball will be held the following evening at the St. Francis Hotel, the second year that the ball will be held there.

IT'S A BIG week for Air Force Academy Cadet John W. Martin Jr. of Montgomery, Ala. Yesterday he, as wing cadet commander at the Colorado Springs Academy, was chosen to present a saber to President Richard M. Nixon following the President's speech to the graduating class of cadets at the academy. And tonight he will arrive in Marin to be married Saturday at Hamilton Air Force Base to Karen Traverso, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Normand Traverso. The coupe met when Karen was a deb at the Hamilton Air Force Base Debutante Ball and John was selected to be her escort for the formal evening.

LINDA TRIEBER of Belvedere and Bonnie Cooke of Kentfield will spend six weeks traveling in Europe this summer under the auspices of the Foreign Study League. The girls, both juniors at Redwood High School, will be staying at colleges in England, France, the Netherlands, Germany and Italy, where they will study comparative government and culture. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trieber of Belvedere. Bonnie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Barry Cooke of Kentfield.

The Triebers and their younger children, Lisa and Ricky will vacation in Mexico, visiting Mexico City and Acapulco.

SEVERAL MARIN residents have just returned from a three week tour of eight countries in Europe with a group from the Bay Area accompanied by television and radio personality Joe Dolan. Marinites making the trip were the Elmer Hembergers and Mrs. Agnes Johnston of Belvedere, Mrs. Myra Falch of Corte Madera and the Russ Lauterwassers and Melvin Collinses of San Rafael. The group stopped over in London, Paris and Rome.

MR. AND MRS. Douglas Schef of Mill Valley report a highlight of a vacation in the south was a visit to Rosedown Plantation and Gardens in St. Francisville, La. This is a restored plantation empire in the Felicianas, the region made famous by the artist-naturalist John James Audubon, who painted more than 30 of his famous birdlife studies there a century ago.

Other Marinites who were recent visitors to the plantation were Dr. and Mrs. K. G. Walkmeister of San Rafael.

Deborah Forrest Wed To Richard Albert Dondero

St. Rita's Church in Fairfax was the setting for the Sunday nuptials of Deborah Lynn Forrest and Richard Albert Dondero, both of San Anselmo.

Mrs. Peter Rivera of San Anselmo was matron of honor, and Mrs. Randy Wahlstrom and Nancy Jose of San Anselmo, Debbie Macdonald of Woodacre and Mrs. Bill Ghiradelli of Sebastopol were the bridesmaids.

Peter Rivara served as best man for the bridegroom, and the ushers were Bill Ghiradelli, Allan Colvillo of San Anselmo and Evans Sulme of San Francisco.

A reception followed at the Elks Club in San Rafael. The couple will live in San Anselmo, where their house is under construction.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Forrest of San Anselmo and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Al Dondero, also of San Anselmo. A graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, she attended the College of Marin. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Consentino of San Francisco and Mrs. Marion Forrest of Redwood City.

Richard also was graduated from Drake High School and is employed with San Anselmo Garbage Disposal.

Disappearing Wrinkles Launched Thriving Business 40 Years Ago

TRENTON, N. J. (UPI)— More than 40 years ago face lifts were virtually unknown. It was a time of trolley cars, ice boxes, silent movies. Beauty treatments were in the embryonic stage.

But the theory of tightening excess skin to eliminate the tell-tale creases on the face made good sense to Alice Taylor.

She hit upon a specialized adhesive- back cloth which, purely from a sense of whimsy, she cut into the shape of wings.

The best time to stick it on, she figured, was at night. Facial muscles are relaxed during sleep and can be manipulated more easily. As a working woman, proprietor of Trenton's first ready-to-wear dress shop, she also knew it was most convenient to apply the wrinkle fighting wings at night.

Thus began a nightly regime of cleansing, massaging and tightening. Soon, and almost as much to her surprise as her friends', the hateful wrinkles disappeared. And equally surprising she found herself the entrepreneur of a thriving—if non-paying business: producing hundreds of her patented "wings" for friends with similar problems.

Aided by her good friend, Trenton's famous woman banker Mary Roebling, she launched what was to become a thriving business. One request followed another and "Hollywood Wings" were born—the Hollywood added in recognition of the many demands pouring in from filmdom where a wrinkle could mean unemployment.

Today the business, marking its 40th anniversary, is carried on by the inventor's daughter, Betty Taylor Kerney, also of Trenton.

"I suppose you could say it's just another 'better mousetrap' story," Mrs. Kerney says. "Our advertising budget is small. It's mostly a case of one woman telling another."

A "wings" scrapbook of letters reads like a "Who's Who of Beautiful Women," but they're not for publication.

"We've become a very public kind of society," Mrs. Kerney said. "But a lady's wrinkles still are just between her and her Maker."

Regarding beauty advice, Mrs. Kerney will only quote her mother in saying—"Start early."

"Don't wait to see that first wrinkle. Replenish the natural oils daily with a good rich cream, massage the face and neck methodically and religiously, apply a frisky astringent to spur circulation and, of course, use Wings in the danger zones."

The danger zones: between brows, on the forehead and around the mouth.

This is a cool-you-off.

We have cool-you-offs too. Not to drink. To wear. We have dresses that bare themselves like bathing suits. We have shirts and skirts and shorts and such made out of sheer little fabrics like voiles and lawns and eyelets and such. We have breezy culottes and things with halter tops and swingy skirts and see-through shirts and short pants and shorter pants. Plus all kinds of things with all kinds of cut-outs. Not to mention the fact that all of it is just waiting for you to try on in sweet air-conditioned comfort. Like to play it cool this summer? Then run right in and collect a bunch of cool-you-offs. Now. At our place. They're better than iced cold lemonade.

HOMES FOR HOMELESS

Family Opens Its Home To Children

Third in a series describing the goals of an inter-agency committee searching for substitute homes for Marin men, women and children in need of a warm and understanding atmosphere.

By JOAN LISETOR

A crash on the freeway — the occupants of the car, a husband and wife, are injured. In the back seat of the car are two small children.

Mother and father require hospitalization, but what happens to the two small children who have no relatives in the immediate area?

If the accident had occured in Marin County they would have been placed in a receiving home until relatives could have been contacted or the parents had recovered.

THERE ARE three types of substitute homes for children in Marin County, and the Samuel L. Banks Jr. family of Marin City has served as a foster home in each category.

"We heard there was a need and thought we might be able to help," says Bobbie Banks, whose foster mother career began in 1966.

For one year the Bankses opened their home to children who were separated from their natural parents and in need of a home for a variety of reasons such as illness, unemployment, imprisonment or mental instability of the parents.

"When it was time for our license to be renewed the social worker told us of the need for a receiving home, and again we thought we might be able to help," Mrs. Banks explains.

DURING THE time the Bankses home was one of Marin County's three receiving homes they were on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Their home was continuously available to children of all ages who otherwise would have no one to care for them in an emergency.

The Marin County Probation Office and the police departments know when relatives, neighbors or friends are not available they can call on one of these families at any hour, and the child who is stranded will receive a warm and reassuring reception.

"It is a very demanding role to be available to children at all hours, but receiving homes perform an important service for Marin's stranded children," says Helen Williams, supervising social worker for the Marin County Department of Public Social Services and a member of the Out-Of-Home Placement Committee. "It is because of these families that we do not have to rely on the big detention shelters found in urban areas where large numbers of children of all ages are housed."

Children stay in receiving homes usually for just a few days to keep space available to accommodate the next emergency. If his parents or relatives are not able to care for him for some time, he must be placed in a regular foster home.

"IT TAKES time to select the right foster home and to prepare him for this new experience," says Miss Williams. "Because of this we are attempting to develop the third type of substitute home — good neighbor emergency homes."

The Bankses are now serving as a good neighbor home, the only one in Southern Marin. Reverend and Mrs. Banks have two children: Samuel III, four years old, and Javette, two years old.

"The children are used to having other children in the house and have developed no hostilities. To them having children come and go is the normal way of life," says Bobbie Banks.

Good neighbor homes are needed in every neighborhood of Marin County. If children could remain in their own neighborhoods and could continue in their own schools, the social workers could have the time needed to get to know them and could select foster parents according to their needs.

IN THIS case the child would have an opportunity to become acquainted with his foster parents before moving into the home, and while he is becoming acquainted he could remain in a neighborhood familiar to him and continue in the same school so he does not have to undergo the additional shock of being suddenly placed in totally unfamiliar surroundings.

REVEREND BANKS and son Samuel practice a golf swing in front of their house. The Banks family is being used by the County of Marin as a good neighbor emergency home for distressed children in need of temporary homes with families who have the capacity and warmth to understand and respond to their needs.

"The impact of this crisis," explains Miss Williams, "can be reduced by maintaining what ties we can to the things with which he is familiar and by having enough time to prepare him for placement in a foster home."

Substitute homes of all types are needed in Marin, but the Department of Public Social Services is concentrating its efforts currently on a search for families who are willing, on occasion, to open their door to a homeless child for a relatively short period of time.

Explains Helen Williams, "Unlike the receiving home, a good neighbor home need not be on call day and night continuously. Such a family need not have an extra bedroom, only an available bed or two and the capacity and warmth to understand and respond to a distressed child."

NEXT WEEK: A home for former mental patients.

Travel Plans Delay Parties

By MOLLY MARIN

Summer social activities for the Marin Ball debutantes will begin later than usual this year, as many of the girls are planning travels and other summer activities away from Marin.

The girls will gather at an instructional meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Fred Scatena Jr. in Kentfield on Tuesday morning. Mrs. Scatena is chairman for the Dec. 20 ball.

The only early summer party scheduled so far is a tea to be given by Mrs. Dewey Donnell for her daughter Sandra at the Francisca Club on June 18. Sandra is a Marin Ball debutante and is bowing also at the San Francisco Debutante Ball on June 21.

Other party dates for Marin debs are set for the latter part of August and early September. The Peter Behrs of Mill Valley will host a dinner Dec. 19, after the rehearsal for the Debutante Ball, to honor their deb daughter, Trudi. The setting will be the Ft. Mason Officers Club in San Francisco. The ball will be held the following evening at the St. Francis Hotel, the second year that the ball will be held there.

IT'S A BIG week for Air Force Academy Cadet John W. Martin Jr. of Montgomery, Ala. Yesterday he, as wing cadet commander at the Colorado Springs Academy, was chosen to present a saber to President Richard M. Nixon following the President's speech to the graduating class of cadets at the academy. And tonight he will arrive in Marin to be married Saturday at Hamilton Air Force Base to Karen Traverso, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Normand Traverso. The coupe met when Karen was a deb at the Hamilton Air Force Base Debutante Ball and John was selected to be her escort for the formal evening.

LINDA TRIEBER of Belvedere and Bonnie Cooke of Kentfield will spend six weeks traveling in Europe this summer under the auspices of the Foreign Study League. The girls, both juniors at Redwood High School, will be staying at colleges in England, France, the Netherlands, Germany and Italy, where they will study comparative government and culture. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trieber of Belvedere. Bonnie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Barry Cooke of Kentfield.

The Triebers and their younger children, Lisa and Ricky will vacation in Mexico, visiting Mexico City and Acapulco.

SEVERAL MARIN residents have just returned from a three week tour of eight countries in Europe with a group from the Bay Area accompanied by television and radio personality Joe Dolan. Marinites making the trip were the Elmer Hembergers and Mrs. Agnes Johnston of Belvedere, Mrs. Myra Falch of Corte Madera and the Russ Lauterwassers and Melvin Collinses of San Rafael. The group stopped over in London, Paris and Rome.

MR. AND MRS. Douglas Schef of Mill Valley report a highlight of a vacation in the south was a visit to Rosedown Plantation and Gardens in St. Francisville, La. This is a restored plantation empire in the Felicianas, the region made famous by the artist-naturalist John James Audubon, who painted more than 30 of his famous birdlife studies there a century ago.

Other Marinites who were recent visitors to the plantation were Dr. and Mrs. K. G. Walkmeister of San Rafael.

Peter Rivara served as best man for the bridegroom, and the ushers were Bill Ghiradelli, Allan Colvillo of San Anselmo and Evans Sulme of San Francisco.

A reception followed at the Elks Club in San Rafael. The couple will live in San Anselmo, where their house is under construction.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Forrest of San Anselmo and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Al Dondero, also of San Anselmo. ## Disappearing Wrinkles Launched Thriving Business 40 Years Ago

TRENTON, N. J. (UPI)— More than 40 years ago face lifts were virtually unknown. It was a time of trolley cars, ice boxes, silent movies. Beauty treatments were in the embryonic stage.

But the theory of tightening excess skin to eliminate the tell-tale creases on the face made good sense to Alice Taylor.

She hit upon a specialized adhesive-back cloth which, purely from a sense of whimsy, she cut into the shape of wings.

The best time to stick it on, she figured, was at night. Facial muscles are relaxed during sleep and can be manipulated more easily. As a working woman, proprietor of Trenton's first ready-to-wear dress shop, she also knew it was most convenient to apply the wrinkle fighting wings at night.

Thus began a nightly regime of cleansing, massaging and tightening. Soon, and almost as much to her surprise as her friends', the hateful wrinkles disappeared. And equally surprising she found herself the entrepreneur of a thriving—if non-paying business: producing hundreds of her patented "wings" for friends with similar problems.

Aided by her good friend, Trenton's famous woman banker Mary Roebling, she launched what was to become a thriving business. One request followed another and "Hollywood Wings" were born—the Hollywood added in recognition of the many demands pouring in from filmdom where a wrinkle could mean unemployment.

Today the business, marking its 40th anniversary, is carried on by the inventor's daughter, Betty Taylor Kerney, also of Trenton.

"I suppose you could say it's just another 'better mousetrap' story," Mrs. Kerney says. "Our advertising budget is small. It's mostly a case of one woman telling another."

A "wings" scrapbook of letters reads like a "Who's Who of Beautiful Women," but they're not for publication.

"We've become a very public kind of society," Mrs. Kerney said. "But a lady's wrinkles still are just between her and her Maker."

Regarding beauty advice, Mrs. Kerney will only quote her mother in saying—"Start early."

"Don't wait to see that first wrinkle. Replenish the natural oils daily with a good rich cream, massage the face and neck methodically and religiously, apply a frisky astringent to spur circulation and, of course, use Wings in the danger zones."

The danger zones: between brows, on the forehead and around the mouth.

This is a cool-you-off.

We have cool-you-offs too. Not to drink. To wear. We have dresses that bare themselves like bathing suits. We have shirts and skirts and shorts and such made out of sheer little fabrics like voiles and lawns and eyelets and such. We have breezy culottes and things with halter tops and swingy skirts and see-through shirts and short pants and shorter pants. Plus all kinds of things with all kinds of cut-outs. Not to mention the fact that all of it is just waiting for you to try on in sweet air-conditioned comfort. Like to play it cool this summer? Then run right in and collect a bunch of cool-you-offs. Now. At our place. They're better than iced cold lemonade.

Airman Writes Girl Friend But Is Not Allowed A Date

DEAR HELEN:

I always thought advice columns were just a silly gag, but now I need advice, so I'm hoping yours isn't.

Two months before I went into the Air Force, I met a beautiful girl. She was 15 and I was 19, and her folks wouldn't let her date, much less an older guy.

So we met wherever we could. Her parents figured we'd forget each other, but instead we wrote every day while I was away — until her father dug out some of the letters she'd been saving, read them and got the wrong impression. They weren't bad, Helen, but a guy has to say it when he likes a girl.

Well, she was forbidden to write or receive letters, but got around that by using a friend's address. Now the friend is moving, and besides I may be coming home on leave soon, and I want to date my girl. I don't want to sneak any more.

How can I get accepted by her family? She is now over 16 and allowed to date, but I get the impression it won't be me, if her dad has anything to say about it. — STOPPED G. I.

DEAR G. I.:

Perhaps a sensible, thoughtful letter to your girl's parents might win you a good conduct pass. But don't start it, "I always thought parents were just a necessary evil . . ." Learn a little tact, Airman! — H.

PERSONAL TO "POET IN THE GRASS, ALAS!!" I think your pipe dreams have gone to pot. Your writing shows promise, but if you'd make a living as an author, remember this: Pothead poetry won't get you a can of beans — or even a lid. You'll never be in clover while you're on the grass, my friend. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Four of us are writing this letter. We live in a friendly neighborhood where a bunch of us 14- to 16-year-olds get together to play records under the supervision of a parent.

There is a boy of 17 who horns in and ruins everything. He gets on the good side of our folks by bringing food and gifts. Then, when the adults' backs are turned he tries to get smart. One time when my girl friend's mother went to the store, he turned out the lights. By the time we got them on again, my friend's blouse had been ripped. He persuaded her mother it was just an accident, but it isn't always an accident when he gets handy.

We don't want to make trouble, but he spoils the fun. We've hinted for him to leave (he's always the last one to go home), and even tried throwing him out but he made a joke of it. Can you tell us how to ged rid of an over-eager pest? — UNSUCCESSFUL PEST EXTERMINATORS.

DEAR UPE:

Give your parents the straight dope and let them hit the pest exterminator button. — H.

CHILD SAYS

'A Father Holds You Tight When You're Little, Afraid'

NEW YORK (UPI) — What is a father?

"A father is a man who picks you up and holds you tight when your (sic) little and afraid."

"A father is a person who most little boys fight over who has the strongest or the smartest."

"A FATHER knows when you're too old to be kissed."

These definitions of what dear old Dad means to his children are excerpts from a delightful little book out just in time for Father's Day June 15. Its authors are Lee Parr McGrath and Joan Scobey, it is illustrated by Lisl Weil, and the book is done in cooperation with schools in New York and Texas.

"What is a Father" Essandess division, Simon & Schuster will make you laugh, but also treasure the head of the household that, as the authors say, "those who may see him least — love him best — his children."

CHILDREN SEE fathers in assorted lights. To one, "a father is your next best friend." The child didn't say who is the best friend.

To another, "a father is someone to be respected. He sometimes takes the place of God."

A little girl wrote that "If we "Daddys (sic) were put on the earth for the purpose to take care of us kids. And some do and some don't."

A LITTLE GIRL wrote that "If we never hed (sic) a father we would have never been and that's something we should be grateful for."

One boy came to defense of the father who is asked to help around the house — "A father shouldn't be given all the household chores to do."

ONE LITTLE BOY was a bit doubtful of Dad's role. "You go to a father when you're in a spot," he said. "He gives you some advice and sometimes it can get you into trouble. A father is a help at everything but there's one thing you have to be careful of he's not always wright (sic)."

"A father is the man who sits at the head of the table," wrote another. "Sometimes he pulls teeth out. He is the best at putting worms on fish hooks, or taking off the fish. He is always bursting with advices."

One little girl said father "isn't the boss of our house because my mother is. But she lets him stay up to 10 o'clock p.m. just to see the news." Another child saw father as "ruler of the household and television set."

TO ONE little girl a father "for most children he is an idle (sic)." A little boy described Dad as "a person hoo (sic) coaches your baseball game when he's not the coach."

Another said a father was a man who "keeps saying when I was your age."

Pork And Beef Prices Up, Remain In Plentiful Supply

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that food shoppers will find good displays of meat and poultry and some choices in fresh fruits and vegetables in food stores and supermarkets this first weekend in June.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys continue to lead as the most abundant meats. Beef cuts in the abundant class are roasts and steaks. Pork items that should be in ample supply are ham and smoked picnics in most areas along with bacon, Boston butts, chops, roasts, and sausage in some areas.

The fish list, as submitted by the U.S. Department of the Interior, shows that fish sticks and portions, Maine sardines, and fish fillets are the fish buys to watch for in most areas.

FRESH VEGETABLES in best supply are cabbage, lettuce, onions, and potatoes. Bananas, grapefruit, oranges and strawberries continue as the most abundant fresh fruit.

USDA's official plentiful food list for June features milk and dairy products. Other plentifuls are canned and frozen sweet corn, canned tomatoes and tomato products, turkeys and rice.

IN THE WEST:

Both beef and pork prices are higher in all Western markets while eggs, butter, and poultry prices remain largely unchanged from last week.

Beef ribs are higher in San Francisco and Portland. Beef loins are lower in San Francisco and higher in Los Angeles and Portland. Other choice beef cuts are higher in all markets.

Fresh pork loins are higher in San Francisco and other markets. Boston butts are higher in San Francisco and other cuts are higher in all markets. Smoked hams are higher in Portland. Sliced bacon is higher in all markets and slab bacon is higher in Portland.

CHICKEN FRYERS are lower and young tom turkeys under 22 pounds are higher.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include: Apples, avocados, bananas, cherries, grapefruit, oranges, strawberries, cabbage, lettuce, onions and potatoes.

Great Snack

Spicy applesauce on waffles is good for breakfast or an after-school or late-night snack. Heat a 1 pound can of applesauce, ½ teaspoon of cinnamon and ⅛ teaspoon of nutmeg in a small saucepan. Makes enough for a 9 ounce package of frozen waffles or 6 servings.

Combed

Combed cottons have been "combed" of short fibers, leaving the longer lengths.

Pork And Beef Prices Up, Remain In Plentiful Supply

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that food shoppers will find good displays of meat and poultry and some choices in fresh fruits and vegetables in food stores and supermarkets this first weekend in June.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys continue to lead as the most abundant meats. Beef cuts in the abundant class are roasts and steaks. Pork items that should be in ample supply are ham and smoked picnics in most areas along with bacon, Boston butts, chops, roasts, and sausage in some areas.

The fish list, as submitted by the U.S. Department of the Interior, shows that fish sticks and portions, Maine sardines, and fish fillets are the fish buys to watch for in most areas.

FRESH VEGETABLES in best supply are cabbage, lettuce, onions, and potatoes. Bananas, grapefruit, oranges and strawberries continue as the most abundant fresh fruit.

USDA's official plentiful food list for June features milk and dairy products. Other plentifuls are canned and frozen sweet corn, canned tomatoes and tomato products, turkeys and rice.

IN THE WEST:

Both beef and pork prices are higher in all Western markets while eggs, butter, and poultry prices remain largely unchanged from last week.

Beef ribs are higher in San Francisco and Portland. Beef loins are lower in San Francisco and higher in Los Angeles and Portland. Other choice beef cuts are higher in all markets.

Fresh pork loins are higher in San Francisco and other markets. Boston butts are higher in San Francisco and other cuts are higher in all markets. Smoked hams are higher in Portland. Sliced bacon is higher in all markets and slab bacon is higher in Portland.

CHICKEN FRYERS are lower and young tom turkeys under 22 pounds are higher.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include: Apples, avocados, bananas, cherries, grapefruit, oranges, strawberries, cabbage, lettuce, onions and potatoes.

Great Snack

Spicy applesauce on waffles is good for breakfast or an after-school or late-night snack. Heat a 1 pound can of applesauce, ½ teaspoon of cinnamon and ⅛ teaspoon of nutmeg in a small saucepan. Makes enough for a 9 ounce package of frozen waffles or 6 servings.

Combed

Combed cottons have been "combed" of short fibers, leaving the longer lengths.

'A Father Holds You Tight When You're Little, Afraid'

NEW YORK (UPI) — What is a father?

"A father is a man who picks you up and holds you tight when your (sic) little and afraid."

"A father is a person who most little boys fight over who has the strongest or the smartest."

"A FATHER knows when you're too old to be kissed."

These definitions of what dear old Dad means to his children are excerpts from a delightful little book out just in time for Father's Day June 15. Its authors are Lee Parr McGrath and Joan Scobey, it is illustrated by Lisl Weil, and the book is done in cooperation with schools in New York and Texas.

"What is a Father" Essandess division, Simon & Schuster will make you laugh, but also treasure the head of the household that, as the authors say, "those who may see him least — love him best — his children."

CHILDREN SEE fathers in assorted lights. To one, "a father is your next best friend." The child didn't say who is the best friend.

To another, "a father is someone to be respected. He sometimes takes the place of God."

A little girl wrote that "If we "Daddys (sic) were put on the earth for the purpose to take care of us kids. And some do and some don't."

A LITTLE GIRL wrote that "If we never hed (sic) a father we would have never been and that's something we should be grateful for."

One boy came to defense of the father who is asked to help around the house — "A father shouldn't be given all the household chores to do."

ONE LITTLE BOY was a bit doubtful of Dad's role. "You go to a father when you're in a spot," he said. "He gives you some advice and sometimes it can get you into trouble. A father is a help at everything but there's one thing you have to be careful of he's not always wright (sic)."

"A father is the man who sits at the head of the table," wrote another. "Sometimes he pulls teeth out. He is the best at putting worms on fish hooks, or taking off the fish. He is always bursting with advices."

One little girl said father "isn't the boss of our house because my mother is. But she lets him stay up to 10 o'clock p.m. just to see the news." Another child saw father as "ruler of the household and television set."

TO ONE little girl a father "for most children he is an idle (sic)." A little boy described Dad as "a person hoo (sic) coaches your baseball game when he's not the coach."

Another said a father was a man who "keeps saying when I was your age."

Boy Scout Council Forms Codicil Club

The Boy Scouts of America's Marin council has organized a Codicil Club and set its goal at 250 codicils in wills, moneys from which will be used to advance scouting in Marin County.

So far the club has 25 codicils, Roy M. Michael, chairman of the Boy Scout Trust Fund said today.

He explained that interested persons may make out a codicil, an addition to their will, naming the council as beneficiary.

The person need not disclose the amount he has set aside in the codicil nor is one's name made known unless the codicil writer wishes to publicly acknowledge it, added Michael.

Funds will be used to send needy boys to scout camps, build new facilities and make scouting available to more youths as the county's population grows.

The council's three camps — Tamarancho in Fairfax, Marin Sierra at Emigrant Gap, Nevada County, and the recently acquired Camp Ruppert near Ukiah, will also benefit from the codicils, Michael said.

Michael says that the club has a film which tells about the benefit of codicils to scouting which is available at the Marin council office at 739 A Street, San Rafael.

He stressed the fact that persons do not have to become a member of the club to help the council in their wills. Other avenues, he said, include securities, real estate, life insurance policies and personal property.

Municipal Judge Floyd Talbott set June 25 for Walters, 31, to appear in superior court.

Walters, free on $3,000 bail, was arrested Feb. 17 after his wife was slashed in the face with a sharp object outside their home in Albany.

Walters was hired in October 1967 as a group counselor and was suspended after the criminal charge was lodged. Walters has appealed the suspension.

Human Error Held Cause Of Gas Explosion

GARY, Ind. (UPI) — The gas explosions that rocked Glen Park in Gary Tuesday were caused by human error, an official of Northern Indiana Public Service Co. said yesterday.

Nipsco district manager James Breed said a company crew was responsible for the explosions and subsequent fires. Breed said the crew was in South Glen Park testing lines in the area which had been converted from low to medium pressure when it discovered a leak in an eight-inch pipe.

Breed said workmen were about to reduce the pressure to repair the leak when a valve that separates the medium pressure system from the low pressure system "was inadvertently opened" by the Nipsco crew.

Woman Ruled Sane For Trial

Judge Lincoln F. Mahan ruled ysterday in Sonoma Superior Court that Vera Mae Walsh, a former practical nurse in Fairfax is mentally capable of standing trial Tuesday on charges of involuntary manslaughter and forgery.

The sanity hearing was ordered after her attorney, Albert Rizzo, told the court she would not cooperate in the preparation of her defense. She had been examined by two psychiatrists who submitted recommendation.

Mrs. Walsh, 42, is accused of the manslaughter of her patient, Mrs. Gloria Giannis, who died Jan. 5 from an overdose of drugs at the women's apartment in Santa Rosa. She is also accused of forging Mrs. Giannis's name to two checks after her death.

Mrs. Walsh is to be sentenced Monday in Marin Superior Court for the theft of valuables from the home of a Fairfax couple by whom she was employed.

San Rafael School Bonds On Ballot Again Tuesday

Voters in the San Rafael Elementary School District will go to the polls Tuesday to cast ballots on a $2.1 million bond measure, a repeat of the proposal defeated in February.

Board members say they have called another election because of "the continued critical need for classroom space."

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. till 8 p.m., and there are 16,619 persons eligible to vote.

Funds would be used to build a Glenwood Middle School, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, improve Davidson Junior High School and make improvements at older schools.

The intent is to convert to the middle school system throughout the district, eliminating sixth grades at elementary schools, and to relieve overcrowding and eliminate portable classrooms.

Generally, the same program was offered in February, gaining 60.4 per cent approval from voters, about 6 per cent short of the two-thirds majority needed for passage.

Board members estimate that passage would increase the district's bond tax rate 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation, costing the owner of an average home an additional $7.50 a year. The bonds would be redeemed over a 25-year period.

No formal argument against the proposed measure has been submitted to voters.

More than 400 pupils are being housed in 17 leased, temporary classrooms, which board members feel are costly and educationally inadequate.

"San Rafael taxpayers are paying a 25 per cent premium to use temporary classrooms," the board stated.

Your Elementary Schools Committee, campaigning for bond passage, noted that temporary classrooms "cost $16,000 each to purchase whereas a permanent classroom costs $25,000 approximately to build" but a permanent classroom lasts three times as long.

"Construction of a third middle school and the shift of sixth grade classes will provide the needed classrooms in neighborhood elementary schools," the committee reported.

Board members said the proposed new construction would cost about $19 per square foot, about the state average, but noted construction costs are rising, and delay will prove more costly.

Although the increase in pupils hasn't kept pace during the past year, the increase over the past five years has been about 3 per cent a year, and the district must plan for "about five new classrooms per year," the committee said.

Building additional classrooms at existing schools would be 12 to 14 per cent more expensive than building a new middle school, the committee contended.

Board members said passage of the bond measure would avoid "such alternatives as double sessions, shortened school days and over-crowded classrooms."

The planned Glenwood Middle School would be constructed in a cluster arrangement with a capacity of 900 pupils. Students would be housed in five units, accommodating 180 pupils each.

The hub of the campus would be a resource center housing a library, a language laboratory, science laboratory and an administration wing.

There would be an art building housing a home arts and art room, shop area and music room, with a small theater area — seating about 200.

There also would be a gymnasium and playfields and an outdoor amphitheater that could accommodate the entire enrollment.

The district didn't specify what improvements would be made at the older elementary schools, but board members noted these schools "are in need of modernization, particularly improvements in lighting, hearing, roofing and erosion control."

Polling places will be Sun Valley School, West End School, San Rafael City Hall, Farley residence, 1480 Lincoln Avenue, Gallinas School, MacPhail School, Oliver Hartzell School, San Pedro School, Boy Scout Hall, Second and A streets, Schools Administration building, Third and E streets, Davidson School, Laurel Dell Intermediate School, San Quentin Recreation Room, Bahia Vista School, San Rafael High School, Dufficy residence, 31 Palm Avenue, Coleman School, Tait residence, 71 Lochinvar Road, and Glenwood School.

San Rafael School Bonds On Ballot Again Tuesday

Voters in the San Rafael Elementary School District will go to the polls Tuesday to cast ballots on a $2.1 million bond measure, a repeat of the proposal defeated in February.

Board members say they have called another election because of "the continued critical need for classroom space."

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. till 8 p.m., and there are 16,619 persons eligible to vote.

Funds would be used to build a Glenwood Middle School, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, improve Davidson Junior High School and make improvements at older schools.

The intent is to convert to the middle school system throughout the district, eliminating sixth grades at elementary schools, and to relieve overcrowding and eliminate portable classrooms.

Generally, the same program was offered in February, gaining 60.4 per cent approval from voters, about 6 per cent short of the two-thirds majority needed for passage.

Board members estimate that passage would increase the district's bond tax rate 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation, costing the owner of an average home an additional $7.50 a year. The bonds would be redeemed over a 25-year period.

No formal argument against the proposed measure has been submitted to voters.

More than 400 pupils are being housed in 17 leased, temporary classrooms, which board members feel are costly and educationally inadequate.

"San Rafael taxpayers are paying a 25 per cent premium to use temporary classrooms," the board stated.

Your Elementary Schools Committee, campaigning for bond passage, noted that temporary classrooms "cost $16,000 each to purchase whereas a permanent classroom costs $25,000 approximately to build" but a permanent classroom lasts three times as long.

"Construction of a third middle school and the shift of sixth grade classes will provide the needed classrooms in neighborhood elementary schools," the committee reported.

Board members said the proposed new construction would cost about $19 per square foot, about the state average, but noted construction costs are rising, and delay will prove more costly.

Although the increase in pupils hasn't kept pace during the past year, the increase over the past five years has been about 3 per cent a year, and the district must plan for "about five new classrooms per year," the committee said.

Building additional classrooms at existing schools would be 12 to 14 per cent more expensive than building a new middle school, the committee contended.

Board members said passage of the bond measure would avoid "such alternatives as double sessions, shortened school days and over-crowded classrooms."

The planned Glenwood Middle School would be constructed in a cluster arrangement with a capacity of 900 pupils. Students would be housed in five units, accommodating 180 pupils each.

The hub of the campus would be a resource center housing a library, a language laboratory, science laboratory and an administration wing.

There would be an art building housing a home arts and art room, shop area and music room, with a small theater area — seating about 200.

There also would be a gymnasium and playfields and an outdoor amphitheater that could accommodate the entire enrollment.

The district didn't specify what improvements would be made at the older elementary schools, but board members noted these schools "are in need of modernization, particularly improvements in lighting, hearing, roofing and erosion control."

Polling places will be Sun Valley School, West End School, San Rafael City Hall, Farley residence, 1480 Lincoln Avenue, Gallinas School, MacPhail School, Oliver Hartzell School, San Pedro School, Boy Scout Hall, Second and A streets, Schools Administration building, Third and E streets, Davidson School, Laurel Dell Intermediate School, San Quentin Recreation Room, Bahia Vista School, San Rafael High School, Dufficy residence, 31 Palm Avenue, Coleman School, Tait residence, 71 Lochinvar Road, and Glenwood School.

Hurd's case was referred to the probation department for possible transferral to juvenile court. Brown's case was continued until today for entry of plea.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

SMALL, BUT LETHAL

Don't let the size of this weapon deceive you. It's a real triple threat. The weapon, a 1790 British double barrel pistol, also bears a stubby bayonet. Besides that, the stock is shaped like brass knuckles. The pistol will be one of about 3,000—from the very first "hand cannons" of Oriental design to the latest in rocket pistols—on display from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday at the Northern California Historical Arms Collectors Association show in the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Court Official Talks Of Suit Over Raises

Marin County Court Commissioner E. L. Nininger yesterday demanded that County Clerk George H. Gnoss be paid another $1,500 a year as jury commissioner and threatened a court suit if the amount is not paid.

He made the statement late yesterday during a hearing on the superior court budget before the Marin County Board of Supervisors. In a sharp exchange, Supervisor Chairman John F. McInnis replied he does not like to be threatened.

The supervisors refused to allow the $1,500 and declined another request by Nininger that his secretary; Junetta Younglove, be given a raise of $275 per month; and approved the county administrator's recommendation of $326,219 for the superior court budget, up from this year's $296,137. Most of the increase is for the newly established fifth superior court department.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said he would refuse to pay the $1,500 on grounds that Gnoss's $19,500 salary already includes pay for his added work as commissioner.

Nininger argued that his requests are needed for smooth operation of a new jury assembly system which he is instituting so that a large jury panel is set up from which to draw jurors from for several trials instead of a panel for each trial.

The County Administrator replied that such pay requests should have gone through the county personnel director under the normal salary schedules.

Nininger then made his parting shot, warning he could not be responsible for the jury assembly system.

Mill Valley Employees 5 Pct. Raise Budgeted

Mill Valley City Council lust night granted city employees a 5 per cent cost-of-living pay raise, ending a series of hearings with a proposed 1969-70 budget of about $2.1 million.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer estimated the tax rate would be $2.44 per $100 assessed valuation, as compared to the current rate of $2.31.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen called the expected tax rate hike "disgraceful" in view of increases in assessed valuation of property in the city.

Mayer countered by saying that if the tax rate "is disgraceful," it comes from a budget that was generally approved by all councilmen.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer reported to the council Monday that preliminary estimates were that the city's assessed value has increased from $34,976,690 to $37,588,763, as the result of reassessments of property.

Councilman George Wickham estimated that the city's tax rate would have reached $2.70 per $100 assessed valuation, if there hadn't been any assessment increases.

'INFLATION SQUEEZE'

Andresen contended that the rate should be held at $2.31, but Councilman Rodric L. Robinson said "The city is caught in the inflation squeeze, the same as an individual."

Councilmen granted employees the raise at a cost of $38,800 and four-week vacations after 15 years, without estimating cost, but rejected their requests for medical insurance payments for dependents, estimated to cost $10,138.

Joseph Khattir, representing the Mill Valley Employees Association, said all three requests were presented "as a package" after negotiations with Balmer, and the vote on fringe benefits wasn't acceptable.

If the dependent medical benefit is denied, then employees must have four weeks vacation after 10 years, "or we'll have to go to a mediator," Khattir said.

LEFT UNSETTLED

Since Balmer wasn't present to report on the agreement reached in negotiations, the council agreed the differences over fringe benefits would have to be resolved at another time.

The cost-of-living pay raises were granted for the entire 1969-70 year, a departure from the city's past policy of granting raises twice a year.

It provides however, for adjusting salaries in January to bring them to the median of 17 Bay Area cities which Mill Valley uses for a salary guide.

Before the council voted the 5 per cent increase for the year, several other salary motions were defeated.

A motion by Councilman Jerome C. Haucke to grant 5 per cent on dependent medical benefits was defeated by a 3-2 vote with Wickham and Meyer dissenting.

A motion to grant a 5 per cent pay raise "with no stipulations" about future action, was defeated by a 3-2 vote with Wickham, Andresen and Meyer dissenting.

The medical insurance for dependents was defeated by a 3-2 vote with Robinson and Haucke favoring it.

The four week vacation after 15 years was granted by a 4-1 vote with Haucke dissenting.

LIBRARY BUDGET

Councilmen also approved a library budget of $144,561, eliminating a new librarian, proposed for hiring in the second half of the fiscal year.

Robinson and Andresen opposed cutting the new librarian and voted against the library budget in protest.

Wickham pointed out that requests for new positions by the fire chief and police chief had been turned down,and in view of that he couldn't see granting a new position for the library.

Without county contribution to help pay for service to out-of-city residents who use the library, the council has approved charging nonresidents $14 a year for a family membership card in the library. Balmer has estimated the nonresident fee would produce $14,000 in revenue.

Under capital improvements, the council added $8,000 to complete payment for moving the existing recreation center to a site near the horseman's ring off East Blithdale Avenue, provide a parking lot at the new site, landscaping and repainting of the center. The vote was 3-2 with Wickham and Andresen dissenting.

Meyer noted that a street resurfacing program wasn't included in the budget, nor was a reserve fund established for a future recreation center.

BONDS SUGGESTED

Wickham said such major needs could be offered to the voters in a bond proposal, since they would serve the community over a number of years.

City Finance Director Frederick D. Kerr said he would present a summary of the proposed budget, including all revisions made during budget hearings, at the council's June 16 meeting.

Kerr said the new total is about $2,100,000.

Councilmen postponed discussion of the proposed major street improvement program, estimated to cost $331,000, since it involved only gasoline tax funds.

Among items eliminated from the capital improvements budget were replacement of a footbridge on Cascade Avenue, crossing Old Mill Creek, $2,400; utilities for the harbor site, $30,000; culverts at Vista Linda at Sheridan, $2,600; at Hill Street at East Blithedale Avenue, $14,000; and at Miller Avenue and Una Way, $15,000.

Burglar Takes $527 Loot In Sausalito

A burglar stole cash, jewelry and other items valued at $527 Tuesday from the residence of John C. Arpels, 150 Cloudview Trail, Sausalito police reported yesterday.

Missing, Arpels told police, were $240 in $20 bills, a clock-radio, a lighter, a watch, a ring, a money clip, three pairs of shoes, a Spanish letter opener, eight bottles of liquor, three ornamental daggers, a denim jacket and a pipe.

Tomales High Office Issue Postponed

Students at Tomales High School have postponed until fall the controversial question of whether the school principal or the students themselves shall determine a student's fitness for office in the student government.

The question, originally to have been put to a student vote yesterday, will be taken up by a constitution revision committee during the summer and presented to the students the first week of school in the fall, according to Madelyn Angress, a member of the committee.

Anthony Matulich, superintendent of Tomales High School District and principal of Tomales High, said that trying to deny the school administrator the power to disqualify a candidate would be foolish, because the school trustees and not the students were running the school.

Questioning of the student body constitution came to a head last week when Matulich, as permitted by the constitution, refused to allow Robert Borello to run for president of the student body. Matulich gave no reason. At the election Tuesday, Borello nevertheless won with a write-in vote of 91-86, defeating Dennis Rodoni.

Matulich then refused to allow Borello to take office, causing some 59 to 75 students to stage a sit-out, during which they elected a committee to undertake revision of the constitution.

Meanwhile the students agreed to accept Rodoni as president, since that was in compliance with the existing constitution.

This was the first election in which cheer leaders and pom pon girls were elected and the office of secretary-treasurer was separated into two offices.

A constitutional revision to make these changes was also to have been voted on yesterday, but was not ready. It was to be presented to the student assembly this afternoon for its vote so that these officers could be installed.

Gay Mann, a senior, has been chairman of the constitution revision committee, but will not be working on the constitution this summer because she is graduating, Miss Angress said. The other members of the committee who will be working on it are: Dennis Rodoni, the new president; William Hendren, Teri Senton and Linda Tremari, according to Miss Angress.

At the Shoreline Unified School District board meeting last night, Trustee Robert W. Giacomini praised Matulich for his handling of the strike and constitutional issue at the high school, according to Shoreline Supt. Charles E. McCully.

W. R. Lomax New Poverty War Head

A former supervisor with the San Francisco Economic Opportunity Council has been hired as executive director of Marin's EOC program.

Willis Robert Lomax, 34, started work yesterday at the EOC's multiservice center at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. He will receive $14,000 a year.

Lomax replaces Victor H. Cary, who resigned to take a position with the model cities program of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Lomax's last job was as supervisor of program and contract compliance monitoring with the San Francisco EOC. Before that he was a job development and program monitor with that agency.

He also is a former job developer, employment specialist and field representative with the Bay Area Urban League and did social welfare research with the United Community Fund of San Francisco.

Lomax was a member of the citizens committee that established an antipoverty program for San Francisco and later was a member of the board and chairman of the Western Addition Community Action program.

WILLIS R. LOMAX
Cary's replacement

Born in St. Louis, he graduated from a Flint, Mich., high school and earned a bachelor of arts degree in social welfare from San Francisco State College in 1966. He is now doing graduate work in social welfare and public administration.

Lomax lives in San Francisco but is seeking a home in Marin.

Greyhound Mediation Try Opens

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Federal mediator called union mechanics and Greyhound Bus Lines officials together again today for talks aimed at averting a strike which could strand 23,000 Bay Area commuters, 4,000 of them from Marin.

Roger Randall of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, met with negotiators at 10 a.m. but a quick settlement was doubtful.

Meanwhile, Greyhound rescinded a layoff notice issued last week which would have idled as many as 500 drivers fom Novato to Palo Alto tomorrow.

Randall said the notice was issued when a strike by the 300 members of the mechanics' union — Lodge 1305 of the International Association of Machinists — appeared imminent.

Although he said there is no immediate threat of a strike while the talks are continuing, Randall said, "Realistically, there is still a real possibility of a strike."

Union officials have agreed to withhold strike action while the talks continue, at least through today. They have the authority from the rank and file to call a strike at any time, however.

The union is demanding $1.50 an hour more in pay, $58 a month in health and welfare payments and other benefits.

Rancher Fined $100 On Creek Pollution Count

Wilson D. Beebe, owner of a ranch near Olema, was fined $100 and put on three years' probation in Northwest Marin Justice Court yesterday after being convicted of polluting a creek on his ranch.

Judge David R. Baty levied the fine and ordered Beebe to correct the condition which has allowed cow manure into the creek and resulted in the killing of fish. Beebe was arrested May 28.

Baty also fined three non-Marin fishermen for taking over their limit and undersized clams or abalone.

F. A. Zehringer, 51, and Robert E. Dutra, 38, both of Pinole, were fined $150 each and had their fishing licenses suspended for two years for taking undersized red abalone on Tomales Bay.

Rene Heysteck of San Francisco was fined $50 for taking 42 undersized clams and 47 more than the legal limit on Tomales Bay.

Two Tribes To Take Over College Lot

Some "Trobriand Islanders" of the South Pacific and "Kwakiutl Indians" of Vancouver Island, British Columbia, will hold a festival at the College of Marin tomorrow complete with baked salmon and roast pig.

The two peoples will reenact activities such as marriage, gardening, magic and shamanistic curing ceremonies.

The "Kwakiutls" will display a scaled-down long-house (dwelling place) which they built and the "Trobrianders" a yam hut.

Ceremonies will start at noon at the large parking lot off Kent Avenue and the pig and salmon, being started at 6 a.m., are expected to be ready for sampling by 1 or 2 p.m.

The festival givers are not really from foreign lands but students of Diane Wickstrom's cultural anthropology class, student Mary Mohler reported.

Two Guns Taken

Two guns, a 30-30 carbine and a 12-gauge shotgun owned by Robert B. Borzini of 105 Bayview Street, San Rafael, were taken from his unlocked garage sometime after May 26. The guns were valued at $140, police reported today.

Quentin Visit Rules Tightened, Draw Fire

A general cutback on civilians entering San Quentin Prison has drawn criticism from an American Friends Service Committee spokesman who claimed the Quakers' work at the prison has been hampered.

A Quaker counselor, Jan Marinissen, who has screened prisoners for the Austin MacCormick House, a half-way house in San Francisco, for seven years was denied "open gate privileges" April 11 in the general tightening of admission.

However, Associate Warden Wayne Bartels said Marinissen's work "was a duplication of effort, something our probation people can handle."

Bartels, explaining the cutback on civilian entrances, said, "We've reached the saturation point" The prison does not have the staff to properly supervise growing numbers of visitors, many of them volunteers."

He said San Quentin and parole authorities use the half-way house and said inmates will be released to go to the MacCormick house for screening.

Quakers, like anyone else, can also apply for a pass, and if approved can go in.

Bartels said other cuts have been made in some of the volunteer programs such as Inside Out, a group of businessmen who help the prison prepare inmates for release.

"Nothing has been eliminated," he emphasized.

Bartles also said that not a single inmate has asked why Marinissen is no longer coming to the prison.

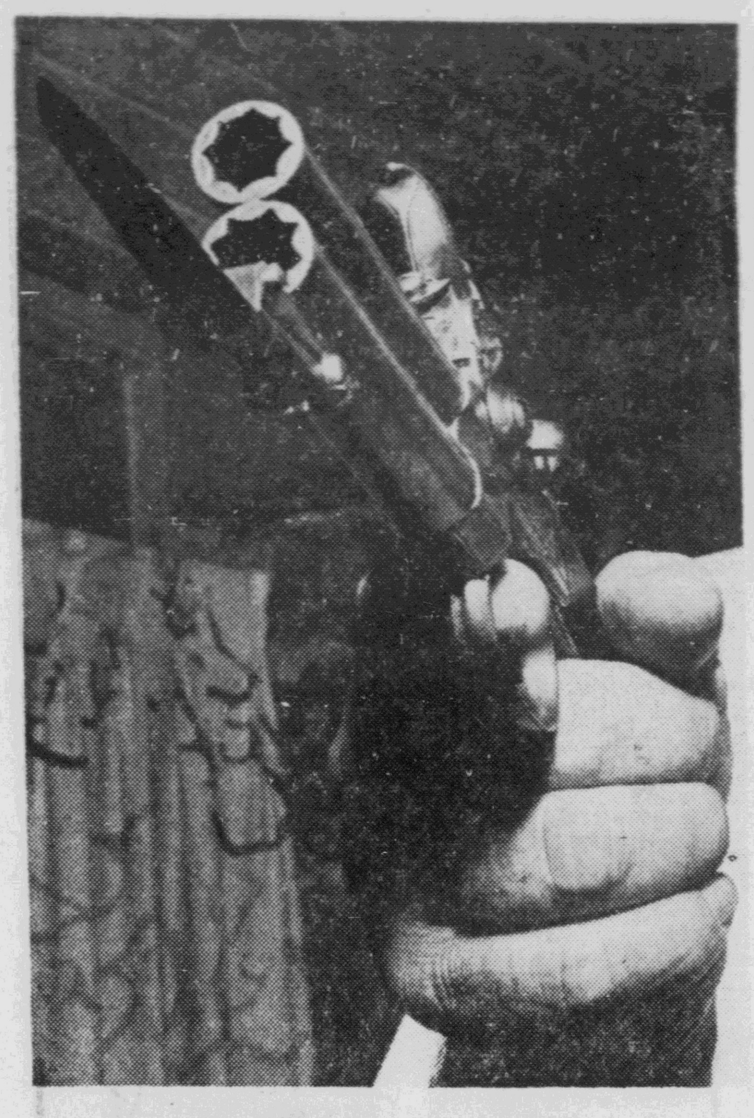
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1969 19



SMALL, BUT LETHAL

Don't let the size of this weapon deceive you. It's a real triple threat. The weapon, a 1790 British double barrel pistol, also bears a stubby bayonet. Besides that, the stock is shaped like brass knuckles. The pistol will be one of about 3,000—from the very first "hand cannons" of Oriental design to the latest in rocket pistols—on display from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday at the Northern California Historical Arms Collectors Association show in the Corte Madera Recreation Center. # Mill Valley Employees 5 Pct. Raise Budgeted

Mill Valley City Council lust night granted city employees a 5 per cent cost-of-living pay raise, ending a series of hearings with a proposed 1969-70 budget of about $2.1 million.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer estimated the tax rate would be $2.44 per $100 assessed valuation, as compared to the current rate of $2.31.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen called the expected tax rate hike "disgraceful" in view of increases in assessed valuation of property in the city.

Mayer countered by saying that if the tax rate "is disgraceful," it comes from a budget that was generally approved by all councilmen.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer reported to the council Monday that preliminary estimates were that the city's assessed value has increased from $34,976,690 to $37,588,763, as the result of reassessments of property.

Councilman George Wickham estimated that the city's tax rate would have reached $2.70 per $100 assessed valuation, if there hadn't been any assessment increases.

'INFLATION SQUEEZE'

Andresen contended that the rate should be held at $2.31, but Councilman Rodric L. Robinson said "The city is caught in the inflation squeeze, the same as an individual."

Councilmen granted employees the raise at a cost of $38,800 and four-week vacations after 15 years, without estimating cost, but rejected their requests for medical insurance payments for dependents, estimated to cost $10,138.

Joseph Khattir, representing the Mill Valley Employees Association, said all three requests were presented "as a package" after negotiations with Balmer, and the vote on fringe benefits wasn't acceptable.

If the dependent medical benefit is denied, then employees must have four weeks vacation after 10 years, "or we'll have to go to a mediator," Khattir said.

LEFT UNSETTLED

Since Balmer wasn't present to report on the agreement reached in negotiations, the council agreed the differences over fringe benefits would have to be resolved at another time.

The cost-of-living pay raises were granted for the entire 1969-70 year, a departure from the city's past policy of granting raises twice a year.

It provides however, for adjusting salaries in January to bring them to the median of 17 Bay Area cities which Mill Valley uses for a salary guide.

Before the council voted the 5 per cent increase for the year, several other salary motions were defeated.

A motion by Councilman Jerome C. Haucke to grant 5 per cent on dependent medical benefits was defeated by a 3-2 vote with Wickham and Meyer dissenting.

A motion to grant a 5 per cent pay raise "with no stipulations" about future action, was defeated by a 3-2 vote with Wickham, Andresen and Meyer dissenting.

The medical insurance for dependents was defeated by a 3-2 vote with Robinson and Haucke favoring it.

The four week vacation after 15 years was granted by a 4-1 vote with Haucke dissenting.

LIBRARY BUDGET

Councilmen also approved a library budget of $144,561, eliminating a new librarian, proposed for hiring in the second half of the fiscal year.

Robinson and Andresen opposed cutting the new librarian and voted against the library budget in protest.

Wickham pointed out that requests for new positions by the fire chief and police chief had been turned down.and in view of that he couldn't see granting a new position for the library.

Without county contribution to help pay for service to out-of-city residents who use the library, the council has approved charging nonresidents $14 a year for a family membership card in the library. Balmer has estimated the nonresident fee would produce $14,000 in revenue.

Under capital improvements, the council added $8,000 to complete payment for moving the existing recreation center to a site near the horseman's ring off East Blithdale Avenue, provide a parking lot at the new site, landscaping and repainting of the center. The vote was 3-2 with Wickham and Andresen dissenting.

Meyer noted that a street resurfacing program wasn't included in the budget, nor was a reserve fund established for a future recreation center.

BONDS SUGGESTED

Wickham said such major needs could be offered to the voters in a bond proposal, since they would serve the community over a number of years.

City Finance Director Frederick D. Kerr said he would present a summary of the proposed budget, including all revisions made during budget hearings, at the council's June 16 meeting.

Kerr said the new total is about $2,100,000.

Councilmen postponed discussion of the proposed major street improvement program, estimated to cost $331,000, since it involved only gasoline tax funds.

Among items eliminated from the capital improvements budget were replacement of a footbridge on Cascade Avenue, crossing Old Mill Creek, $2,400; utilities for the harbor site, $30,000; culverts at Vista Linda at Sheridan, $2,600; at Hill Street at East Blithedale Avenue, $14,000; and at Miller Avenue and Una Way, $15,000.

Burglar Takes $527 Loot In Sausalito

A burglar stole cash, jewelry and other items valued at $527 Tuesday from the residence of John C. Arpels, 150 Cloudview Trail, Sausalito police reported yesterday.

Missing, Arpels told police, were $240 in $20 bills, a clock-radio, a lighter, a watch, a ring, a money clip, three pairs of shoes, a Spanish letter opener, eight bottles of liquor, three ornamental daggers, a denim jacket and a pipe.

Court Official Talks Of Suit Over Raises

Marin County Court Commissioner E. L. Nininger yesterday demanded that County Clerk George H. Gnoss be paid another $1,500 a year as jury commissioner and threatened a court suit if the amount is not paid.

He made the statement late yesterday during a hearing on the superior court budget before the Marin County Board of Supervisors. In a sharp exchange, Supervisor Chairman John F. McInnis replied he does not like to be threatened.

The supervisors refused to allow the $1,500 and declined another request by Nininger that his secretary; Junetta Younglove, be given a raise of $275 per month; and approved the county administrator's recommendation of $326,219 for the superior court budget, up from this year's $296,137. Most of the increase is for the newly established fifth superior court department.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said he would refuse to pay the $1,500 on grounds that Gnoss's $19,500 salary already includes pay for his added work as commissioner.

Nininger argued that his requests are needed for smooth operation of a new jury assembly system which he is instituting so that a large jury panel is set up from which to draw jurors from for several trials instead of a panel for each trial.

The County Administrator replied that such pay requests should have gone through the county personnel director under the normal salary schedules.

Nininger then made his parting shot, warning he could not be responsible for the jury assembly system.

Tomales High Office Issue Postponed

Students at Tomales High School have postponed until fall the controversial question of whether the school principal or the students themselves shall determine a student's fitness for office in the student government.

The question, originally to have been put to a student vote yesterday, will be taken up by a constitution revision committee during the summer and presented to the students the first week of school in the fall, according to Madelyn Angress, a member of the committee.

Anthony Matulich, superintendent of Tomales High School District and principal of Tomales High, said that trying to deny the school administrator the power to disqualify a candidate would be foolish, because the school trustees and not the students were running the school.

Questioning of the student body constitution came to a head last week when Matulich, as permitted by the constitution, refused to allow Robert Borello to run for president of the student body. Matulich gave no reason. At the election Tuesday, Borello nevertheless won with a write-in vote of 91-86, defeating Dennis Rodoni.

Matulich then refused to allow Borello to take office, causing some 59 to 75 students to stage a sit-out, during which they elected a committee to undertake revision of the constitution.

Meanwhile the students agreed to accept Rodoni as president, since that was in compliance with the existing constitution.

This was the first election in which cheer leaders and pom pon girls were elected and the office of secretary-treasurer was separated into two offices.

A constitutional revision to make these changes was also to have been voted on yesterday, but was not ready. It was to be presented to the student assembly this afternoon for its vote so that these officers could be installed.

Gay Mann, a senior, has been chairman of the constitution revision committee, but will not be working on the constitution this summer because she is graduating, Miss Angress said. The other members of the committee who will be working on it are: Dennis Rodoni, the new president; William Hendren, Teri Senton and Linda Tremari, according to Miss Angress.

At the Shoreline Unified School District board meeting last night, Trustee Robert W. Giacomini praised Matulich for his handling of the strike and constitutional issue at the high school, according to Shoreline Supt. Charles E. McCully.

W. R. Lomax New Poverty War Head

A former supervisor with the San Francisco Economic Opportunity Council has been hired as executive director of Marin's EOC program.

Willis Robert Lomax, 34, started work yesterday at the EOC's multiservice center at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. He will receive $14,000 a year.

Lomax replaces Victor H. Cary, who resigned to take a position with the model cities program of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Lomax's last job was as supervisor of program and contract compliance monitoring with the San Francisco EOC. Before that he was a job development and program monitor with that agency.

He also is a former job developer, employment specialist and field representative with the Bay Area Urban League and did social welfare research with the United Community Fund of San Francisco.

Lomax was a member of the citizens committee that established an antipoverty program for San Francisco and later was a member of the board and chairman of the Western Addition Community Action program.

WILLIS R. LOMAX
Cary's replacement

Born in St. Louis, he graduated from a Flint, Mich., high school and earned a bachelor of arts degree in social welfare from San Francisco State College in 1966. He is now doing graduate work in social welfare and public administration.

Lomax lives in San Francisco but is seeking a home in Marin.

Greyhound Mediation Try Opens

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Federal mediator called union mechanics and Greyhound Bus Lines officials together again today for talks aimed at averting a strike which could strand 23,000 Bay Area commuters, 4,000 of them from Marin.

Roger Randall of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, met with negotiators at 10 a.m. but a quick settlement was doubtful.

Meanwhile, Greyhound rescinded a layoff notice issued last week which would have idled as many as 500 drivers fom Novato to Palo Alto tomorrow.

Randall said the notice was issued when a strike by the 300 members of the mechanics' union — Lodge 1305 of the International Association of Machinists — appeared imminent.

Although he said there is no immediate threat of a strike while the talks are continuing, Randall said, "Realistically, there is still a real possibility of a strike."

Union officials have agreed to withhold strike action while the talks continue, at least through today. They have the authority from the rank and file to call a strike at any time, however.

The union is demanding $1.50 an hour more in pay, $58 a month in health and welfare payments and other benefits.

Rancher Fined $100 On Creek Pollution Count

Wilson D. Beebe, owner of a ranch near Olema, was fined $100 and put on three years' probation in Northwest Marin Justice Court yesterday after being convicted of polluting a creek on his ranch.

Judge David R. Baty levied the fine and ordered Beebe to correct the condition which has allowed cow manure into the creek and resulted in the killing of fish. Beebe was arrested May 28.

Baty also fined three non-Marin fishermen for taking over their limit and undersized clams or abalone.

F. A. Zehringer, 51, and Robert E. Dutra, 38, both of Pinole, were fined $150 each and had their fishing licenses suspended for two years for taking undersized red abalone on Tomales Bay.

Rene Heysteck of San Francisco was fined $50 for taking 42 undersized clams and 47 more than the legal limit on Tomales Bay.

Two Tribes To Take Over College Lot

Some "Trobriand Islanders" of the South Pacific and "Kwakiutl Indians" of Vancouver Island, British Columbia, will hold a festival at the College of Marin tomorrow complete with baked salmon and roast pig.

The two peoples will reenact activities such as marriage, gardening, magic and shamanistic curing ceremonies.

The "Kwakiutls" will display a scaled-down long-house (dwelling place) which they built and the "Trobrianders" a yam hut.

Ceremonies will start at noon at the large parking lot off Kent Avenue and the pig and salmon, being started at 6 a.m., are expected to be ready for sampling by 1 or 2 p.m.

The festival givers are not really from foreign lands but students of Diane Wickstrom's cultural anthropology class, student Mary Mohler reported.

Two Guns Taken

Two guns, a 30-30 carbine and a 12-gauge shotgun owned by Robert B. Borzini of 105 Bayview Street, San Rafael, were taken from his unlocked garage sometime after May 26. The guns were valued at $140, police reported today.

Quentin Visit Rules Tightened, Draw Fire

A general cutback on civilians entering San Quentin Prison has drawn criticism from an American Friends Service Committee spokesman who claimed the Quakers' work at the prison has been hampered.

A Quaker counselor, Jan Marinissen, who has screened prisoners for the Austin MacCormick House, a half-way house in San Francisco, for seven years was denied "open gate privileges" April 11 in the general tightening of admission.

However, Associate Warden Wayne Bartels said Marinissen's work "was a duplication of effort, something our probation people can handle."

Bartels, explaining the cutback on civilian entrances, said, "We've reached the saturation point" The prison does not have the staff to properly supervise growing numbers of visitors, many of them volunteers."

He said San Quentin and parole authorities use the half-way house and said inmates will be released to go to the MacCormick house for screening.

Quakers, like anyone else, can also apply for a pass, and if approved can go in.

Bartels said other cuts have been made in some of the volunteer programs such as Inside Out, a group of businessmen who help the prison prepare inmates for release.

"Nothing has been eliminated," he emphasized.

Bartles also said that not a single inmate has asked why Marinissen is no longer coming to the prison.

Young Beating Victim Mends

John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fatooh of 21 Holstein Road, was involved in the fight with the boys, two of whom are 13, on 14 and one 12 years old, while walking to Sir Francis Drake High School, Dean of Boys Frank Mulholland reported to police ysterday.

The four boys are students at Hidden Valley School.

Mrs. Fatooh reported to police yesterday that her son's spleen was removed Tuesday night, and that he came through the operation well.

Larkspur Turns Down Murray Park Shops

The Larkspur City Council last night refused to be swayed by promises of conservation of trees and restoration of an old house and turned down an appeal to rezone a site in Murray Park for commercial use.

Charles McLeran, who was appealing a denial by the city's planning commission, told the council that his plans for the site included "high quality" shops patterned after San Francisco's Jackson Square and the restoration of the 100-year-old Murray home.

The portion of the approximately 2.6-acre parcel fronting on Magnolia Avenue at the north end of Larkspur is already zoned for commercial use but McLeran was asking that the business zoning be extended into part of the residential area of Murray Park.

Speaking for the project were attorney William M. Bennett of Kent Woodlands, who said most of the trees in the area would be retained, and architect Eugene E. Crawford, who describes preliminary plans for small shops and the old house.

A petition signed by about 45 residents of Murray Park, many of whom were present to voice their opposition last night, was presented to the council saying that the residents did not want the commercial zone.

The councilmen voted 5-0 to turn down the project, saying that they liked the plan but it was intended for the wrong place. Councilman William G. Fleckles suggested that McLeran design a "planned district" for the site.

In other action last night, the council voted to close a temporary access road over private property into the Meadowood subdivision on Dec. 3.

Although 300 residents of neighboring Heather Gardens had signed a petition asking that the extension of Holcomb Avenue be left open to prevent traffic hazards, the council decided that the access had been promised for only two years when agreed upon in 1967.

Mayor Neil R. Brixon said that giving the developer of Meadowood, Harry Reed, until December to use the street gave him time to develop aother access. Brixon recommended that Ward Street be made the permanent entry into the subdivision.

The council voted to leave a walkway three to five feet wide on the present access road.

The Larkspur City Coucil also:

POLICE — Heard a plea from Raymond Kesner of the Support Your Local Police Committee asking tha Larkspur not accept federal funds for police and that the city support state legislation declaring a moratorium on administration of such funds.

LAUNCHING — Discussed a proposed boat launching ramp at Greenbrae but held back approval until plans for policing boats on the creek can be presented.

COMMISSION — Reappointed Charles Curley to the planning commission.

BUDGET — Set June 18 for budget hearings.

AN IDEA

Are you reading the Want Ads every day, hoping to spot a good buy? Then consider for a moment another way of doing the same thing which we think may be better.

It is a fact that often OUR best buys never get advertised at all. We have over $13 million in Marin property listed for sale at any one time, and naturally we can't advertise all we have for sale every day. And furthermore, we call OUR buyers BEFORE a property gets to the papers, and if it is what they want, it is sold before it is advertised at all!

So our suggestion is that you tell us what it is that YOU are looking for in Marin. Chances are we have it listed now, or if not, that we will have it listed soon, because we have a continuous flow of new listings from a backlog of FIFTY-NINE YEARS of selling here (relistings) as well as from our complete coverage with SIX MARIN COUNTY OFFICES.

As soon as we spot what you are looking for, WE WILL CALL YOU FIRST, BEFORE WE ADVERTISE THE PROPERTY. Become one of our buyers . . . call

AN IDEA

Are you reading the Want Ads every day, hoping to spot a good buy? Then consider for a moment another way of doing the same thing which we think may be better.

It is a fact that often OUR best buys never get advertised at all. We have over $13 million in Marin property listed for sale at any one time, and naturally we can't advertise all we have for sale every day. And furthermore, we call OUR buyers BEFORE a property gets to the papers, and if it is what they want, it is sold before it is advertised at all!

So our suggestion is that you tell us what it is that YOU are looking for in Marin. Chances are we have it listed now, or if not, that we will have it listed soon, because we have a continuous flow of new listings from a backlog of FIFTY-NINE YEARS of selling here (relistings) as well as from our complete coverage with SIX MARIN COUNTY OFFICES.

As soon as we spot what you are looking for, WE WILL CALL YOU FIRST, BEFORE WE ADVERTISE THE PROPERTY. Become one of our buyers . . . call

Profits Held Irrelevant To Proposed Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Public Utilities Commission examiner ruled yesterday Pacific Gas & Electric Co.'s profits from electricity are irrelevant to its proposed $35 million hike in gas rates.

Examiner Carol T. Coffey said the commission was not currently interested in electricity profits as he denied a staff attorney's request for the figures.

Coffey agreed with company attorney John C. Morrisey that "the gas department has to pay its own way" and such information would not be relevant.

PUC counsel David R. Larrouy requested the electricity profit figures during testimony by K. C. Christensen, PG&S senior vice president.

Central Committee Picks GOP Women

Three Marin County Republican leaders have been named associate members of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, committee chairman Charles Michals said today.

Named to the committee were Mrs. Diane G. Bramman of Mill Valley, Mrs. Else Innes of Ross and Mrs. Loris O'Leary of Tiburon.

Plans Sought By Rec Panel

The Strawberry Recreation District board last night asked the Marin County Planning Commission to request developers with projects in the district to present their proposals to the board prior to action by the county planning commission, secretary Jeanne Heick reported.

The request applies particularly to requests for changes in the master plan and rezoning, Mrs. Heick said.

The board also heard that tennis court resurfacing has been completed and that summer lessons for adults and children will begin Saturday, she said.

The board set a special meeting for 8 p.m. Wednesday at Strawberry Point School to discuss the proposed community building.

Profits Held Irrelevant To Proposed Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Public Utilities Commission examiner ruled yesterday Pacific Gas & Electric Co.'s profits from electricity are irrelevant to its proposed $35 million hike in gas rates.

Examiner Carol T. Coffey said the commission was not currently interested in electricity profits as he denied a staff attorney's request for the figures.

Coffey agreed with company attorney John C. Morrisey that "the gas department has to pay its own way" and such information would not be relevant.

PUC counsel David R. Larrouy requested the electricity profit figures during testimony by K. C. Christensen, PG&S senior vice president.

Central Committee Picks GOP Women

Three Marin County Republican leaders have been named associate members of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, committee chairman Charles Michals said today.

Named to the committee were Mrs. Diane G. Bramman of Mill Valley, Mrs. Else Innes of Ross and Mrs. Loris O'Leary of Tiburon.

Plans Sought By Rec Panel

The Strawberry Recreation District board last night asked the Marin County Planning Commission to request developers with projects in the district to present their proposals to the board prior to action by the county planning commission, secretary Jeanne Heick reported.

The request applies particularly to requests for changes in the master plan and rezoning, Mrs. Heick said.

The board also heard that tennis court resurfacing has been completed and that summer lessons for adults and children will begin Saturday, she said.

The board set a special meeting for 8 p.m. Wednesday at Strawberry Point School to discuss the proposed community building.

King School Principal To New Post

Robert Thompson, principal of troubled Martin Luther King School, is being reassigned within the Sausalito School District.

Thomson would not say whether he requested the reassignment, and Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato and Bruce E. Woelfel, president of the district board, said they didn't know the details.

Supt. Phillip W. Schneider announced at a parents' meeting last night that a five-member committee, including teachers, himself and board member Martha Freebairn-Smith, would seek a new principal.

Schneider said the new principal would have to be "experienced in a multi-ethnic setting" and "committed to integrated education."

Amato said Thomson's new duties were uncertain.

Co-Ed Charged In Santa Rosa

A Corte Madera co-ed and a Los Angeles musician were arraigned yesterday in Sonoma Central Municipal Court on charges of indecent exposure.

Ann Estelle Zimmerman, 18, of 66 Birch Avenue, was released on $625 bail and set for a preliminary hearing June 13 at 9 a.m. Her companion, Michael Stephen Taylor, 19, was released on $625 bail and set to appear June 12.

The two were arrested Tuesday afternoon when a resident of the 5400 block of Petaluma Hill Road, Santa Rosa, complained that they were nude in a nearby grassy area. Sheriff's deputies arrested them as they were walking toward the road.

Degrees Earned In New England

Two former Redwood High School students are among 325 graduates of Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt., who received bachelor of arts degrees this week.

Douglas K. Ashby, a political science major, plans to enter Stanford Law School in the fall. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ashby of Kentfield.

Another Kentfield resident, Otis R. Johnson, received his degree also in political science. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Russell Johnson.

Burglary Charge To Superior Court

Adam Nicholas Mikolon, 38, of San Anselmo yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of burglarizing a Bolinas home last November. He was told to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

Mikolon was arrested inside the home of Thomas Jones Barfield after a neighbor called deputies to say that a burglary was taking place.

TENSE DIALOGUE

School Turmoil Remains Thorny

By DAVID DIETZ

Parents and staff in the Sausalito School District found little agreement last night as they opened a search for causes of the turmoil surrounding Martin Luther King School.

After nearly three hours of tense and sometimes bitter debate, the meeting broke up inconclusively, but the group agreed to meet again next week.

The meeting, summoned by the Sausalito School District Parents Club, drew about 100 persons to St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

It opened on a hushed note as Dist. Supt. Phillip W. Schneider said, "I've never been involved in so many rumors and speculation — which indicate to me that you people are scared."

Some whites accused the administration of permissiveness with problem students and of failing to support disciplinary measures taken by teachers. They told of incidents of white students being assaulted by blacks.

Blacks, including members of the district staff, criticized a lack of participation by whites in the affairs of the district and said full integration could not be achieved at Martin Luther King School until more black teachers and staff were hired.

One black teacher at King, William Bradley (Chaka), who has been aswirl in convtroversy since he joined the district early last month, said harmony could not be attained until "concern was shown to black and Third World students as much as it is to white students." He asserted that there were no disciplinary problems in classes taught at King School by black teachers.

Michael Harris, a white parent from Sausalito, saw black and white students "being polarized into camps" and wondered where the responsibility lay. He also questioned whether apparent increased emphasis on a black-oriented education was not as harmful as instruction geared to whites.

Also, he asked, were cracks beginning to show in the "noble experiment" of an integrated school district established four years ago?

Schneider said integration would never be achieved "until we have no more Marin City per se," and a solid educational program supported by parents and administration, but that black and white students at King school had "done some very beautiful things together."

Polarization was inevitable, he added, because the "black youths had to get themselves together and deal with life as white youngsters have been doing almost intuitively." But Schneider said the polarization would help parents and administrators to recognize their mistakes, thus closing the gap.

Asked about the district policies on discipline, James T. Toliver Jr., assistant principal at King school, said the student was counseled and, if that failed, the parent — on whom the "basic responsibiltiy falls" — was summoned.

"How can the whole world know what's going on (at King school), but the administration doesn't?" asked a black Army sergeant and parent. He said his daughter was beaten and robbed of lunch money.

"Why have an administration?" he said. "Why not get rid of them and let the teachers and kids run the schools?"

"Where instruction is good, discipline is good," said Schneider. "Where it can't be improved, people have to go."

This led to a discussion of whether teachers who apparently couldn't teach in an integrated atmosphere could be discharged.

"There's no question that an administration and school board should start proceedings to dismiss any teacher who is ineffective," said Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel. "But boards are usually reluctant because of the hassles involved'.'

He said tenure laws didn't prevent teachers from being discharged.

The group said it wanted more teachers to attend its next meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Church.

James O. Quiett of Marin City, who is chairman of the Marin County Human Rights Commission, urged parents to try to verify reports of incidents at school and said more parents should visit King School.

He critized whites for demanding "integration on your terms. You meet me half way." Urging calm, he added, "Pull the mask off. Get to the nitty gritty."

$50,000 To Marin City For Planning

A $50,000 two-year planning grant for Marin City has been allocated by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, reported yesterday.

The funds were sought by the Marin City Council through Marin County which will put up one-third matching funds, $25,000, or equivalent in services, over the two-year period.

Mailliard said the funds would go for a revision of the Marin City master plan, a survey of community resources, development of community improvement programs and a study of the economic potential of the community.

One of the initial undertakings is expected to be a survey of the community to community needs, particularly housing.

Bench Warrant Set In Narcotics Case

A bench warrant with bail set at $5,000 has been issued by Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court for Gerald Max Gonzales, 29, of Sausalito, who failed to appear yesterday for a preliminary hearing.

Gonzales is charged with having methedrine and narcotics equipment in his possession when arrested in San Rafael Feb. 24.

King School Principal To New Post

Robert Thompson, principal of troubled Martin Luther King School, is being reassigned within the Sausalito School District.

Thomson would not say whether he requested the reassignment, and Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato and Bruce E. Woelfel, president of the district board, said they didn't know the details.

Supt. Phillip W. Schneider announced at a parents' meeting last night that a five-member committee, including teachers, himself and board member Martha Freebairn-Smith, would seek a new principal.

Schneider said the new principal would have to be "experienced in a multi-ethnic setting" and "committed to integrated education."

Amato said Thomson's new duties were uncertain.

Pro Golfer Lee Elder Complains Of Racial Taunts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee Elder says there are many Negroes who could be successful on the professional golf tour but they can't get the necessary financial backing.

Elder, one of the few Negroes on the pro tour, also says racial taunts at some of the tournaments he's played in California, Tennessee and Florida has persuaded him to consider bypassing those events.

The 32-year-old Washingtonian definitely will not play in the Monsanto Open in Pensacola, Fla., because, he says, the racial bias by the galleries is the worst he has encountered. The Monsanto tourney formerly was called the Pensacola Open.

"There are lots of Negro players who would do real well on the tour," Elder said in an interview. "I can name a whole list of them, but they don't play because they can't get the backing."

Elder said the golfers on the All-Negro circuit, which he played for 10 years before joining the PGA tour a little over two years ago, might encounter some minor problems because of the courses.

"They don't get an opportunity to play this kind of course on their tour," he said, pointing out over the plush Bethesda Country Club in suburban Maryland where he qualified for the U.S. Open.

"They come off the public courses and see a country club like this and have to face shots they didn't have to before. But it's like everything else, with a little practice they'll come around."

Among the Negro golfers he cited who would do well were:

Mose Brooks and J. W. White of Dallas, Henry Barbarin and James Walker Jr. of Los Angeles, James Mason of Washington, Jimmy Wilburn of Philadelphia and James McMillan of New York.

There are now 10 Negroes who are considered regulars on the PGA pro tour including Charlie Sifford and his nephew, Curtis Sifford; Pete, Cliff and Howard Brown, none related, and George Johnson.

Elder said he plays about 30 tournaments a year but in four or five he has been the target of racial taunts from the galleries.

"I'm tired of being called Nigger or Black Boy," he said. "It's just come to a head. I haven't said anything about this before but I feel I've held it underneath long enough and believe it should come to a head."

"There has been some improvements but some of the places are just as bad as they ever were," he said. "It's really hard for me to play in the South. And California is just as bad in some places.

"Unless things are improved, I'm just going to skip those tournaments," Elder said. "I talked to some of the sponsors at one tournament in California and they said things would be different next year, Well, we'll see. If things haven't improved, I'm just not going to go back."

Monsanto Open officials said yesterday racial slurs which Elder said he received here never were called to their attention.

Magazine Calls 49er Draftee A Sleeper

Running back Eugene Moore, fourth-round choice from Occidental who signed a contract with the San Francisco 49ers yesterday, is featured in this month's issue of Sport Magazine in a story titled: "Ten Sleepers In The Pro Football Draft."

Judging by the Niners' 22-year record of futility, that's what they've been drafting all along — sleepers.

Anyway, former pro great Buddy Young writes in Sports Magazine: "The 49ers have good inside runners in Ken Willard and Gary Lewis, but need somebody who can turn the corner to the outside. Moore can."

MILL VALLEYAN Tony Settember, not to be confused with August Busch, Tuesday Weld, Don January or April in Paris, drove his Class A Sedan to victory last weekend in the 30th annual Santa Barbara Sports Car Races. In overall competition he finished second.

Champ Skiers Get Together

JACQUES TILLEMENT, 23-year-old European and France water ski champion, is a Marin visitor this week, practicing with world champion Mike Suyderhoud of San Anselmo for international competition this summer.

Tillement, from the city of Metz, France near the German border, is staying at Suyderhoud's San Anselmo residence and the two of them are working out daily at Mira Monte Marina north of Novato.

The next big meets on the water ski agenda are the Berkeley championships June 14-15 and the Europe versus The Americans tourney in London June 22 at which this week's roommates will be friendly rivals.

TERRA LINDA southpaw Bill Lee is going great guns in his budding professional career with the Boston Red Sox farm system. In his first seven games for the Pittsfield, Mass. Red Sox of the Eastern-AA League, the ex-Terra Linda High and USC pitching ace compiled a 4-1 won-lost record. In 45 innings he has yielded 34 hits and 23 runs while striking out 32 and posting a nifty 2.20 earned run average.

Guess Who Won The Raffle?

CARL J. BROWN is head basketball and assistant varsity football coach at Drake High School, see? Well, the other night the Drake Benchwarmers Club held a raffle, first prize being an all-expenses paid, three-day vacation in Las Vegas, see.

We wish Coach and Mrs. Brown a happy holiday.

Incidentally, drawing the lucky number out of the barrel was former Drake star Reg Carolan of the Kansas City Chiefs. (Maybe we should wish Brown and Carolan a happy holiday.)

ABOUT A MONTH ago I reported the Fairfax-Sleepy Hollow Little League presented the first annual Dave Geoffrion Memorial Trophy for sportsmanship to a fine young lad named Dave Geoffrion Jr.

He Likes To Strike 'Em Out

Well, the 12-year-old St. Rita's School seventh-grader, whose civic-minded dad was killed in an auto accident last December, is going great guns in sportsmanship and pitching departments. Last Sunday he struck out 17 of the 18 putouts and in 28 innings this season has 71 strikeouts. It seems the boy is fulfilling his late father's fondest dreams.

SAN RAFAEL golfer Lou Buecher, a member of the Marin Country Club of Novato, has entered the fourth annual Pat Boone Celebrity Classic golf tourney at Ocean Shores, Wash. June 20, 21, 22. Buecher, a celebrity tourney regular, recently won a top prize in the Daryle Lamonica Invitational and a second place award in the Harrah's Invitational at Tahoe.

WHAT, FOOTBALL already? Yep, Redwood High will conclude its spring practice session with a scrimmage tomorrow, 4 p.m., at the Larkspur school field.

JIMMY UNDERHILL, retiring after a long career of coaching and directing athletics at Santa Rosa High, will be honored at a testimonial dinner tomorrow night at the Rose City's Flamingo Hotel.

Wayne Zahn Leads Pro Bowl Tourney

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — — Wayne Zahn of Tempe, Ariz. held the lead by 82 pins today after 18 games in the $70,000 Smallcomb Enterprises Bowling Classic.

Zahn took over the lead in the six-game afternoon round and maintained it in six games last night.

HAPPY, HOPEFUL ATHLETES

These five Marin County high school track stars look very confident on the eve of their departure to Los Angeles and the state track and field championships tomorrow and Saturday at UCLA. Redwood's relay team of (from left) Rob Williams, Todd Norris, Tom Estudillo and Tom Poppin will be competing in the mile relay and Tamalpais High's Luther Brown (right) will be entered in the 220. Norris will also be competing in the 880-yard run. Redwood track coach Gary Shaw is the one holding the stopwatch and apparently telling the jokes.

Athletics To Begin Road Trip

OAKLAND (UPI) — Maybe a long road trip is what the Oakland Athletics need to shake them out of their doldrums.

The slumping A's, who head for Detroit and a 12-game trip tomorrow, completed a nine-game homestand last night by dropping a 6-1 decision to Tom Phoebus and the Baltimore Orioles.

3-6 RECORD

For the nine games, the A's had a dismal 3-6 record. Overall, Oakland has lost 12 of its last 15 games.

The story yesterday was that the old home run bugaboo returning to haunt Jim Hunter. The young righthander, who was second in gopher balls yielded last season, gave up three—to Don Buford, Boog Powell and Clay Dalrymple—and they raised his total to six given up in the last eight innings.

14 BLASTS

In the 75 innings he's pitched this year, Hunter has been tagged for 14 homers.

Powell also drove in another run and Brooks Robinson accounted for Baltimore's final pair with sacrifice flies.

Phoebus, in upping his record to 6-1, was touched for five hits, all singles, and the run scored off him was unearned.

The loss dropped Oakland 3½ games behind Minnesota in the American League West.

Bitter Clippers Officially Announce They're Leaving

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Clippers have finally called it quits, but not without leveling a blast at the organization that runs soccer in the United States.

The Clippers called a news conference yesterday to confirm what had become obvious for some time—professional soccer couldn't make money in this area. Nearly $1.5 million had been lost in the effort, in fact.

But William Brinton, board member of the Clippers, said attendance was far from the Clippers' only problem.

Constant quarreling with the U.S. Soccer Football Federation and its regional subsidiary, the California Soccer Football Association, rendered much of the Clippers' efforts ineffective, Brinton said.

"It was our lamentable dealings with this governing body," said Brinton, "which was more responsible than any other single factor in compelling (the Clipper ownership) to reluctantly decide to exit from this sports field."

Brinton said the Clippers were investigating the possibility of an anti-trust suit against USSFA which, he said, harassed the team's efforts to schedule and promote its games.

"I don't think USSFA has much money," said Brinton, who is an attorney. "So the suit would be for nominal damages and would try to give the next guys who came along a chance."

The Clippers were narrowly edged for the North American Soccer League Western Division title by San Diego in 1968 and this year dropped out of the NASY because it contained no other West Coast teams.

Playing international competition, the Clippers averaged 5,000 fans a game and turned in a 7-6-2 record.

Tennis World Mourns Rafael Osuna's Death

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Tennis players, officials and fans from the United States, Australia and Europe joined Mexicans today in grieving for Rafael Osuna, who was killed in the crash of a jet plane in Monterrey yesterday.

Osuna, 30, had climaxed a brilliant international career by leading Mexico to a stunning 3-2 triumph over Australia in Davis Cup play concluded on May 25. He had defeated Bill Bowrey and Ray Ruffels in singles, and teamed with Vicente Zarazua to win the doubles and thus eliminate the Australians from cup competition for the first time in 32 years.

Osuna's death destroys any chance Mexico had of gaining the cup, or even of challenging the United States, the current holder. Against Australia, young Joacquin Loyo Mayo lost both his matches to Bowrey and Ruffels, and Zarazua is not noted for his singles play.

OFF TOUR

Osuna had not played the international tour in recent years, accounting for his absence from the current French Open championships. He had been concentrating on his duties with Cigarrera Nacional S.A., an affiliate of the Philip Morris Co.

In New York, Joseph F. Cullman III, chairman of the board of Philip Morris and the general chairman for the U.S. Open at Forest Hills this year, said he was "stunned by the tragic report from Mexico.

HAPLESS EXPOS

Giants Win, Head Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Just when they were beginning to enjoy playing the Montreal Expos, the schedule brought the San Francisco Giants home today for a short step up in competition.

The Giants are off today before entertaining Philadelphia tomorrow night in Candlestick Park, with Gaylord Perry the likely Giants' hurler.

18TH STRAIGHT

The Giants went into Montreal with a five-game losing streak and left with a two-game winning streak after handing the Expos' their 18th straight loss, 8-3, last night.

Philadelphia holds the major league loss record at 23 straight in 1961. The Phillies now are next to last in the National League East while the Expos are on the bottom, 21½ games back.

A five-run uprising in the 4th inning overcame a 3-0 Montreal lead and brought Mike McCormick his third victory against two losses.

ROUGH START

Tagging the veteran southpaw for five hits in the first two innings, the Expos scored twice in the second on pitcher Mike Wegener's single with the bases loaded.

Manny Mota's walk, Rusty Staub's single and Bob Bailey's sacrifice fly brought in the Expos' final run in the third.

With two out in the fourth, the roof fell in for Wegener. He had walked Willie Mays to open the inning before retiring Willie McCovey and Ken Henderson.

BIG INNING

But he walked Dave Marshall and Jack Hiatt singled in a run. Hal Lanier's single brought in another and McCormick scored two with a double. Don Mason's single brought in McCormick.

The Giants added three more in the ninth on singles by Mason, Bob Bonds, Mays and McCovey, and a sacrifice fly by Tito Fuentes.

McCormick held the Expos in check until the ninth, when he was relieved by Frank Linzy.

TROUBLE

"McCormick had a little trouble getting coordinated," said Giants' Manager Clyde King. "Once he got his rhythm, he was okay."

Expos' Manager Gene Mauch said Wegener "was pitching great until the 'murderer's row' of Hiatt, Lanier, McCormick and Mason came up in the fourth."

Pro Golfer Lee Elder Complains Of Racial Taunts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee Elder says there are many Negroes who could be successful on the professional golf tour but they can't get the necessary financial backing.

Elder, one of the few Negroes on the pro tour, also says racial taunts at some of the tournaments he's played in California, Tennessee and Florida has persuaded him to consider bypassing those events.

The 32-year-old Washingtonian definitely will not play in the Monsanto Open in Pensacola, Fla., because, he says, the racial bias by the galleries is the worst he has encountered. The Monsanto tourney formerly was called the Pensacola Open.

"There are lots of Negro players who would do real well on the tour," Elder said in an interview. "I can name a whole list of them, but they don't play because they can't get the backing."

Elder said the golfers on the All-Negro circuit, which he played for 10 years before joining the PGA tour a little over two years ago, might encounter some minor problems because of the courses.

"They don't get an opportunity to play this kind of course on their tour," he said, pointing out over the plush Bethesda Country Club in suburban Maryland where he qualified for the U.S. Open.

"They come off the public courses and see a country club like this and have to face shots they didn't have to before. But it's like everything else, with a little practice they'll come around."

Among the Negro golfers he cited who would do well were:

Mose Brooks and J. W. White of Dallas, Henry Barbarin and James Walker Jr. of Los Angeles, James Mason of Washington, Jimmy Wilburn of Philadelphia and James McMillan of New York.

There are now 10 Negroes who are considered regulars on the PGA pro tour including Charlie Sifford and his nephew, Curtis Sifford; Pete, Cliff and Howard Brown, none related, and George Johnson.

Elder said he plays about 30 tournaments a year but in four or five he has been the target of racial taunts from the galleries.

"I'm tired of being called Nigger or Black Boy," he said. "It's just come to a head. I haven't said anything about this before but I feel I've held it underneath long enough and believe it should come to a head."

"There has been some improvements but some of the places are just as bad as they ever were," he said. "It's really hard for me to play in the South. And California is just as bad in some places.

"Unless things are improved, I'm just going to skip those tournaments," Elder said. "I talked to some of the sponsors at one tournament in California and they said things would be different next year. Well, we'll see. If things haven't improved, I'm just not going to go back."

Monsanto Open officials said yesterday racial slurs which Elder said he received here never were called to their attention.

Magazine Calls 49er Draftee A Sleeper

Running back Eugene Moore, fourth-round choice from Occidental who signed a contract with the San Francisco 49ers yesterday, is featured in this month's issue of Sport Magazine in a story titled: "Ten Sleepers In The Pro Football Draft."

Judging by the Niners' 22-year record of futility, that's what they've been drafting all along — sleepers.

Anyway, former pro great Buddy Young writes in Sports Magazine: "The 49ers have good inside runners in Ken Willard and Gary Lewis, but need somebody who can turn the corner to the outside. Moore can."

MILL VALLEYAN Tony Settember, not to be confused with August Busch, Tuesday Weld, Don January or April in Paris, drove his Class A Sedan to victory last weekend in the 30th annual Santa Barbara Sports Car Races. In overall competition he finished second.

Champ Skiers Get Together

JACQUES TILLEMENT, 23-year-old European and France water ski champion, is a Marin visitor this week, practicing with world champion Mike Suyderhoud of San Anselmo for international competition this summer.

Tillement, from the city of Metz, France near the German border, is staying at Suyderhoud's San Anselmo residence and the two of them are working out daily at Mira Monte Marina north of Novato.

The next big meets on the water ski agenda are the Berkeley championships June 14-15 and the Europe versus The Americans tourney in London June 22 at which this week's roommates will be friendly rivals.

TERRA LINDA southpaw Bill Lee is going great guns in his budding professional career with the Boston Red Sox farm system. In his first seven games for the Pittsfield, Mass. Red Sox of the Eastern-AA League, the ex-Terra Linda High and USC pitching ace compiled a 4-1 won-lost record. In 45 innings he has yielded 34 hits and 23 runs while striking out 32 and posting a nifty 2.20 earned run average.

Guess Who Won The Raffle?

CARL J. BROWN is head basketball and assistant varsity football coach at Drake High School, see? Well, the other night the Drake Benchwarmers Club held a raffle, first prize being an all-expenses paid, three-day vacation in Las Vegas, see.

We wish Coach and Mrs. Brown a happy holiday.

Incidentally, drawing the lucky number out of the barrel was former Drake star Reg Carolan of the Kansas City Chiefs. (Maybe we should wish Brown and Carolan a happy holiday.)

ABOUT A MONTH ago I reported the Fairfax-Sleepy Hollow Little League presented the first annual Dave Geoffrion Memorial Trophy for sportsmanship to a fine young lad named Dave Geoffrion Jr.

He Likes To Strike 'Em Out

Well, the 12-year-old St. Rita's School seventh-grader, whose civic-minded dad was killed in an auto accident last December, is going great guns in sportsmanship and pitching departments. Last Sunday he struck out 17 of the 18 putouts and in 28 innings this season has 71 strikeouts. It seems the boy is fulfilling his late father's fondest dreams.

SAN RAFAEL golfer Lou Buecher, a member of the Marin Country Club of Novato, has entered the fourth annual Pat Boone Celebrity Classic golf tourney at Ocean Shores, Wash. June 20, 21, 22. Buecher, a celebrity tourney regular, recently won a top prize in the Daryle Lamonica Invitational and a second place award in the Harrah's Invitational at Tahoe.

WHAT, FOOTBALL already? Yep, Redwood High will conclude its spring practice session with a scrimmage tomorrow, 4 p.m., at the Larkspur school field.

JIMMY UNDERHILL, retiring after a long career of coaching and directing athletics at Santa Rosa High, will be honored at a testimonial dinner tomorrow night at the Rose City's Flamingo Hotel.

Ace For 11-Year-Old

ELLSWORTH, Kan. (AP) — An 11-year-old boy who has been playing golf about a year, made a hole-in-one at the Ellsworth Country Club yesterday. Matthew Seitz used a three iron to sink his ace on the par 3, 121-yard hole No. 3.

Bitter Clippers Officially Announce They're Leaving

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Clippers have finally called it quits, but not without leveling a blast at the organization that runs soccer in the United States.

The Clippers called a news conference yesterday to confirm what had become obvious for some time—professional soccer couldn't make money in this area. Nearly $1.5 million had been lost in the effort, in fact.

But William Brinton, board member of the Clippers, said attendance was far from the Clippers' only problem.

Constant quarreling with the U.S. Soccer Football Federation and its regional subsidiary, the California Soccer Football Association, rendered much of the Clippers' efforts ineffective, Brinton said.

"It was our lamentable dealings with this governing body," said Brinton, "which was more responsible than any other single factor in compelling (the Clipper ownership) to reluctantly decide to exit from this sports field."

Brinton said the Clippers were investigating the possibility of an anti-trust suit against USSFA which, he said, harassed the team's efforts to schedule and promote its games.

"I don't think USSFA has much money," said Brinton, who is an attorney. "So the suit would be for nominal damages and would try to give the next guys who came along a chance."

The Clippers were narrowly edged for the North American Soccer League Western Division title by San Diego in 1968 and this year dropped out of the NASY because it contained no other West Coast teams.

Playing international competition, the Clippers averaged 5,000 fans a game and turned in a 7-6-2 record.

Tennis World Mourns Rafael Osuna's Death

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Tennis players, officials and fans from the United States, Australia and Europe joined Mexicans today in grieving for Rafael Osuna, who was killed in the crash of a jet plane in Monterrey yesterday.

Osuna, 30, had climaxed a brilliant international career by leading Mexico to a stunning 3-2 triumph over Australia in Davis Cup play concluded on May 25. He had defeated Bill Bowrey and Ray Ruffels in singles, and teamed with Vicente Zarazua to win the doubles and thus eliminate the Australians from cup competition for the first time in 32 years.

Osuna's death destroys any chance Mexico had of gaining the cup, or even of challenging the United States, the current holder. Against Australia, young Joacquin Loyo Mayo lost both his matches to Bowrey and Ruffels, and Zarazua is not noted for his singles play.

OFF TOUR

Osuna had not played the international tour in recent years, accounting for his absence from the current French Open championships. He had been concentrating on his duties with Cigarrera Nacional S.A., an affiliate of the Philip Morris Co.

In New York, Joseph F. Cullman III, chairman of the board of Philip Morris and the general chairman for the U.S. Open at Forest Hills this year, said he was "stunned by the tragic report from Mexico.

HAPLESS EXPOS

Giants Win, Head Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Just when they were beginning to enjoy playing the Montreal Expos, the schedule brought the San Francisco Giants home today for a short step up in competition.

The Giants are off today before entertaining Philadelphia tomorrow night in Candlestick Park, with Gaylord Perry the likely Giants' hurler.

18TH STRAIGHT

The Giants went into Montreal with a five-game losing streak and left with a two-game winning streak after handing the Expos' their 18th straight loss, 8-3, last night.

Philadelphia holds the major league loss record at 23 straight in 1961. The Phillies now are next to last in the National League East while the Expos are on the bottom, 21½ games back.

A five-run uprising in the 4th inning overcame a 3-0 Montreal lead and brought Mike McCormick his third victory against two losses.

ROUGH START

Tagging the veteran southpaw for five hits in the first two innings, the Expos scored twice in the second on pitcher Mike Wegener's single with the bases loaded.

Manny Mota's walk, Rusty Staub's single and Bob Bailey's sacrifice fly brought in the Expos' final run in the third.

With two out in the fourth, the roof fell in for Wegener. He had walked Willie Mays to open the inning before retiring Willie McCovey and Ken Henderson.

BIG INNING

But he walked Dave Marshall and Jack Hiatt singled in a run. Hal Lanier's single brought in another and McCormick scored two with a double. Don Mason's single brought in McCormick.

The Giants added three more in the ninth on singles by Mason, Bob Bonds, Mays and McCovey, and a sacrifice fly by Tito Fuentes.

McCormick held the Expos in check until the ninth, when he was relieved by Frank Linzy.

TROUBLE

"McCormick had a little trouble getting coordinated," said Giants' Manager Clyde King. "Once he got his rhythm, he was okay."

Expos' Manager Gene Mauch said Wegener "was pitching great until the 'murderer's row' of Hiatt, Lanier, McCormick and Mason came up in the fourth."

Cal Bears Have Yen, Still Need Dollars

—You may recall in our last episode of My Son, The Pitcher, the Cal Bears baseball players were getting ready to play the Oakland A's for the funds that would take them on a tour of Japan.

For those of you good enough to ask for a progress report, this is to reassure you that everything is going snidely. Everything is peaches and ketchup. Communist China should have it so good.

IN THE first place, several people showed up for that Cal-Oakland game — most of them wearing cleats. I've seen more people at a burglary. The public address announcer didn't say "Dear Sir," but the game needed a laugh track for television. It was Bat Night. Not the wooden kind, the winged kind.

IT WASN'T the kids' fault. They sold tickets. But it turned out to be the night of the seventh game of the Lakers-Celtics on TV and the Oakland A's couldn't buck that competition if they were playing the 1927 Yankees.

THE KIDS found the Oakland A's had muscled up considerably since they played them last year and it was a good thing they weren't paying for the baseballs. My son pitched well. Nobody got on base against him, most of them because they coundn't find the ball, but two of them because WE couldn't find the ball. Still, I've seen Jackson and Monday hit 'em out against $100,000 pitchers. In the immortal words of Billy Loes, who was jumped by the manager because Henry Aaron hit a homer off him, "That's what they pay him for, ain't it?"

Anyway, the Cal athletic department began to go around to Old Blues in the alumni for funds for baseball in Japan. I mean, guys throw money out of the windows for football but, for baseball, you got to go with your hat in your hand. Baseball is the orphan of major college sports.

STILL, THEY would have made it all right. Only, all of a sudden, there was that smoke in the sky again in Berkeley. Another beer hall putsch.

Abruptly, the only way a guy could solicit funds for Berkeley was not a gun. Industrialists, lawyers, doctors and organizations which had run to the bank before to help "The Big U" suggested icily, "Why don't you take your SOS to the SDS? The last contribution I made, they're throwing bricks through."

THE JAPANESE Baseball Assn., which had issued the invitation, had ponied up a million yen (or maybe it was a billion — Japan is the only place where, if you say, "I have a yen for you," the person is insulted); it had the stadia ready, the lodging, the games. All Cal had to do was get there. But they're waiting at the dock.

It is time for the cavalry. Ed Pauley, oilman, one-time economics prof who played tackle for Cal, is riding up the draw. So are Jonie Taps and Mike Frankovich and their Friars' Club. But we're still $8,000 short. The oil companies are being pumped. Bob Hope is being paged. Has anybody here seen Crosby? Come in, please, Frank. Lordy, wish Spence Tracy were still with us.

"AW," YOU SAY, "he's doing it for his kid." Well, there's nothing wrong with that but, no, I'm not. I'm doing it for 20 kids. In a sense, I'm doing it for 20,000. The innocent are the first victims of any revolution, good or bad. There are 20,000 kids up at Berkeley caught waiting at the dock. I'll help them out any way I can, too.

Iowa Schoolgirl Arrives In S.F. To Play Basketball

Denise Long To Talk Shop With Mieuli

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "The first thing I thought when I heard I'd been drafted," says Denise Long, "was, 'Do I have to play?' I thought it was like the Army."

After she learned that the choice was strictly hers and that being drafted by the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association was something more than just a publicity gimmick, Denise got intrigued by the idea of playing professional basketball.

So yesterday she arrived in San Francisco to see if maybe she could play and go to college at the same time.

COLLEGE TOUR

Warriors' owner Franklin Mieuli was in Detroit at National Basketball Association meetings when Denise, her parents and sister arrived, but he is due back today and has promised to take her for a look at several Bay Area colleges.

If she can find one she likes and if she and Mieuli can agree to terms, she could be the mainstay of a girls' league that'd play before the Warriors' regular games next season.

Averaging 69 points per game during her senior year in high school in Whitten, Iowa, Denise had her fill of basketball and was thinking about giving it up.

PRESSURE

"It wasn't as much fun anymore," she said, "there was more pressure. I was getting sick of it. But when I got drafted the enthusiasm sprung up a little. I think people are going to be interested in girls' basketball."

Denise is 18, stands 5-feet-11 and is a bright and lively girl whose pictures somehow seem not to do her justice. A trip to New York and an appearance on the Johnny Carson show made her nervous, she said, but she enjoyed meeting Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey, Bob Hope and especially Robert Wagner.

"He's a real cutie," she said.

After she had heard the Warriors had drafted her, Denise said she thought it was a joke.

"I've had people come up to me and say, "Denise, someday you'll be playing against Wilt Chamberlain," and 'Someday, you'll be drafted by the Boston Celtics.'

"I knew I could never play against men," she said, "But when they said it was a girls' league, then I thought it would go. Girls' basketball shouldn't be thought of as any less feminine than ice skating."

Cubs, Mets Continue Their Red-Hot Pace

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Chicago Cubs, leaders of the Eastern Division of the National League from the first day of the season, continue to ride the hot bats of Randy Hundley and Ernie Banks while their nearest competitors, the New York Mets, surge to the top of the standings behind razor-sharp pitching.

The Cubs won their seventh straight game yesterday with Hundley's three-run homer the key blow in a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros. Banks drove in two runs with a homer and a single as Chicago maintained its 8½-game lead over the surprising Mets.

New York got a combined 15-inning shutout from rookie Jack DiLauro, Tug McGraw and Ron Taylor as the Mets ran their winning streak to seven games with a 1-0 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers. The seven consecutive victories tie the longest Met winning streak in their eight-year history.

In other National League action, San Francisco defeated Montreal, 8-3, Cincinnati downed Pittsburgh, 5-3, San Diego blanked Philadelphia 3-0 and St. Louis edged Atlanta, 4-3.

Montreal blew a 3-0 lead as it went down to their 18th loss in a row to set an expansion club record for consecutive defeats. The Mets held the previous record of 17. Winning pitcher Mike McCormick doubled home two runs to highlight the five-run Giant fourth and the Expos never caught up.

Dick Kelley doubled home two runs in the ninth but needed relief help in the bottom of the inning as the Padres won their sixth straight game. Jack Baldschun and Billy McCool came in to end the Phillies threat.

Bob Gibson fanned Clete Boyer with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to preserve his seventh victory of the season. Vada Pinson knocked in the winning run with an eighth inning single.

43 Horses Die In Fire At Saratoga

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Forty-three harness racing horses perished early today when fire raged through a large barn at Saratoga Race Track.

Track officials said one horse, Adio Bet, escaped by kicking open his stall door. Attempts to save other horses were unsuccessful.

Among the horses killed was the filly Jostle, valued at more than $100,000. Jostle reached the national standings two years ago as a 2-year-old.

A groom, Joe Huska, was in the large wood barn and discovered the fire about 4 a.m. He attempted to get three horses out of their stalls, but was unable to do so.

Huska and a track guard then called firemen and concentrated on preventing the spread of the flames.

Thomas, the 49ers' sixth-choice from Texas-Arlington, is 6-1, 216. Both are speedy runners, according to scouting reports.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Carew Is Quite A Home Stealer

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota Manager Billy Martin says stealing home is not a forgotten art, but American League pitchers are having trouble getting the picture where Rod Carew is concerned.

The Twins' second baseman swiped home for the fifth time in five attempts this season in Minnesota's 4-2 victory over the New York Yankees last night and closed in on a couple of records. He also rapped out three hits and raised his major league-leading average to .399.

Elsewhere, Baltimore trounced Oakland 6-1, Detroit nipped California 5-4 in 10 innings, Cleveland pounded Seattle 10-4 and Washington beat Kansas City 3-1. In the only afternoon action, the Chicago White Sox hammered Boston 7-2.

TRIPLE STEAL

Carew doubled in the sixth and eventually scored the winning run on Graig Nettles' sacrifice fly and stole home with an insurance run in the eighth on the front end of a triple steal against Lindy McDaniel.

"Martin tells me to watch the pitcher when I get on third," said Carew, who has stolen only 10 bases all-told. "Watch his windup, his timing. The slide is important, too. But I can't tell you all my secrets because I might get caught."

The American League record for stealing home in one season is six by Detroit's Ty Cobb in 1915 and Cleveland's Bob Roth in 1917. Pete Reiser of Brooklyn set the major league mark with seven in 1946.

Leo Cardenas and Ted Uhlaender singled in the first two Minnesota runs in the fifth and reliever Ron Perranoski picked up his 12th save by halting a bases-loaded threat in the eighth as the Twins increased their lead in the American League West to 3½ games over Oakland. Bill Robinson homered for the Yankees.

Al Kaline drove in Detroit's first four runs with a double, infield out and sacrifice fly and then singled in the 10th inning to set up the winner as the Tigers ended a three-game losing streak. Pinch runner Dick Tracewski stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored on Bill Freehan's infield single.

Lee Maye doubled home a pair of runs and Tony Horton singled in two more in a five-run Cleveland fifth against Seattle. Vern Fuller homered in the ninth for the Indians, Sam McDowell struck out 10 Pilots in 7 1-3 innings and reliever Stan Williams fanned three more.

RBI SINGLES

Ken McMullen and Bernie Allen stroked run-scoring singles after Frank Howard's double and an intentional walk to Mike Epstein in the sixth inning as Washington beat Kansas City behind Joe Coleman's first complete game since April 9. Epstein hit his 13th homer in the fourth.

Cal Bears Have Yen, Still Need Dollars

—You may recall in our last episode of My Son, The Pitcher, the Cal Bears baseball players were getting ready to play the Oakland A's for the funds that would take them on a tour of Japan.

For those of you good enough to ask for a progress report, this is to reassure you that everything is going snidely. Everything is peaches and ketchup. Communist China should have it so good.

IN THE first place, several people showed up for that Cal-Oakland game — most of them wearing cleats. I've seen more people at a burglary. The public address announcer didn't say "Dear Sir," but the game needed a laugh track for television. It was Bat Night. Not the wooden kind, the winged kind.

IT WASN'T the kids' fault. They sold tickets. But it turned out to be the night of the seventh game of the Lakers-Celtics on TV and the Oakland A's couldn't buck that competition if they were playing the 1927 Yankees.

THE KIDS found the Oakland A's had muscled up considerably since they played them last year and it was a good thing they weren't paying for the baseballs. My son pitched well. Nobody got on base against him, most of them because they coundn't find the ball, but two of them because WE couldn't find the ball. Still, I've seen Jackson and Monday hit 'em out against $100,000 pitchers. In the immortal words of Billy Loes, who was jumped by the manager because Henry Aaron hit a homer off him, "That's what they pay him for, ain't it?"

Anyway, the Cal athletic department began to go around to Old Blues in the alumni for funds for baseball in Japan. I mean, guys throw money out of the windows for football but, for baseball, you got to go with your hat in your hand. Baseball is the orphan of major college sports.

STILL, THEY would have made it all right. Only, all of a sudden, there was that smoke in the sky again in Berkeley. Another beer hall putsch.

Abruptly, the only way a guy could solicit funds for Berkeley was not a gun. Industrialists, lawyers, doctors and organizations which had run to the bank before to help "The Big U" suggested icily, "Why don't you take your SOS to the SDS? The last contribution I made, they're throwing bricks through."

THE JAPANESE Baseball Assn., which had issued the invitation, had ponied up a million yen (or maybe it was a billion — Japan is the only place where, if you say, "I have a yen for you," the person is insulted); it had the stadia ready, the lodging, the games. All Cal had to do was get there. But they're waiting at the dock.

It is time for the cavalry. Ed Pauley, oilman, one-time economics prof who played tackle for Cal, is riding up the draw. So are Jonie Taps and Mike Frankovich and their Friars' Club. But we're still $8,000 short. The oil companies are being pumped. Bob Hope is being paged. Has anybody here seen Crosby? Come in, please, Frank. Lordy, wish Spence Tracy were still with us.

"AW," YOU SAY, "he's doing it for his kid." Well, there's nothing wrong with that but, no, I'm not. I'm doing it for 20 kids. In a sense, I'm doing it for 20,000. The innocent are the first victims of any revolution, good or bad. There are 20,000 kids up at Berkeley caught waiting at the dock. I'll help them out any way I can, too.

Iowa Schoolgirl Arrives In S.F. To Play Basketball

Denise Long To Talk Shop With Mieuli

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "The first thing I thought when I heard I'd been drafted," says Denise Long, "was, 'Do I have to play?' I thought it was like the Army."

After she learned that the choice was strictly hers and that being drafted by the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association was something more than just a publicity gimmick, Denise got intrigued by the idea of playing professional basketball.

So yesterday she arrived in San Francisco to see if maybe she could play and go to college at the same time.

COLLEGE TOUR

Warriors' owner Franklin Mieuli was in Detroit at National Basketball Association meetings when Denise, her parents and sister arrived, but he is due back today and has promised to take her for a look at several Bay Area colleges.

If she can find one she likes and if she and Mieuli can agree to terms, she could be the mainstay of a girls' league that'd play before the Warriors' regular games next season.

Averaging 69 points per game during her senior year in high school in Whitten, Iowa, Denise had her fill of basketball and was thinking about giving it up.

PRESSURE

"It wasn't as much fun anymore," she said, "there was more pressure. I was getting sick of it. But when I got drafted the enthusiasm sprung up a little. I think people are going to be interested in girls' basketball."

Denise is 18, stands 5-feet-11 and is a bright and lively girl whose pictures somehow seem not to do her justice. A trip to New York and an appearance on the Johnny Carson show made her nervous, she said, but she enjoyed meeting Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey, Bob Hope and especially Robert Wagner.

"He's a real cutie," she said.

After she had heard the Warriors had drafted her, Denise said she thought it was a joke.

"I've had people come up to me and say, "Denise, someday you'll be playing against Wilt Chamberlain," and 'Someday, you'll be drafted by the Boston Celtics.'

"I knew I could never play against men," she said, "But when they said it was a girls' league, then I thought it would go. Girls' basketball shouldn't be thought of as any less feminine than ice skating."

Cubs, Mets Continue Their Red-Hot Pace

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Chicago Cubs, leaders of the Eastern Division of the National League from the first day of the season, continue to ride the hot bats of Randy Hundley and Ernie Banks while their nearest competitors, the New York Mets, surge to the top of the standings behind razor-sharp pitching.

The Cubs won their seventh straight game yesterday with Hundley's three-run homer the key blow in a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros. Banks drove in two runs with a homer and a single as Chicago maintained its 8½-game lead over the surprising Mets.

New York got a combined 15-inning shutout from rookie Jack DiLauro, Tug McGraw and Ron Taylor as the Mets ran their winning streak to seven games with a 1-0 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers. The seven consecutive victories tie the longest Met winning streak in their eight-year history.

In other National League action, San Francisco defeated Montreal, 8-3, Cincinnati downed Pittsburgh, 5-3, San Diego blanked Philadelphia 3-0 and St. Louis edged Atlanta, 4-3.

Montreal blew a 3-0 lead as it went down to their 18th loss in a row to set an expansion club record for consecutive defeats. The Mets held the previous record of 17. Winning pitcher Mike McCormick doubled home two runs to highlight the five-run Giant fourth and the Expos never caught up.

Dick Kelley doubled home two runs in the ninth but needed relief help in the bottom of the inning as the Padres won their sixth straight game. Jack Baldschun and Billy McCool came in to end the Phillies threat.

Bob Gibson fanned Clete Boyer with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to preserve his seventh victory of the season. Vada Pinson knocked in the winning run with an eighth inning single.

Hurlers Sent Down

MONTREAL (AP)—The Montreal Expos of the National League announced last night that relief pitchers Carroll Sembera and Steve Shea have been assigned to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League.

43 Horses Die In Fire At Saratoga

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Forty-three harness racing horses perished early today when fire raged through a large barn at Saratoga Race Track.

Track officials said one horse, Adio Bet, escaped by kicking open his stall door. Attempts to save other horses were unsuccessful.

Among the horses killed was the filly Jostle, valued at more than $100,000. Jostle reached the national standings two years ago as a 2-year-old.

A groom, Joe Huska, was in the large wood barn and discovered the fire about 4 a.m. He attempted to get three horses out of their stalls, but was unable to do so.

Huska and a track guard then called firemen and concentrated on preventing the spread of the flames.

TENNIS

MANCHESTER, England—Clark Graebner, the top seed from New York, defeated Onnie Parun, New Zealand, 6-4, 6-3, in the second round of the North of England Tournament.

PARIS — Mrs. Lesley Bowrey, Australia, beat Mrs. Billie Jean King, Long Beach, 6-3, 6-3 and Mrs. Ann Jones, Britain, whipped Rosemary Casals, San Francisco, 6-2, 6-0 in the quarter-finals of the French Open Championships.

GOLF

RYE, N.Y. — Bill Scott Jr. of San Francisco, won the U.S. Seniors Golf Association Championship with a second-round 74 and a final 36-hole total of 143.

FOOTBALL

NEW YORK—Placekickers in pro football could use only kicking shoes available for general purchase in sporting goods stores under recommendation submitted for approval to NFL and AFL owners.

49ers Sign Two

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Running backs Eugene Moore and Jimmy Thomas have been signed to contracts by the San Francisco 49ers, the club announced yesterday.

Moore, the National Football League team's fourth draft choice, is from Occidental College in Los Angeles. He is 6-foot-1 and weighs 200 pounds.

Thomas, the 49ers' sixth-choice from Texas-Arlington, is 6-1, 216. Both are speedy runners, according to scouting reports.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Carew Is Quite A Home Stealer

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota Manager Billy Martin says stealing home is not a forgotten art, but American League pitchers are having trouble getting the picture where Rod Carew is concerned.

The Twins' second baseman swiped home for the fifth time in five attempts this season in Minnesota's 4-2 victory over the New York Yankees last night and closed in on a couple of records. He also rapped out three hits and raised his major league-leading average to .399.

Elsewhere, Baltimore trounced Oakland 6-1, Detroit nipped California 5-4 in 10 innings, Cleveland pounded Seattle 10-4 and Washington beat Kansas City 3-1. In the only afternoon action, the Chicago White Sox hammered Boston 7-2.

TRIPLE STEAL

Carew doubled in the sixth and eventually scored the winning run on Graig Nettles' sacrifice fly and stole home with an insurance run in the eighth on the front end of a triple steal against Lindy McDaniel.

"Martin tells me to watch the pitcher when I get on third," said Carew, who has stolen only 10 bases all-told. "Watch his windup, his timing. The slide is important, too. But I can't tell you all my secrets because I might get caught."

The American League record for stealing home in one season is six by Detroit's Ty Cobb in 1915 and Cleveland's Bob Roth in 1917. Pete Reiser of Brooklyn set the major league mark with seven in 1946.

Leo Cardenas and Ted Uhlaender singled in the first two Minnesota runs in the fifth and reliever Ron Perranoski picked up his 12th save by halting a bases-loaded threat in the eighth as the Twins increased their lead in the American League West to 3½ games over Oakland. Bill Robinson homered for the Yankees.

Al Kaline drove in Detroit's first four runs with a double, infield out and sacrifice fly and then singled in the 10th inning to set up the winner as the Tigers ended a three-game losing streak. Pinch runner Dick Tracewski stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored on Bill Freehan's infield single.

Lee Maye doubled home a pair of runs and Tony Horton singled in two more in a five-run Cleveland fifth against Seattle. Vern Fuller homered in the ninth for the Indians, Sam McDowell struck out 10 Pilots in 7 1-3 innings and reliever Stan Williams fanned three more.

RBI SINGLES

Ken McMullen and Bernie Allen stroked run-scoring singles after Frank Howard's double and an intentional walk to Mike Epstein in the sixth inning as Washington beat Kansas City behind Joe Coleman's first complete game since April 9. Epstein hit his 13th homer in the fourth.

GOLF NOTES

Tam Team Awaits Tourney Results

Paul Wata, coach of the Tamalpais High School golf team, is still waiting for official word on just how his boys did last Thursday in the Bay Area Tournament of Champions at Lake Chabot Golf Club, Oakland.

He knows his Indians didn't win, but he doesn't know where they placed among the 27 schools competing.

Skyline High School of Oakland and Fortuna High tied at 368, with Skyline winning the playoff. Tam's five golfers finished 14 strokes back at 382. Par score would have been 360.

Wata said Piedmont High School's Jack Stack, golf coach and tourney director, hasn't sent out official results of the tournament yet. "But I think we'll finish in the top 10," he added.

Individual scores for the Marin team were Wayne Smith, 72; Steve Goldfien, 75; Jeff Devoto, 75; Craig Smith, 80, and Dean Rider, 80.

MARIN COUNTY CLUB golfers are getting ready for the first and second rounds of the President's Cup Tournament scheduled Saturday and Sunday on the Novato club's links. Pat Niles, Bernard Varney, Armand Cueva and Jim Alexander teamed up to score 54 and win last weekend's best ball foursome tourney at Marin C.C. Second place went to the team of Sil DeMaestri, Frank Conti, Ross MacKay and Al Shaddy.

MEADOW CLUB of Fairfax will be hosting the Marin County Tournament of Champions this year, but date has yet to be set. It will be the third annual event, the first two tourneys at Novato's Indian Valley and San Geronimo National courses. Host site is on a revolving basis.

Winners of the first two events were George Scherba of Indian Valley club in 1967 and Russ Adams of the Mill Valley club in 1968.

The second annual Marin Women's T of C. is set in August at San Geronimo. Mrs. William May won the crown last year.

BOWLING TIPS

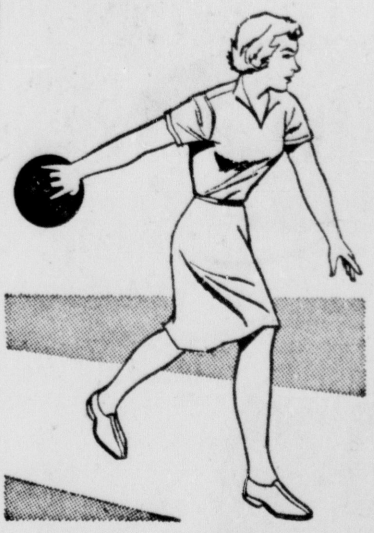
By MARION LADEWIG



It is always better to have a too-short backswing than one that "reaches the ceiling." Actually the best backswing for a woman, who wants control in her delivery, is probably slightly less than shoulder-high, but there are many excellent bowlers who swing back even less than that.

Police Schedule 'Shoot For Fun'

San Rafael Police Association will hold a "Shoot for Fun" event the next two weekends at the Police Pistol Range on Irene Street, off Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

The shoot will be held Saturday and Sunday, and the following weekend, June 14-15 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and is open to the public.

Main event will be the shotgun event, with competitors shooting at clay pigeons for points, redeemable for prizes. There also will be events for pistol and 22 caliber rifle.

Proceeds will go to assist the San Rafael Police Pistol team.

Jack Nicklaus Doesn't Like Favorite Role

MIDLOTHIAN, Ill. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus ranked among the favorites—but didn't want the role—when he set out in defense of his Western Open Golf Tournament title today.

"I don't think you can really pick one man and make him a favorite" the Ohio strongboy said. "Any one of 40 or 50 players could win it. There's just too many good golfers out there to make a choice.

"Of course," he added, "there always are certain players you have to figure you have to beat."

CASPER

He didn't name any names, but Bill Casper, twice a U.S. Open champion, winner of more than $205,000 last year, quickly took himself out of that category.

"I'm just not playing well at all right now," said Casper, who almost had to pull out because of another in a series of allergy attacks.

"I don't feel well at all," Casper said.

RESTING

Nicklaus, the 210-pound Golden Bear who has won all the world's major titles and champion of the last two Westerns, also has had some minor problems lately.

"I've just been resting most of the time," said Nicklaus, among the last in the classy field of 143 to tee off in the first round of the 72-hole tourney on the 6,654-yard, par 71 Midlothian Country Club course.

FRAZIER'S VERBAL ATTACK

Mild Reaction From Clay

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Frazier's verbal attack on Cassius Clay has brought a mild reaction from the former heavyweight champion, but Angelo Dundee, Clay's manager and trainer, says Frazier "couldn't lick one half of Clay."

Frazier, recognized as heavyweight champion in six states, called Clay a "big phony' 'and a "disgrace" among other things.

"That's pretty strong talk," Clay said in Houston where he is seeking dismissal of his conviction for refusing induction into military service. "Let him keep talking. All I've got to say is before he can talk about me, he has to get by Quarry."

Frazier made the remarks at Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., where he is training for a June 23 title defense against Jerry Quarry.

Seeing the remarks in Miami, Dundee telephoned The Associated Press and criticized Frazier.

GOLF NOTES

Tam Team Awaits Tourney Results

Paul Wata, coach of the Tamalpais High School golf team, is still waiting for official word on just how his boys did last Thursday in the Bay Area Tournament of Champions at Lake Chabot Golf Club, Oakland.

He knows his Indians didn't win, but he doesn't know where they placed among the 27 schools competing.

Skyline High School of Oakland and Fortuna High tied at 368, with Skyline winning the playoff. Tam's five golfers finished 14 strokes back at 382. Par score would have been 360.

Wata said Piedmont High School's Jack Stack, golf coach and tourney director, hasn't sent out official results of the tournament yet. "But I think we'll finish in the top 10," he added.

Individual scores for the Marin team were Wayne Smith, 72; Steve Goldfien, 75; Jeff Devoto, 75; Craig Smith, 80, and Dean Rider, 80.

MARIN COUNTY CLUB golfers are getting ready for the first and second rounds of the President's Cup Tournament scheduled Saturday and Sunday on the Novato club's links. Pat Niles, Bernard Varney, Armand Cueva and Jim Alexander teamed up to score 54 and win last weekend's best ball foursome tourney at Marin C.C. Second place went to the team of Sil DeMaestri, Frank Conti, Ross MacKay and Al Shaddy.

MEADOW CLUB of Fairfax will be hosting the Marin County Tournament of Champions this year, but date has yet to be set. It will be the third annual event, the first two tourneys at Novato's Indian Valley and San Geronimo National courses. Host site is on a revolving basis.

Winners of the first two events were George Scherba of Indian Valley club in 1967 and Russ Adams of the Mill Valley club in 1968.

The second annual Marin Women's T of C. is set in August at San Geronimo. Mrs. William May won the crown last year.

Bill Ranney of Fairfax will be out to defend his title in the Petaluma Jaycees 13th annual Walkathon from Petaluma to Sonoma Saturday.

According to race officials, more than 500 walkers are expected to compete in 12 different categories — boys, girls, young and old. Persons under 18 must have written consent from a parent or guardian.

The starting line will be the Safeway parking lot in Petaluma, with the finish in the main part of Sonoma.

Raiders Sign Two Rookie Draft Picks

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders announced today the signing of two rookies, Alvin Presnell of Alabama A&M and Billy Austin of Arkansas AM&N.

The American Football League club said Presnall, the team's 15th draft choice, would be tried at fullback and Austin, 17th pick, would work out at tight end.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, June 5, the 156th day of 1969 with 209 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1917 more than 9.5 million American men between the ages of 21 and 30 began registering for the World War I draft.

In 1933 President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed a bill abolishing the gold standard.

In 1966 astronaut Gene Cernan left Gemini-9 for a two-hour, 10-minute "spacewalk."

In 1968 Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot and fatally wounded in Los Angeles by an Arab.

A thought for the day: President Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "There is no indispensable man."

Santa Venetia Graduation Set

The Santa Venetia band and orchestra will play.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Repeated Leads Of Side Suit Damages Strong Trump Suit

It is well known that little drops of water will wear away the hardest stone. This applies to bridge, where repeated leads of a side suit will wear away even the strongest trump suit. You can defend yourself against this kind of erosion by coming in out of the rain.

DIAMOND LEAD

South ruffed the first heart with the eight of spades, led a diamond to dummy and returned the singleton trump to try a finesse with the nine. West won with the queen of spades and led another heart, forcing South to ruff with the ten.

By this time South's magnificent trump suit was reduced to three cards, and he had to use all of them to draw West's trumps. When West took the ace of clubs, he ran the rest of his hearts, and South was down three.

South should have made the contract by refusing to allow all those drops of water to wear away his trump suit. After ruffing the first heart, South should lead the ace and king of spades and then abandon the trump suit.

UNBLOCKS CLUBS

South leads a low club and plays dummy's queen under West's ace. West leads another heart, and now South and West each have only two trumps.

Declarer must not lead a trump to force out the queen because West would then return a heart to make South use up his last trump. Instead, South simply leads a club to the king and continues the clubs, allowing West to ruff with the four.

West returns a heart, and South ruffs with the ten. Declarer then goes back to the clubs, and West can get only his queen of trumps. South regains the lead with the jack of trumps to take the rest of the tricks.

South can manage to stay one trump ahead of West as long as he doesn't greedily try to limit the trump loss to one trick.

DAILY QUESTION

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

You don't have quite as many high-card points as you should have for a normal opening bid, but you should not pass this magnificent playing hand.

Parochial School Sets Graduation Rite

Thirty-seven eighth grade pupils will participate in graduation ceremonies following a 3 p.m. Mass Sunday at Mount Carmel Parochial School in Mill Valley.

Father John P. Penebsky, assistant pastor of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church, will deliver the commencement address and Father John J. O'Brien, church pastor, will hand out the diplomas.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Repeated Leads Of Side Suit Damages Strong Trump Suit

It is well known that little drops of water will wear away the hardest stone. This applies to bridge, where repeated leads of a side suit will wear away even the strongest trump suit. You can defend yourself against this kind of erosion by coming in out of the rain.

DIAMOND LEAD

South ruffed the first heart with the eight of spades, led a diamond to dummy and returned the singleton trump to try a finesse with the nine. West won with the queen of spades and led another heart, forcing South to ruff with the ten.

By this time South's magnificent trump suit was reduced to three cards, and he had to use all of them to draw West's trumps. When West took the ace of clubs, he ran the rest of his hearts, and South was down three.

South should have made the contract by refusing to allow all those drops of water to wear away his trump suit. After ruffing the first heart, South should lead the ace and king of spades and then abandon the trump suit.

UNBLOCKS CLUBS

South leads a low club and plays dummy's queen under West's ace. West leads another heart, and now South and West each have only two trumps.

Declarer must not lead a trump to force out the queen because West would then return a heart to make South use up his last trump. Instead, South simply leads a club to the king and continues the clubs, allowing West to ruff with the four.

West returns a heart, and South ruffs with the ten. Declarer then goes back to the clubs, and West can get only his queen of trumps. South regains the lead with the jack of trumps to take the rest of the tricks.

South can manage to stay one trump ahead of West as long as he doesn't greedily try to limit the trump loss to one trick.

DAILY QUESTION

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

You don't have quite as many high-card points as you should have for a normal opening bid, but you should not pass this magnificent playing hand.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Space-Age Optical, Electronics Firm Has Arrived At Northgate

A new business opened at 4380 Redwood Highway, in the Margarita Plaza at the entrance of Northgate Industrial Park is Optoelectronics, Inc.

In the words of the president of the company, Robert A. Bell, it was established "... for the research, development and fabrication of sophisticated infrared sensors and related components." Initial output of infrared sensors will be for governmental agencies, but according to Bell they will also have application to the field of medical diagnosis.

Present offices will be used for engineering. And an additional 2,500 square feet will be taken nearby for temporary research and development laboratories. Another facility later will house the permanent laboratories and a fabrication plant.

Principals in the corporation with Bell are Jack Long, manager of sensor engineering; Herschel Cozine, manager of thin film devices; and Francis Rigoli, director of marketing and operations, Bell, Long and Rigoli are from Santa Barbara; Cozine is from Oregon. All are experienced in their field of work. The company has three other employees and expects to acquire additional local personnel as activities increase.

FIRST RESIDENTS have started moving into the $10 million Tamalpais retirement apartments in Greenbrae and more are expected to continue coming in throughout the summer. First vanload of goods was for Mrs. Marguerite Goyun of San Francisco, mother-in-law of Judge Harry J. Neubarth, who lives in Kent Woodlands.

The luxury retirement structure contains 279 studio, one and two-bedroom apartments, and according to the management, three out of four of them have been taken. Facilities include a formal dining room seating 300, a 55-bed hospital, maid service, lounges on each floor, a theater and library. Landscaping around the buildings is in progress. Extensive recreational programming is being planned.

An open house is scheduled for late this month and formal dedication ceremonies will be held in the fall.

READY FOR OCCUPANCY — A few of the apartments in the Tamalpais retirement residence in Greenbrae have started lighting up at night, but in this scene they are outdone by the dramatic lighting on the circular three-story structure which contains the dining rooms, kitchen, hospital auditorium. Residents will be moving in the main towers throughout the summer.

Wall Street Jitters On Brisk Trade

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks closed irregularly lower today, with declines topping advances by almost 100 issues. Trading was fairly active.

The fourth consecutive decline this week again reflected the threat of a boost in the prime lending rate from a record high of 7.5 per cent, and uncertainty over Vietnam peace prospects.

Department stores were irregular. Sears Roebuck and J.C. Penney both reported higher sales.

Steels generally edged upward following some price hikes on steel plates and structural shapes.

Superior was on the uptrack in the oils after sliding 4 in the previous session. Standard of Ohio backed off. The issue jumped 25 Wednesday. It has announced plans to merge with BP Oil Co., a unit of British Petroleum traded on the American Stock Exchange.

Motors tended easier following plans for reduced production schedules this week. Sales in the final 10 days of May declined.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Glue Firm Offers Promising Future

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Our son will graudate from engineering college shortly and we would like to make him a gift of a growth stock. What stock would you recommend? — J. J.

A. As an engineer, your son probably will appreciate the potentials of H. B. Fuller Co., maker of over 4,000 adhesive products. Although incorporated in 1915, the company went public only a year ago. Since 1963, sales have more than doubled, while profits have been reported annually. Earnings last year at $1.10 a share showed a 35 per cent gain year to year. First-quarter results of 30 cents were double those a year earlier on a 16 per cent gain in sales.

This company's adhesives, coatings and polymers have numerous applications including an epoxy bead used on all NHL hockey sticks and for laminating cooking pouches for packaging frozen foods. Although 92 industries are served, 37 per cent of sales are to the paper and paperboard industry, 18 per cent to wood products and construction and 15 per cent to the packaging field.

It is in the area of construction that H. B. Fuller anticipates the greatest growth. Innovative building techniques utilizing Fuller adhesives, which save both time and money over conventional construction methods, will help to solve the crushing problem of low-cost housing.

Q. You have mentioned in the past that certain Treasury bonds are accepted in payment of federal estate taxes if owned by the decedent at the time of death. Please give me the exact name of one you would recommend. Would these be made out "to the bearer" or to a specific name? — A. K.

A. Coupon bonds made out "to the bearer" are more immediately negotiable and therefore preferable if the bonds are to be kept in a vault. Although age at the time of purchase might have some bearing on the choice because of interest rates, the usual criterion is cost. Since the bonds are accepted at par, the larger the discount the better. For that reason a 3.5 per cent 11/15/98 Treasury bond selling in the low 70s would be my choice.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Space-Age Optical, Electronics Firm Has Arrived At Northgate

A new business opened at 4380 Redwood Highway, in the Margarita Plaza at the entrance of Northgate Industrial Park is Optoelectronics, Inc.

In the words of the president of the company, Robert A. Bell, it was established " . . . for the research, development and fabrication of sophisticated infrared sensors and related components." Initial output of infrared sensors will be for governmental agencies, but according to Bell they will also have application to the field of medical diagnosis.

Present offices will be used for engineering. And an additional 2,500 square feet will be taken nearby for temporary research and development laboratories. Another facility later will house the permanent laboratories and a fabrication plant.

Principals in the corporation with Bell are Jack Long, manager of sensor engineering; Herschel Cozine, manager of thin film devices; and Francis Rigoli, director of marketing and operations, Bell, Long and Rigoli are from Santa Barbara; Cozine is from Oregon. All are experienced in their field of work. The company has three other employees and expects to acquire additional local personnel as activities increase.

FIRST RESIDENTS have started moving into the $10 million Tamalpais retirement apartments in Greenbrae and more are expected to continue coming in throughout the summer. First vanload of goods was for Mrs. Marguerite Goyun of San Francisco, mother-in-law of Judge Harry J. Neubarth, who lives in Kent Woodlands.

The luxury retirement structure contains 279 studio, one and two-bedroom apartments, and according to the management, three out of four of them have been taken. Facilities include a formal dining room seating 300, a 55-bed hospital, maid service, lounges on each floor, a theater and library. Landscaping around the buildings is in progress. Extensive recreational programming is being planned.

An open house is scheduled for late this month and formal dedication ceremonies will be held in the fall.

READY FOR OCCUPANCY — A few of the apartments in the Tamalpais retirement residence in Greenbrae have started lighting up at night, but in this scene they are outdone by the dramatic lighting on the circular three-story structure which contains the dining rooms, kitchen, hospital auditorium. Residents will be moving in the main towers throughout the summer.

DEL REENO MEAT, FISH AND POULTRY of San Rafael has opened a branch at Point Reyes Station in the Palace Market. Richard Reynolds will be in charge.

Before that he was vice president in charge of commercial loans for First Western Bank and Trust Co., San Francisco.

THOMAS R. HINDEMAN of San Rafael has joined Somerset Importers, Ltd. as district manager for Northern California. The company is a liquor distributor. Previously he was a salesman for three years for the Jack Daniels Distillery in San Mateo.

F. C. BURNS AND SONS, San Rafael has joined Florafax Delivery, Inc., a flowers-by-wire organization with members throughout the world.

INSURANCE: Three Marin insurance men, C. A. Deschamps, senior vice president, claims department, Fireman's Fund American Insurance Companies; E. Avery Tindell of San Rafael, vice president of Appleton and Cox of California, and San Rafael insurance agent Fred A. Banducci are attending the western regional forum of the Society of Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriters this week in Carmel. Deschamps, a San Rafael resident, is a panelist. Tindell and Banducci are moderators in the discussions.

Wall Street Jitters On Brisk Trade

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks closed irregularly lower today, with declines topping advances by almost 100 issues. Trading was fairly active.

The fourth consecutive decline this week again reflected the threat of a boost in the prime lending rate from a record high of 7.5 per cent, and uncertainty over Vietnam peace prospects.

Department stores were irregular. Sears Roebuck and J.C. Penney both reported higher sales.

Steels generally edged upward following some price hikes on steel plates and structural shapes.

Superior was on the uptrack in the oils after sliding 4 in the previous session. Standard of Ohio backed off. The issue jumped 25 Wednesday. It has announced plans to merge with BP Oil Co., a unit of British Petroleum traded on the American Stock Exchange.

Motors tended easier following plans for reduced production schedules this week. Sales in the final 10 days of May declined.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Glue Firm Offers Promising Future

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Our son will graudate from engineering college shortly and we would like to make him a gift of a growth stock. What stock would you recommend? — J. J.

A. As an engineer, your son probably will appreciate the potentials of H. B. Fuller Co., maker of over 4,000 adhesive products. Although incorporated in 1915, the company went public only a year ago. Since 1963, sales have more than doubled, while profits have been reported annually. Earnings last year at $1.10 a share showed a 35 per cent gain year to year. First-quarter results of 30 cents were double those a year earlier on a 16 per cent gain in sales.

This company's adhesives, coatings and polymers have numerous applications including an epoxy bead used on all NHL hockey sticks and for laminating cooking pouches for packaging frozen foods. Although 92 industries are served, 37 per cent of sales are to the paper and paperboard industry, 18 per cent to wood products and construction and 15 per cent to the packaging field.

It is in the area of construction that H. B. Fuller anticipates the greatest growth. Innovative building techniques utilizing Fuller adhesives, which save both time and money over conventional construction methods, will help to solve the crushing problem of low-cost housing.

Q. You have mentioned in the past that certain Treasury bonds are accepted in payment of federal estate taxes if owned by the decedent at the time of death. Please give me the exact name of one you would recommend. Would these be made out "to the bearer" or to a specific name? — A. K.

A. Coupon bonds made out "to the bearer" are more immediately negotiable and therefore preferable if the bonds are to be kept in a vault. Although age at the time of purchase might have some bearing on the choice because of interest rates, the usual criterion is cost. Since the bonds are accepted at par, the larger the discount the better. For that reason a 3.5 per cent 11/15/98 Treasury bond selling in the low 70s would be my choice.

Teachers Oppose Tam Board's Raise Offer

Tamalpais High School District teachers last night turned down a proposed 4.2 per cent 1969-70 salary scale increase saying that it would not even keep up with inflation if federal and state taxes were paid as well.

The $500 increase, plus the automatic annual step raise, would total 8 per cent — or $945 per teacher.

The teachers, who are asking for a 10 per cent increase, called a general membership meeting for 4 p.m. today at Redwood High School's Little Theater to present the District board proposal to members.

Trustees, meeting for the sixth time to discuss salaries, also offered 88 teachers, who have reached the 13th and final salary step, a 14th step so that, in effect, every teacher would get an 8 per cent increase.

Trustee David D. Ring said the board's offer is based on the position that there would be no tax rate increase in the district in the near future, that the auditor had recommended a reserve of between $900,000 and $1.2 million and that it is poor financial planning to look at only a one-year budget.

Following a caucus, teacher spokesman William B. Wilkinson told trustees they had totally ignored priority recommendations of the superintendent for other budget cuts. Wilkinson said that anything less than an 8 per cent across-the-board scale increase — aside from automatic increments — puts the district in a disadvantageous position to hire quality teachers.

In addition, Wilkinson added, the board ignored the teachers' request for health and welfare and fringe benefits which could be financed by an override tax.

Trustees set 8 p.m., Monday to meet again with the teachers and set 4 p.m., June 11 as a meeting date to discuss administrative and classified salaries. Both meetings are to be in the district office. Edward J. Neumeier, administrative assistant, reported.

In other business the board authorized renting, under a lease purchase contract with Speedspace Corp., Santa Rosa, a four classroom portable to be used for the proposed Opportunity School.

The agreement is to rent the portable for two years at $18,593 per year and then to decide whether to continue to rent or buy the building. If the decision is to buy, the cost would be $121,711.

Point Reyes Cash Urged By Senate

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The state Senate today unanimously passed a resolution urging the federal government to buy more land for Point Reyes National Seashore and to put a freeze on sales of any it already owns.

The resolution by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, calls on Congress and President Richard M. Nixon specifically to purchase the 25,000-acre ranch now owned by A. W. Sweet of Coos Bay, Ore.

Sweet, a banker, has announced he will start dividing the vast ranch into 40-acre parcels for sale because his family is no longer able to carry the financial burden of holding it.

The resolution opposes a proposal by National Park Service officials to sell about 9,000 acres of the seashore property for private development.

Reps. William S. Maillard, R-Sixth District, and Don H. Clausen, R-First District, have introduced a bill to raise the authorization for the park to $57 million from the $19.1 million already authorized.

Of the 64,415 acres originally designated for the national seashore, 29,155 remain in private hands.

District Votes Sewer Extension

Ross Valley Sanitary District directors last night granted Eliseo Land Co. a public sewer extension from the area between the Tamalpais in Larkspur to Bon Air Road for the final undeveloped area in the Bon Air area, manager Ralph C. Noah reported today.

The board heard a report by engineer Warren E. Nute on his current study of a proposed transmission line from Stadium Way to Bon Air pumping station. No action was taken, Nute saying he will make a specific recommendation in two months.

Three routes are under consideration: one through Marin Catholic High School property; one following Corte Madera Creek to Highway 101 overpass and one to follow the Corte Madera Creek to Bon Air Road, then to Sir Francis Drake to the Bon Air pumping station.

Teachers Oppose Tam Board's Raise Offer

Tamalpais High School District teachers last night turned down a proposed 4.2 per cent 1969-70 salary scale increase saying that it would not even keep up with inflation if federal and state taxes were paid as well.

The $500 increase, plus the automatic annual step raise, would total 8 per cent — or $945 per teacher.

The teachers, who are asking for a 10 per cent increase, called a general membership meeting for 4 p.m. today at Redwood High School's Little Theater to present the District board proposal to members.

Trustees, meeting for the sixth time to discuss salaries, also offered 88 teachers, who have reached the 13th and final salary step, a 14th step so that, in effect, every teacher would get an 8 per cent increase.

Trustee David D. Ring said the board's offer is based on the position that there would be no tax rate increase in the district in the near future, that the auditor had recommended a reserve of between $900,000 and $1.2 million and that it is poor financial planning to look at only a one-year budget.

Following a caucus, teacher spokesman William B. Wilkinson told trustees they had totally ignored priority recommendations of the superintendent for other budget cuts. Wilkinson said that anything less than an 8 per cent across-the-board scale increase — aside from automatic increments — puts the district in a disadvantageous position to hire quality teachers.

In addition, Wilkinson added, the board ignored the teachers' request for health and welfare and fringe benefits which could be financed by an override tax.

Trustees set 8 p.m., Monday to meet again with the teachers and set 4 p.m., June 11 as a meeting date to discuss administrative and classified salaries. Both meetings are to be in the district office, Edward J. Neumeier, administrative assistant, reported.

In other business the board authorized renting, under a lease purchase contract with Speedspace Corp., Santa Rosa, a four classroom portable to be used for the proposed Opportunity School.

The agreement is to rent the portable for two years at $18,593 per year and then to decide whether to continue to rent or buy the building. If the decision is to buy, the cost would be $121,711.

Point Reyes Cash Urged By Senate

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The state Senate today unanimously passed a resolution urging the federal government to buy more land for Point Reyes National Seashore and to put a freeze on sales of any it already owns.

The resolution by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, calls on Congress and President Richard M. Nixon specifically to purchase the 25,000-acre ranch now owned by A. W. Sweet of Coos Bay, Ore.

Sweet, a banker, has announced he will start dividing the vast ranch into 40-acre parcels for sale because his family is no longer able to carry the financial burden of holding it.

The resolution opposes a proposal by National Park Service officials to sell about 9,000 acres of the seashore property for private development.

Reps. William S. Maillard, R-Sixth District, and Don H. Clausen, R-First District, have introduced a bill to raise the authorization for the park to $57 million from the $19.1 million already authorized.

Of the 64,415 acres originally designated for the national seashore, 29,155 remain in private hands.

District Votes Sewer Extension

Ross Valley Sanitary District directors last night granted Eliseo Land Co. a public sewer extension from the area between the Tamalpais in Larkspur to Bon Air Road for the final undeveloped area in the Bon Air area, manager Ralph C. Noah reported today.

The board heard a report by engineer Warren E. Nute on his current study of a proposed transmission line from Stadium Way to Bon Air pumping station. No action was taken, Nute saying he will make a specific recommendation in two months.

Three routes are under consideration: one through Marin Catholic High School property; one following Corte Madera Creek to Highway 101 overpass and one to follow the Corte Madera Creek to Bon Air Road, then to Sir Francis Drake to the Bon Air pumping station.

LSD HAUL—Narcotics agents yesterday arrested four men and a young woman at a house in Tamalpais Valley, where they said they found $10,000 worth of LSD. Charged with a sale to federal agents was Robert Anthony Watt (left) and booked into Marin jail were (left to right) Christine Crawford, Joseph Eugene Baldeck, James Ayers Simpson and Lyle Dean Adams. Narcotics equipment also was found in the house.

FIVE ARRESTED IN TAM VALLEY

Beneath A Sleeping Bag: $10,000 In LSD

Narcotics agents who found $10,000 forth of LSD under a sleeping bag in a vacant lot in Tamalpais Valley yesterday arrested a 26-year-old Canadian and accused him of dealing in interstate drug traffic.

Agents said they arranged a sale about 3:30 p.m. with Robert Anthony Watt, who gave no present address, at a house at 258 Green Street.

As the buy was made outside the house, nearby agents including Marin Drug Abuse officials and federal narcotic agents, swooped down. Watt ran, the agents said, but was caught a short distance from the house.

Also arrested were four other persons who were in the house who, a federal agent said, had offered him marijuana while he was negotiating the sale.

Booked into Marin County Jail on drug charges were Christine Crawford, 20, of 258 Crawford Street, Mill Valley; Joseph Eugene Baldeck, 25, of no fixed address; James Ayers Simpson, 25, of San Francisco, and Lyle Dean Adams, 39, of 255 Canal Street, San Rafael.

A search of the house and surrounding area turned up 2,000 capsules of LSD hidden in a cardboard box under the sleeping bag in a lot next to the house, according to the agents.

Inside the home, which they described as "typically hippie" furnished mainly with mattresses, they said they found suspected heroin in a shaving kit, marijuana, more LSD and narcotics equipment including needles and roache clips.

In the basement the agents found a paper bay containing $7,800 next to a pile of trash.

An infant who was present during the raid and apparently being cared for by Miss Crawford was turned over to his mother, who arrived while agents were there.

Watt was taken by federal agents to San Francisco to face federal charges of sale and possession of drugs.

All the others were in Marin County Jail today in lieu of $2,500 bail awaiting appearance in Marin Municipal Court today. They were all booked on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs, possession of marijuana and possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

OVER DEFENSE PROBE

Nixon's Critics Charge Meddling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., accused President Richard M. Nixon today of attempting to intimidate congressmen probing the role of the military budget in American life.

Proxmire, who is chairman of a joint Senate-House economic subcommittee holding hearings on the military budget and national priorities, objected to what he termed Nixon's strong language yesterday in a speech at the Air Force Academy on national defense.

Nixon said "new isolationists" were posing a false choice between meeting responsibilities at home and abroad.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the acting Senate Democratic leader, called Nixon's references to new isolationists and unilateral disarmers "unfortunate."

"I think he outlined what his sense of the priorities were," Kennedy told reporters, adding he thinks Congress has the responsibility of acting as it sees fit.

Proxmire protested that Nixon was trying to intimidate "those who question whether America's role in the world can be best served by a large and expanding military force instead of a more vigorous dedication of our resources to our domestic programs."

Proxmire issued the statement at his subcommittee's hearing.

He said the President's speech recognized the value of his subcommittee's probe but at the same time raised serious questions about its conduct.

"This committee is trying to ask the right questions," Proxmire said.

Meanwhile, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., called on Nixon to persuade South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu to accept a political settlement of the Vietnam war, "thus permitting 540,000 American boys to come home."

The alternative, Gore said, is "the Thieu plan of permitting a piecemeal withdrawal of U.S. troops along with a commitment to keep many, many U.S. soldiers in Vietnam indefinitely to keep President Thieu in office."

The Tennessee Democrat spoke out in a speech prepared for the Senate.

Other senators critical of the administration military policy took issue with what they saw as Nixon's implications they are "the new isolationists."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright led the expected outcry from Democratic opponents of the Vietnam War and the proposed Safeguard antiballistic missile system—ABM—after Nixon's speech

But joining the barrage of Democratic dissent was Republican Sen. James B. Pearson of Kansas who said he doesn't know any fellow critics of high-level military spending who want unilateral U.S. withdrawal

Third Smut Bill Passes In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Assembly, which hadn't passed a major antipornography bill in many years, today overwhelmingly approved its third one in two days.

The house, on a 49-7 vote, sent the Senate a measure which eliminates the requirement that "expert witnesses" must be called to testify in obscenity trials.

"Expert witnesses" often are book reviewers for newspapers.

The author, Assemblyman Frank Murphy, R-Santa Cruz, said the definition of an "expert" is so "strict and narrow it almost is impossible to prosecute."

Meanwhile, antipornography legislation backed by Gov. Ronald Reagan and Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch was a short step from final passage. But the author wasn't sure whether to take the step.

The two bills by Sen. Robert Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, easily passed the Assembly Wednesday and moved to the Senate for normally routine concurrence in previous lower house amendments.

But Lagomarsino said the

$12 Billion Bay Transport Plan Envisions New Roads, Subways

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

BERKELEY — A massive transportation system for the Bay Area, costing possibly as much as $12 billion in the next 20 years and including hundreds of miles of new superhighways and subways, was proposed by the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission yesterday.

The ambitious long-range transportation plan called for 1,400 miles of freeways in the nine-county Bay Area and 230 miles of rapid transit rails, compared to 357 miles of freeways and 75 miles of rapid transit now.

In a report to the Legislature and Gov. Ronald Reagan, BATSC also suggested formation of a nine-county regional agency to deal with transportation problems. The agency would have the power to levy general taxes for transportation programs and would allow use of highway user taxes such as gas and vehicle taxes to be used for such things as rapid transit systems, a departure from present mandatory application of such revenues exclusively to freeways and lesser thoroughfares.

In unveiling the final plan — the results of a six-year, $6 million study — Chairman Nils Eklund told a Berkeley news conference: "There will be nothing but transportation chaos if this plan is not completed by 1990." It can be done, he said, but not without dramatic new plans for financing.

Maps submitted with the report showed several new freeways, including one along the present route of Shoreline Highway in West Marin, one across central Marin and one west of Novato to Point Reyes.

The report also recommended development of rapid transit in Marin and elsewhere throughout the Bay Area. BATSC consultant Richard M. Zettel said the commission foresaw extension of rapid transit lines to Southern Marin during the 1980s with rail lines as far north as Novato in the 1980s. Eventually, the rapid transit system would reach into Sonoma County, maps indicated.

He said in the interim, there should be development of feeder bus lines to rapid transit stations followed possibly by "rapid bus extensions," utilizing, perhaps, separate freeway lanes.

The actual cost of the commission's proposals, in terms of 1969 dollars, was estimated by Eklund at $8 billion to $9 billion. But figuring a modest inflation rate of 3 per cent annually, he cautioned, the cost would go to $11 billion or $12 billion by 1990.

To carry out the 20-year program, BATSC urged formation of a regional government to handle functions such as transportation. In the absence of such an organization, however, the commission still recommended a regional transportation agency, under an appointive board, with the understanding it would be merged into a regional government if and when such was formed.

The transportation agency would have both policy and fiscal authority over all regional highways, regional rapid transit and Bay crossings.

The recommendation for the regional agency is basically contained in a bill by Assemblyman John D. Foran, D-San Francisco, now pending before the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

To finance its program, the commission urged accelerated financing programs on the part of the federal and state governments but also said the agency should have the power to impose transport user and general taxes.

It also suggests that highway user taxes, whether state regionally imposed, could be used for any public transportation

Hanoi Brands Nixon 'Neo-Colonialist'

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam accused President Richard M. Nixon today of outdoing former President Lyndon B. Johnson in intensifying the Vietnamese War in pursuit of "neo-colonialist aims."

South Vietnam at the 20th session of the expanded peace talks accused the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong of trying to delay negotiations "because you expect a military victory."

The United States was more restrained, asking North Vietnam whether it was prepared to withdraw its forces in a peace settlement.

Ha Van Lau, North Vietnam's deputy representative, devoted almost his entire speech to an attack on the Nixon administration. He sat in for chief negotiator Xuan Thuy, who is in Hanoi for consultation

At one point, Lau declared that Nixon had gone "even further" than Johnson, and added: "The Nixon administration has tripled and even quadrupled the number of sweep operations, increased indiscriminate B52 bombings and intensified the use of toxic chemicals and poison gas."

U.S. officers in Saigon have denied that the number of sweep operations have been stepped up and insist they are at a lower level than a year ago.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who leaves later in the day en route to Midway Island for the meeting of Nixon Sunday with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, asked a series of questions about the Viet Cong's 10-point peace plan.

He asked North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front to spell out specifically whether North Vietnam is prepared to withdraw its troops from South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia and what kind of international supervision would be acceptable.

On the question of a political settlement, Lodge urged the NLF to accept Thieu's offer for private negotiations. He described as unrealistic the NLF's insistence that it would not deal with the present Saigon government.

Lau chided Nixon for his talk about "de-Americanizing the war."

"How could he possibly succeed?" he asked. "This is really a vicious circle. He has trapped himself in it because he never really wanted to settle the Vietnamese problem peacefully on the basis of the logical and reasonable solution put forward by the NLF."

Lau described Johnson's Vietnam policy as a "fiasco" and said Nixon's pursuit of the same policy was "based on the illusions of achieving neo-colonialism in South Vietnam and will bring no benefit either to the American people or to Mr. Nixon himself."

South Vietnam's chief negotiator, Pham Dang Lam, opened the session by declaring that "no question related to the future of the 17 million people of Vietnam can be discussed and solved without the participation and the approval" of the Saigon government.

County Tax Rate Keeps On Climbing

Decision On Firefighting May Boost Bite To $2.50

Marin County's anticipated basic tax rate hit a new high yesterday of $2.502 or 23 cents more than this year's $2.27.

The indicated rate of $2.445, with which the county supervisors opened budget deliberations Monday, kept climbing instead of dropping.

The biggest jump in rate came when supervisors decided not to burden the unincorporated areas with the full 58.5 cents county fire tax rate proposed by the county administrator. They rolled that back to about 30 cents, which has the effect of spreading a part of that burden to all taxpayers in the county including cities and fire districts. That spread raised the anticipated basic tax rate countywide by 4.6 cents.

PORTION OF COUNTY

The total budget for the county fire department for next year is $665,657. County Administrator Alan Bruce proposed that $395,057 of this amount be charged as "structural fire protection" tax to areas not protected by cities and fire districts. This year, the "structural fire protection" portion of the county fire budget is only $133,858 out of $654,539. The state reimburses the county $211,600 for protection of state timber and grassland.

Supervisor Chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Louis H. Baar objected to shifting $395,056 to unincorporated areas. They insisted that unincorporated areas are not getting that much benefit in structural fire protection, and that the term "structural fire protection" is a misnomer because county fire equipment is not geared for fighting structural fires.

SHIFT SUGGESTED

They were backed by Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas and Ann H. McCorry of Greenbrae, who charged that fire tax rates were being shifted without a public hearing.

Supervisors Michael Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. argued that the county fire tax load should be shifted away from cities and fire districts because they are already paying for structural fire protection in addition to the county fire tax.

Ronald L. Usher, Corte Madera town manager agreed. "There is no rationale for city and fire district taxpayers to pay this tax and give unincorporated fringes a free ride," said Usher.

Since Supervisor William A.

Progress Rapid In Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today that the training of South Vietnamese forces to take over more combat—and release American troops—is "moving along at a rapid pace."

Rogers also told a news conference in response to questions about peace negotiations on Vietnam that "we're not wedded to any government in Saigon."

"We're wedded to the principle that the people of South Vietnam will decide their own future," he said.

"Any government that the people of South Vietnam choose is all right with us."

Rogers refused to say whether or not President Richard M. Nixon, and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu would announce any plan for U.S. troop withdrawals from Souht Vietnam when they meet at Midway Island Sunday.

There has been speculation—which Rogers refused to support today—that they might announce a timetable for withdrawal of 50,000 troops or more.

Rogers was in South Vietnam three weeks ago and talked with top U.S. and South Vietnamese officials.

On other questions Rogers said:

"It would be a tragic thing if our relations deteriorated with Latin America and this administration does not intend to let that happen."

Rogers made that comment in summing up demonstrations against Nixon's special envoy, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, in Latin America in the last few weeks. Rockefeller had to cancel visits to the three countries, but Rogers noted that he had visited 10 countries, and Rogers said he thought even the dem-

U.S. Destroyers Due In Black Sea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today two American destroyers will begin four days of operations June 18 in the Black Sea, which borders on Russia.

The Pentagon called the operation routine.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

TNT Stolen

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI) — The FBI revealed yesterday that 4,000 rounds of rifle ammunition and 40 blocks of TNT had been stolen from a Wyoming Army National Guard camp in late May.

"Whoever they were, they came prepared," said Maj. Gen. John R. Carson, the Wyoming adjutant general. "They knew what they were doing and what they wanted." The explosives and ammunition were taken from Camp Guernsey, site of the guard's ammunition and explosives bunker.

Valuable Find

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — An ancient Spanish galleon said to be almost completely intact has been found by divers in shallow water about 300 yards offshore, it was reported yesterday.

Carl Clausen, marine biologist at Florida Sate University, called it one of hhe most valunable underwater archeological finds in the state's history.

He said divers found what is believed to be the Capitana, a 135-foot frigate and flagship of the Galeones fleet which sank in 1715, in 15 feet of water.

Reds Gather

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev opend the Kremiln-dominated International Communist Conference today with a charge that imperialists of the world are afraid of Communist unity.

The conference, boycotted by China and several other major parties, has been promoted by Moscow as a step toward Communist unity. Seventy-five of the world's Communist parties are attending.

Explosion Deaths

CARNEYS POINT, N.J. (UPI) — Three thunderous explosions disintegrated four gunpowder storage buildings at a Du Pont Chemical plant yesterday. Three workers were killed, four were missing and 72 persons were injured.

Windows 10 miles away were shattered by the blast. The injured included 16 children who were cut by flying glass when the blast blew in windows of three schools in Penns Grove, N.J., about a mile from the plant.

Three bodies were found, but only one could be positively identified.

Only a ring of blackened earth remained to show where four one-story buildings once stood.

Now Impossible

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI) — Whether the United States or Russia is ahead in the space race can no longer be stated simply, rocket scientist Dr. Wernher von Braun said yesterday.

"A couple of years ago you could answer the question 'are we ahead of the Russians or are they ahead of us' in very simple terms," von Braun said. "For example, right after Sputnik it thing in orbit we didn't.

"So they were ahead in the space program. But today the space program has so many facets that it may be impossible for all eternity from now on to be ahead of them in all fields. And equally, it will be impossible for them to be ahead of us in all fields."

Senate Bill Proposes Junior College Cash

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — A bill that would grant more than $6 billion to states in the next four years to supplement support of junior colleges has been introduced by Sen. Harrison J. Williams Jr., D-N.J., and Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., as co-sponsors.

It would establish a bureau of community education in the U.S. Office of Education, to coordinate master plans for junior colleges developed by the states and to oversee grants given on the basis of population. Guidelines for the state master plans were derived in part from California's two-year college system, Cranston noted.

Joint Probe In Vessel Tragedy Due

PEARL HARBOR (UPI)— The U.S. and Australian governments worked out plans today for a joint investigation of a collision between two warships of their nations which killed 74 Americans.

The decision of the two navies to study the disaster together followed two somewhat differing versions of what occurred before the two vessels rammed during maneuvers near Vietnam Tuesday. The impact sent the forward part of the U.S. ship to the bottom of the sea.

The Australian Navy Ministry had said earlier the carrier Melbourne ordered the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans to change course. Reports received here by Pacific Fleet headquarters from survivors of the collision indicated crewmen aboard the Evans received no warning of the impending crash.

The two governments originally announced Tuesday they would conduct separate inquiries, but the Pentagon said Wednesday the Australian Navy had accepted the U.S. proposal for a "joint preliminary investigation."

U.S. Bombs North Over Plane Incident

SAIGON (UPI) — American warplanes bombed North Vietnam for the first time on record in six months today, raiding antiaircraft gunners who shot down an unarmed U.S. photo plane, military spokesmen said.

U.S. Air Force F4 Phantoms wheeled and dived in attacks on the guns near Dong Hoi, a North Vietnamese port on the South China Sea 40 miles above the border demilitarized zone (DMZ).

They were escorting an unarmed Phantom taking pictures of the flow of men and supplies down North Vietnam's panhandle toward the south. Ground fire hit the photo plane and it turned out to sea.

There, the two crewmen bailed out and were picked up by a rescue helicopter.

Spokesmen had no report on how much damage the two armed escorts did in their retaliatory raids against the ground gunners. The bombing of North Vietnam stopped Nov. 1 but photo flights with armed escorts have continued.

It was the fifth American plane lost over the north since the bomb halt.

The previous loss over the north occurred last Dec. 24 when ground fire hit a photo plane 10 miles north of Dong Hoi. Escort planes hit back that time, too. Todays' incident occurred three miles east of the port city, spokesmen said.

This was the first time since the Dec. 24 incident that the command has reported retaliatory strikes against North Vietnamese gunners, although previous incidents that did not involve U.S. losses may have gone unreported.

In Saigon, terrorists staged a second day of bombings, killing three South Vietnamese civilians and wounding 10 in seven explosions. One U.S. soldier was wounded trying to disarm another bomb.

The U.S. command released its weekly casualty report showing 261 GIs killed and 1,810 wounded last week—the fewest total losses in four weeks. The slight dropoff from the previous week was attributed to a two-day Communist truce and a one-day Allied standdown for Buddha's birthday.

South Vietnamese losses were put at 325 killed, 1,021 wounded and 30 missing, while Communist losses were 2,637 killed—both less than the previous week because of the truces.

All 79 On Mexican Jet Die In Crash

MONTERREY, Mexico (UPI) —A Mexican jetliner, skimming the rain-swept Sierra Madre for a place to land, crashed atop a 6,000 foot peak yesterday and burned, killing all 79 persons aboard, including tennis great Rafael Osuna.

A helicopter pilot, who returned from the crash site 20 miles northwest of Monterrey with five airline officials, described the scene:

"Everyone is dead. The bodies are so mangled it will be very difficult or impossible to identify everyone. Everything is burned."

The plane crashed into a part of the Sierra Madre known as "Monk's Mountains." The range is lush with vegetation that can be seen for miles.

A Mexican official who flew over the crash site said the plane smashed into a 500-foot high sheer vertical wall.

The official said a crew of specially trained mountain climbers arrived from Mexico City at 7:15 p.m. (PDT) yesterday and left immediately for the crash site.

The rescue team made its first attempt to scale the peak early today, but a spokesman said the first bodies probably would not be brought down until tonight.

Hayakawa's Wish: Permanent Status

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, acting president of San Francisco State College, would like to be named permanent president of the school.

He told newsmen yesterday the job of permanent president has great appeal to him and indicated the post was preferable to running for elective office.

"That's the job I really want right now and I want to stay with it," Hayakawa told an impromptu hallway news conference in the Capitol after testifying before a Senate committee.

The semantics professor, who became the college's acting president last November during intense strife on the campus, said he did not want to leave the post without accomplishing all the goals he set for himself.

"I don't think I should walk out now with it half done," he said.

Hayakawa has been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor, U.S. senator or state superintendent of public instruction. His popularity in some polls runs second only to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

In the past Hayakawa has left the door open for himself to decide later whether to decide to run for office. He is a Democrat.

Asked by newsmen what his political plans were, Hayakawa again brushed aside the question by refusing to speculate.

"I haven't got the time to worry about other things but education," he said.

Newsmen also questioned the bantam college president on whether he approves of a special selection committee proposed by state college Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke to find a person to succeed Hayakawa.

"I don't know," he replied. "It seems to me the kind of committee the chancellor of the state colleges advised is reasonable enough."

Chamber Backs Work On Creek

The Army Corps of Engineers' plans for completion of the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project have won endorsement from the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau.

In a letter to the county board of supervisors, Richard P. Nave, chamber president, said the chamber board agreed it would be "foolhardy and a shirking of duty to jeopardize completion either by delay or major modification."

The letter said it would be a "travesty to re-engineer the project for anything less than proposed."

The supervisors have set June 24 at 4 p.m. for a public hearing on phase three of the project from the College Avenue bridge in Kentfield to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Winship Avenue in Ross.

The chamber's letter said its board had made a "satisfying observation" that the Engineers Corps had embodied esthetics in its concrete channel design, within fund limits.

Tam Trustees To Hear Report On Study Items

Smoking, drugs and a drop in physical education attendance are specific problems which the Tamalpais High School Discipline Study Committee will suggest for further study in recommendations to be made at the Tamalpais High School District board meeting June 16.

These problems were agreed upon at a Tuesday meeting of the committee. Some members of the committee also said problems lie in more general areas such as free speech, due process and tension-reducing activities.

The committee plans to suggest that the board, or a subcommittee, define problem areas of study this summer, Edward J. Neumeir, district administrative assistant, reported. It was the last committee meeting of the school year.

Hallinan Compares Mutiny Trial To Dreyfus Case

FORT ORD (UPI) — Defense attorneys for 14 soldiers accused of mutiny described their clients as "hysterical children," but the prosecutor said they refused to obey an order and were therefore guilty.

The attorneys made their closing arguments in the 35-day trial yesterday and the case was expected to go to the five-member court martial panel today after instructions from the presiding officer.

Civilian attorney Terence Hallinan and military counsel Capt. Emmitt Yeary both criticized the Army's decision to court-martial 27 inmates at the San Francisco Presidio stockade for mutiny after a sit-down demonstration lact Oct. 14.

Capt. Dean Flippo, the prosecutor, said the defendants did in fact commit a "nonviolent mutiny" when they took part in the demonstration and were therefore guilty of the charges.

Flippo said there was "no doubt" that the soldiers "acted in concert, heard a legitimate order, and chose to disobey it." He added, "That's all there is to it—they refused to obey an order."

Hallinan compared the mutiny charges to the French Army court-martial 75 years ago of Capt. Alfred Dreyfus, who was sentenced to life imprisonment on Devil's Island.

"The conviction of Captain Dreyfus was based on a mistake," the attorney said. "That error came to light later, but the French general staff tried to cover up to save face. They even threw Emile Zola into prison for writing about it.

"The French Army has not recovered to this day," Hallinan said. "This too is a national scandal. The entire nation is watching you," he told the court-martial panel.

Hallinan then pointed to the defendants, crew-cut young men 19 and 20 years old.

Lt. Col. James Hagan, the law officer or judge, was scheduled to instruct the panel of three sergeants, a major and a lieutenant colonel today before giving them the case.

In four previous courts-martial, eight other demonstrators were found guilty of mutiny and sentenced to prison. Three of the original 27 escaped from the stockade and two are under medical treatment.

Taboo originally was a Polynesian word denoting persons, places, things or acts to be shunned.

Hungry Burglar Hits Sausalito Restaurant

An omnivorous burglar broke into the Schooner restaurant on Gate 5 Road Monday night or Tuesday and made off with an assortment of candy, meat, cheese and other foods, Sausalito police reported yesterday. The burglar also drank two bottles of beer as he worked.

Missing, police said, were two and a half cases of beer, 192 candy bars, five pounds of cheese, 10 dozen eggs, five pounds of bacon, a quart of orange juice, four boxes of gum, three boxes of cigars and an unknown amount of wine and cigarettes.

Hail, Cloudburst Batter Ashland

ASHLAND, Ore. (UPI)—A severe rain and hail storm struck this southern Oregon city last night. Trees were knocked down, mudslides blocked roads and streets, and cars and buildings were damaged.

Larry James, district engineer for the U.S. Forest Service, said ranger station equipment on the edge of Ashland recorded 1.2 inches of rain between 7:30 p.m. and 11 p.m.

He said hail "bigger than golf balls" fell for about 20 minutes during that period, damaging cars and roofs of homes. Some windows were broken.

Water 30 inches deep ran down Main Street at the height of the storm.

ASSEMBLY

Assembly amendments are "pretty extensive" so he wants to take a hard look at them with Lynch.

The measures represent the first significant anti-obscenity bills to pass the Assembly in years.

One bill establishes a separate standard for judging what is obscene for juveniles and passed the Assembly 66-5.

The second bill incorporates a "pandering" concept so advertising methods can be used to determine if literature legally is obscene. It passed 56-16.

BUDGET

Gnoss was attending an out-of-county meeting, the supervisors found themselves split 2 and 2.

On a motion by Wornum, the supervisors agreed to a compromise amount of $200,000 to be designated as the "structural fire protection" portion to be borne by unincorporated areas. But they decided to call it a "special fire protection tax," striking the word "structural."

The supervisors added $10,460 to the community mental health budget for a drug education program for teen-agers. The community planning group for alcohol-drug abuse problems recommended the program, to be operated by the Catholic Social Service of Marin.

Both Supervisors Wornum and Arrigoni strongly endorsed the drug education program, pointing out that more emphasis is needed on prevention because enforcement has not proved successful so far.

The total community mental health budget will be $2,240,178 as compared with $942,498 for this year. The increase is for completion and full operation of the new community mental health center at Marin General Hospital. All but $395,502 of the total budget is reimbursed by state and federal funds.

The county clerk's budget will be $299,833, up from this year's $246,891. The elections department budget is $306,489 as compared with this year's $332,306.

from Vietnam or to disarm alone.

"I disagree with the President," Pearson, an ABM critic, said in an interview. "What we want to do is to prevent the start of a new nuclear arms race. And I don't think it's isolationism to oppose excessive military spending."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Nixon's references to new isolationists offended him greatly.

Nixon's speech came the same day that Fulbright appeared before a Senate-House subcommittee to advocate a crackdown on defense outlays.

At an impromptu news conference, Fulbright accused Nixon of trying to make critics appear unpatriotic.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said that no responsible American advocates that the United States lay down its arms alone.

"What is sweeping America is a demand that we readjust our priorities and our goals so that we tackle the immense problems we face at home and abroad with realism and not with rhetoric," Cranston said.

Meanwhile today, Nixon set up shop north of his San Clemente residence in Southern California today in the roomier accommodations of a coastal inn for a series of essentially domestic conference and announcements.

The President, who arrived at his new home yesterday, arranged for office and conference space at the Newport Inn, about 25 miles north of San Clemente toward Los Angeles. Today and Friday, suites in the inn will be the White House offices from which Nixon will announce at least one new major appointment—a new director of the Veterans Administration to succeed William Driver.

The expected appointee was Donald Johnson of West Branch, Iowa, former national commander of the American Legion.

There will also be some advance discussion of his Sunday meeting at Midway Island with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, particularly after Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, special assistant to the President for national security affairs, arrives during the day.

Trial Is Set Over Boundary

Trial has been set for he week of Nov. 10 in Marin Superior Court in the suit of Marina Improvement Club against the Marin Yacht club and the City of San Rafael.

The suit; filed in November 1966, accuses the city of betraying its residents by allegedly establishing a careless and inaccurate tidelands boundary for the yacht club.

The State Lands Commission has authorized the state to intervene in the suit.

Three Juvenile Hall Escapers Returned

Three youths were booked yesterday into Marin County Juvenile Hall as escapees from the hall, when caught in a marsh area on Francisco Boulevard after San Rafael police received a tip they were in the area.

The trio had escaped from the hall at 10:04 p.m. Tuesday and were located at 1:31 p.m. yesterday, police said.

Corte Madera 'People's Park' Sought On Lot

The Marina Village Homeowners Association will ask the Corte Madera Town Council to investigate creating a temporary "people's park" at the northeast corner of Harbor and Paradise Drives, acting president David I. Freed said today.

There are no parks in east Corte Madera, Freed said, and the association would like to see if the town and the owner of the vacant land would permit a temporary park. "We would like to put in some benches and some shrubs," said Freed. Freed did not know the owner's name, he said.

The association, which met Tuesday night after being inactive since Christmas of 1964, also agreed to investigate the following:

An assessment district for undergrounding utilities, pedestrian walkways on San Clemente Drive, fast traffic on Paradise Drive and a proposed sewer insepction on Echo Drive.

Freed was named acting president at the meeting;

Ingerman, acting secretary and Henry Dobson, treasurer. Directors elected were Robert J. Morgenlaender, John D. Conkle, Patrick Dowling, Norma Axton, Kay Orton, Werner Rudiger, Ingerman and Freed.

Judge Continues Embezzling Case

A former San Rafael man who now lives in Chicao was brought into Marin Municipal Court yesterday to face charges tat he embezzled about $600 from his former employer, Western Union in San Rafael, last year.

Charged was James Ray Purcell, 23.

Judge Hadden W. Roth continued Purcell's case until Aug. 26, when Purcell will finish serving a sentence in Butte County for failing to support his children.

Purcell is accused of taking the money between July and October of last year.

There "seems to be general agreement" between the United States and Russia and some other countries that a final plan for settling the Middle East crisis "has to be a package —a total agreement." Rogers did not explain this except to say that a step-by-step process is no longer considered feasible.

23 Paper License Plates Are Stolen

purpose. This represented a significant victory for rapid transit backers over freeway supporters who have long fought using gas and vehicle taxes for subways.

Also dropped from the report was a Zettel recommendation that a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge "be accepted as a development guide for highways." The commission shelved that proposal in the face of strong opposition from both the San Francisco and Marin boards of supervisors.

Even the broad range of new freeways and subways proposed by the commission would not completely meet transportation needs, the report noted. Without specifying them, but presumably referring to the "southern (population) tilt" toward counties of San Mateo and Santa Clara, the report predicted "critical overloads" in some cases even if the new systems are built.

Maps submitted with the report showed the proposed freeway along the Shoreline Highway route continuing from the east edge of Tomales Bay overland to Sebastopol where spurs would be built to connect with Highway 101 at Santa Rosa and Rohnert Park.

One freeway on the peninsula would run along the edge of the bay from San Francisco to San Jose with some of it going offshore. Eklund conceded that proposal would be among the most controversial.

The subway system envisions a rail network from Napa to San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties with a loop around the southern tip of the bay to connect the peninsula and East Bay systems.

Commute Ferry Still Strikebound

The 16 captains of Harbor Tours Inc. who pilot the tour and ferry boats from Tiburon across the Bay were still on strike today with no negotiations scheduled.

The strike, which started yesterday, forced 200 Marinites who usually commute to San Francisco by ferry boat to find other transportation. It also idled ferry service to Angel Island and the company's tours of San Francisco Bay.

Spokesmen for both the striking Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association and Harbor Tours Inc. said no contracts talks are being held and none were scheduled. Earlier negotiations broke off Monday.

Vandalism Reported At Creek Project

More vandalism has been done to equipment belonging to the contractor working on the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project near College of Marin, sheriff's deputies said today.

When employees of the Elmer J. Freethy Corp. arrived at work Monday they found that controls to water pump had been damaged with $300 estimated as the cost of repair.

They also said a rock had been thrown at a pickup truck, denting it, and mud jammed into controls of another piece of equipment, which was left near the college football field.

Labor Panel Announces Scholarships

The Marin County Labor Council last night announced the winners of four labor scholarships totaling $2,750.

Three scholarships of $750 each will be awarded by the Carpenters Building Association of Southern Marin Inc. to:

Deborah Whearty of P. O. Box 217, San Quentin, a student at San Rafael High School; Clare Krevsbach of 113 Ash Way, Santa Venetia, a student at Marin Catholic High School; Philip Littman of 20 Portola Avenue, Santa Venetia, a student at Terra Linda High School.

The county labor council's $500 scholarship will be awarded to Randall S. French of 1441 Weaverly Drive in Petaluma, a student at Petaluma High School, reported Peter Patrakis, secretary-treasurer.

The scholarships will be presented to the students at the council's next session July 2, Patrakis said.

Carpenter scholarships are awarded to students whose parents are members of that union, and the council's scholarship to those who parents are affiliated with any union in the council.

The council also endorsed the San Rafael Elementary School District's $2.1 million bond measure, which will be before the voters Tuesday.

Caretaker Finds Home Ransacked

A caretaker at the home of Lillion E. Murray of 249 Seaview Avenue, San Rafael, discovered Sunday that the house had been broken into and ransacked, sheriff's deputies said yesterday.

A car in her garage also had apparently been used by the intruders who left it dirty and with a broken windshield, officers said.

Missing was a portable television set.

Drug Abuse Forum Slated For Tiburon

A drug abuse workshop, sponsored by the Tiburon Peninsula Committee on Drug Abuse, will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday at the Bel Aire School multimedia center.

Dr. David Breithaupt of the University of California Medical Center will lead the workshop session, according to chairman Gorgon Wright.

Residents Oppose More Commercial In San Marin

The San Marin Improvement Association board has voted unamiously to oppose any new commercial area outside of that which is zoned commercial in the master plan for San Marin, according to publicity chairman Ronald Q. Lewton.

The board took the action Tuesday night because of an application for a zone change from residential to commercial by Kenneth Niles for a 7-11 market north of the Shall service station at San Andreas Drive and San Marin Drive.

The association also asked Merle L. Sebald of G'Tec Cable TV to see if a temporary community antenna could be erected in the Parkwood Estates area while the Federal Communications Commission is deciding on the cable restrictions in Novato.

Richard Kuhn, special projects chairman, announced that the San Marin High School gymnasium would be open from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. today for adults in San Marin for volleyball and other sports.

Kuhn also announced that their commute bus would take a load of adults to Oakland for the Oakland A's and Minnesota Twins' game on June 21 with John McCarvel of 191 San Felipe Way in charge of reservations.

The date for the annual picnic was set for the afternoon of July 20 at the Silviera Ranch on Highway 101 north of Novato.

Smith Refuses To Delay Marijuana Case Hearing

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court yesterday refused to postpone a preliminary hearing for a man accused of marijuana possession so that his attorney might have nore time to prepare defense on constitutional grounds.

Attorney Richard Cohen of San Francisco said that he intends to question the law against marijuana on the grounds it denies religious freedom and needed nore time as he had just come into the case.

Judge Smith said the motion had not been "presented in a timely fashion" as the preliminary hearing was already set for tomorrow and ordered it to proceed as scheduled.

Cohen's client is Jeffery Neil Stallard, a 28-year-old transient who got himself jailed on April 1 by dumping a marijuana cigarette out of his boot onto the floor of the sheriff's department.

He had asked to be jailed and was refused until he revealed the handmade cigarette, according to deputies.

In a recent letter ot Marin Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, Cohen said that he intends to continue to test the legality of laws against marijuana and that he himself "turns on with pot."

Final Paper Brings Cries Of Obscenity

The final edition of the Sonoma State College newspaper "Steppes — sprinkled with four letter words and pictures of nudes — has been labled "highly offensive" by the college president and many student readers.

President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. said today that he had received numerous complaints from within and without the college concerning the May 28 issue.

The issue included a photograph of student body president Terry Brennan and two unidentified co-eds in the nude. A short editorial by Michael Funke commented: "It's nice to see the student body president's student body."

Nichols said that Funke had resigned his editorship two weeks ago, after lengthy meetings with the student-faculty publication board. The student appointed to edit the final edition was later injured in an automobile accident and was unable to fulfill the task.

In Funke's final editorial he explained the circumstances of his resignation by saying, "another hassle: - - - - it. I resign. Far out.

Nichols, acknowledging his total responsibility for the college, said he tries to operate through placing great responsibility on students and the student government.

"While not advocating censorship, we feel it is inappropriate for the student newspaper to be so offensive and are of the opinion that we will receive broad support toi nsure a more responsible paper in the future," he said. No disciplinary action against Funke is planned.

Funke was not available for comment today, but had defended charges of obscentiy in the past by saying there are some things more obscene than words and pictures. He listed poverty and the war in Vietnam as topping the obscene list.

The student body, gradually becoming accustomed to the increasingly obscene publication, still registered shock this week. "Our paper makes the Berkeley Barb look like the Christian Science Monitor," a student said.

$800 In Stereo Parts Looted

More than $800 worth of stereo equipment was stolen from an apartment at 845 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, Tuesday night — so boldly a witness didn't realize it was a burglary.

San Rafael police said William Fred Sliger of 845 Las Gallinas Avenue reported yesterday a tape deck, stereo receiver, tapes, earphones and speakers were taken from the room. A lock was pried to gain entrance.

While police were investigating, a neighbor told officers he had seen two men carrying the items to a vehicle but they were so bold he was not suspicious.

Restaurant Plans Gain In Sausalito

Plans for a new restaurant in Sausalito got half-way home last night despite continuing protest from another restaurant owner.

The Sausalito Planning Commission unanimously approved parking and landscaping plans for the restaurant, proposed by Edgewater Yacht Sales, Inc., in the present yacht sales building at Bridgeway and Turney Street.

The commission also recommended the city council approve an encroachment permit so Edgewater can build a public walk in the street right-of-way on Turney and Humboldt streets. Humboldt is an underwater street bayward of the building.

Attorney Richard V. Bettini, representing Sam Zakessian of Zack's restaurant, repeated objections he made Tuesday before the city council — that Edgewater had proceeded illegally with remodeling the building before parking and landscaping plans were approved — and asked that the building permits be revoked and work halted.

The council ordered remodeling to stop until the commission approved the parking and landscaping plans, and until a bond was posted for completion of bay fill for a 19-car parking lot.

The commission postponed to July 2 two other major hearings — a use permit request by Joseph Duffell for planned unit development on the American Distillery property north of the city, and a use permit application by Loyal Davis to build a 19-unit apartment in Marina Vista subdivision.

The Sausalito Planning Commission also:

REBUILDING — Approved a variance and use permit to allow reconstruction of two dwelling units at 63 Central Avenue where a four-unit apartment was damaged by Fire. Applicant Robert Engman had asked permission to build three units.

GAS STATION — Approved a variance to allow Mobil Oil Co. to rebuild a service station at Second and Main streets with a reduced rear setback and a free-standing sign more than five feet from the building.

LOT SPLIT — Approved a lot split sought by Guy Duryee for property in Marinship.

SUBDIVISION — Approved a request by Fred DeCook to split a parcel on Glen Drive into seven lots of 6,950 to 6,010 square feet each.

Clothes Stolen

Women's clothes valued at $188 were reported taken from the Rag Doll at 532 Fourth Street, San Rafael, while the store was closed, sometime after May 25, police said today. Owner Constance Lynn Phillips of 721 Las Colindas Avenue reported entrance was gained by prying a lock.

Four Obdurate Men Circumvent The Voters

Four members of the California Assembly this week subverted the democratic process to prevent the 76 other Assembly members from voting on a bill that had already passed the Senate.

The four are Earle P. Crandall, R-San Jose, a former school superintendent; James W. Dent, R-Concord, a school administrator; John F. Dunlap, R-Vallejo, an attorney and former school trustee, and Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley, a rancher and former school trustee.

By their votes, they killed in committee Senate Bill 35, by John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, and a long list of co-sponsors including John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael. This bill easily passed the Senate early in the current session and had been bottled up since then in the Assembly Education Committee's subcommittee on school finance.

The obdurate four—Crandall, Dent, Dunlap and Veysey — are members of that subcommittee (Veysey being also chairman of the education committee).

SCHMITZ'S BILL would repeal a section of the Unruh Education Act of 1967 which, as Schmitz described it, "was snuck in" at the last minute. That section takes away the voters' right to pass on increases in school district tax ceilings as of July 1, 1971.

Schmitz put the same bill in last year. It passed the Senate then, too, but was kept bottled up in the Assembly Education Committee.

This year, the committee had kept it since Febraury, and finally held a subcommittee hearing on it this week. At conclusion of the hearing, the subcommittee voted 4-3 not to send the bill to the floor.

THE LINEUP against letting the bill go to the floor for a vote is revealing. Appearing against it were lobbyists for the California Association of School Administrators and the California School Boards Association — although many school board members are extremely worried over the additional pressures to which they will be subjected if ceilings are removed from school tax rates.

Appearing against it also was a spokesman for the state Department of Education, who said he spoke for State Supt. Max Rafferty.

The California Teachers Association did not put in an appearance. It did not need to. It had done its work in advance. The very makeup of the subcommittee testifies to the CTA's efficiency. Besides Dent and Crandall, it includes a third school administrator, William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights — but he bolted to vote with John L. E. Collier, R-South Pasadena, and Kenneth Cory, D-Anaheim, both businessmen, to report the bill out.

THE COMMITTEE system is necessary to achieve anything remotely resembling efficiency in conduct of the legislature. Committees have useful functions. They can winnow out frivolous bills, combine bills which largely duplicate each other, amend bills to improve their clarity or remove contradictory or objectionable provisions, etc.

It is no proper part of a committee's function, however, to prevent one house of the legislature from voting on a bill that has already been passed by the other house.

Doubtless the reason that Crandall, Dent, Dunlap and Veysey killed SB 35 was that they were afraid — with ample cause — that it would pass if it reached the floor.

They voted "nyet." So voters who elected 76 other assemblymen are denied a chance for their representatives to act on this important measure because of Crandall, Dent, Dunlap and Veysey.

Duffy Would Cut Red Tape To Enhance Food Stamp Plan

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — At least one assemblyman recognizes that bureaucratic administration is costing the taxpayers a lot more than it should, and he proposes legislation which would correct a small part of it.

This is Gordon Duffy, R-Hanford, chairman of the Assembly's committee on health and welfare. Because of his position, his proposal for getting the most out of the federal food program may stand a chance of getting farther than first base.

"THIS PLAN," he says, "vastly simplifies administrative procedures now being used to distribute food stamps. County administrative costs alone are as much as seven per cent of the value of bonus stamps going to program participants."

The plan is embodied in AB 2169, called the "Child and Family Nutrition Act of 1969." It calls for direct distribution of food stamps to families found to have a nutritional deficit in their incomes.

"Essentially," he says, "the deficit would be the difference between the amount of a family's income they can afford to spend on food, and the cost of food recommended for such a family in the U. S. Departmeht of Agriculture low-cost food plan.

"By eliminating the present cumbersome requirement for purchases, and simply mailing stamps in the amount of the family's nutritional deficit, county administrative costs can be reduced as much as 75 per cent.

"THE SECOND part of my plan," he says, "provides the counties with an opportunity to re-invest a small portion of these administrative savings to earn state matching funds for feeding hungry school children.

"Each county dollar invested in the proposed school nutrition fund would return approximately $3 to the county for assisting local school districts in nutrition programs for needy children. These funds would enable many poorer districts to put up the money needed to earn federal matching funds under the National School Lunch Act. . . .

"Why should our counties be forced, by rigid federal regulations, to spend $1 or $3 a month getting a $6 stamp bonus to a family that is needy, when the same thing can be done for the price of a 6-cent postage stamp?

THE ASSEMBLYMAN says he wants to see some of the savings go into nutritous meals for the potential dropout who isn't concentrating on his school work because he's hungry.

"I also expect the Nixon administration to respond enthusiastically," Duffy said. "This plan, although it goes somewhat beyond what Washington is considering, reflects a great deal of the president's own thinking on the subject of hunger. With proper federal cooperation, California will be able to demonstrate a program on which to base a sound national philosophy."

CYNIC'S CORNER BY INTERLANDI

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

The reform of education will come about not through any easy gimmickry or by abandoning the traditional liberal arts or rejecting the past as irrelevant. It will come about by concentrating on the human task of teaching, and this is no easy task. —Mortimer Smith.

Old families last not three oaks. — Thomas Browne.

To tax and to please, no more than to love and to be wise, is not given to men. — Edmund Burke.

Not All Drug Use Is Drug Abuse

Regarding "Drugs: Unreal Debates and Too Real Tragedy" and reporter's (Hatfield) column on same: I would like to agree that too much has been said by "faultfinders and apologists . . . talking about something that is not quite real to them." Legal officials and school administrators, by and large, either know nothing about the realities of drug use and abuse, or those who do know still spread myths and lies. This causes a cynical, at best, reaction by the young drug users . . .

May I suggest that our entire culture is a "drug scene." Watch TV for an hour and count the number of times someone "turns on" with a "pick-me-up"; someone relaxes with a tranquilizing agent; or someone goes to sleep with yet another drug. Alcohol, the number one abused drug in our country, and nicotine, the second most abused drug, are proven dangerous drugs which have been researched and demonstrated to lead to serious illness and death. Yet we see them advertised constantly. Who gets 30 years in prison for smoking "tobacco"?

It is tragic to see the results of drug abuse. But all drug use is not drug abuse and we need to become a bit more rational in our facing this extremely emotional subject. When someone can receive a 30-year prison term for mere possession of marijuana, and another who has shot and killed a kid can get off with no more than five years there is something basically wrong with our legal system. We the people can change it. Are you willing to help?

NORMAN E. LEACH
San Anselmo

(Editor's note: The maximum sentence for marijuana possession under California law is 10 years. The maximum sentence for killing a person is death in the lethal gas chamber.)

Robert Kennedy's Words Remembered

A year ago, at the end of a most grueling day, Robert Kennedy still found words for those of us waiting to hear him. In a moment I found him staring at me, a look of curiosity on his face. (I thought perhaps he was wondering what I was doing in a "ghetto" neighborhood.) But his eyes were so full with grief and sorrow, I turned away, shaken.

When I later read that the responsiveness of the people helped to make him feel better, I was sorry. But as I committed myself to campaign for him, there would be a next time. Next time I wolud smile. Next time I would shake his hand. There was no next time. And as I think about the world today, I can't help but wonder how different it might be, were Robert Kennedy alive. Above all else, he was a man who truly cared, and meant what he said.

To all those who feel the worth of their cause justifies violence, stop for a moment, listen again to the pleas of Robert Kennedy.

"What we need in the United States . . . is love and wisdom and compassion toward one another, and a feeling of justice toward those who still suffer within our own country, whether they be white or they be black.

"Let us dedicate ourselves to what the Greeks wrote so many years ago: to tame the savageness of man and make gentle the life of the world. Let us dedicate ourselves to that, and say a prayer for our country and for our peole."

I believe we could have a better America if we replaced the philosophy, "Do your own thing," and instead, shared a responsibility to "make gentle the life of the world."

JUDITH CALDERWOOD
Mill Valley.

'Defend America' Letters Urged

Congress now has before it a very critical consideration — and I have written Congressmen Mailliard and Clausen and Senator Murphy, urging their support of the Nixon "Safeguard" ABM defense system.

I was impressed with this sense of urgency by the propaganda barrage which I witnessed on our courthouse lawn recently, demanding that our nation be disarmed. The misguided "sob-sisters" and "peaceniks" who paraded in front of the courthouse—perhaps many of them unwittingly —were obeying a direct command of "orders" from the Daily World (March 18 issue) to "demand on Congres that ABM be abandoned."

It behooves us to flood Congress with demands for a strong and superior nuclear weapons system — not with the attitude of aggression, but to defend America from Soviet attack. Americans — wake up — and stand up for America!

MARIE A. WOELFL
San Rafael.

Situation Compared To Nazi Germany

I cannot comprehend how we can go about our "daily lives" choosing not to see what is happening in our country (reminds me of Nazi Germany — "What gas ovens?"). The brutalizing of hundreds of our citizens in concentration camps, poison gas being sprayed from helicopters, National Guard's bayonets stabbing innocent people, etc., is almost incredible.

So long as government is not responsive to the needs of the people, the revolution will grow. The middle class citizen is forced to choose between official violence and reactive violence.

Every person is responsible! To choose to do nothing is to approve of a government that mocks the tradition of American liberty. Send a postcard or a telegram (Western Union political opinion message, Washington, 15 words $1; Sacramento, 15 words 90 cents) to your representatives! Save America from totalitariansim.

NORA LaCARTE SUGARMAN
Novato.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

June 5, 1959

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. announced its gas plant in San Rafael, made obsolete by construction of natural gas transmission and storage facilities, would be torn down.

The Senate Appropriations Committee voted $15,000 for a study of Point Reyes Peninsula as a possible site for development of a federal recreation area.

20 YEARS AGO

June 5, 1949

An Air force jet plane from Hamilton Field crashed into a farmer's chicken house northeast of Novato, killing the pilot and setting off an explosive fire.

Harry Buttimer of San Francisco won the men's singles championship A at the Marin Open Tennis Tournament at the Mill Valley Tennis Club.

University Is Testing Ground In Black Power Struggle

BOSTON — "I have not yet struck out of my will the bequest for Harvard, but this is to serve notice on you that I am reserving judgment until I see the outcome of some of the issues before you."

In the hundreds of letters flooding in on Harvard's president Nathan Pusey from alumni indignant over the recent turmoil, the above paragraph is almost a stock beginning. For alumni across the county, Harvard is a religion, and their devout offerings have built up the Harvard endowment to more than a billion dollars. The faithful today see their revered institution threatened by heretical change and they mean to stop the money supply unless the heresy is expunged.

One thing they object to strenuously is a decision reflecting the black-white confrontation that is a sign of the times not only in most universities but at every level of American life. Responding to the demands of Harvard's black students, about 600 in an enrollment of 15,000 when the specialized schools are included, the administration gave black representatives a voice on a committee selecting faculty for a black studies program. While the selections can be overruled by a higher body, this means in the end passing the buck to Pusey, who has enough troubles without that one.

FOR MANY alumni and, for that matter, many faculty members, the concession, even though it is to run for only two years, seems a dangerous precedent threatening the independence of the teaching staff. But those who took the decision in the tension immediately following the April upheaval were faced with a fact and not a theory, and they believe Harvard is strong enough to come through without any serious damage.

Whether that is true of other institutions of learning, far less wealthy and for more vulnerable to attack, is questionable. Emerson College here in Boston is a case in point. A small college specializing in speech and the arts, Emerson, like numerous independents around the country, relies almost entirely on tuition and fees for operating costs. In a black crisis last month serious damage was narrowly averted.

OUT OF EMERSON'S 1,200 enrollment, 29 are blacks. Half of them formed Eboni, an Emerson black organization. They presented 10 "proposals" which later became demands to president Chapin. The demands included a black recruiter for admissions, a course in black history and culture to be required of all students, "soul food" to be served in the dining room twice a month, the birthdays of Malcolm X and Martin Luther King Jr. to be school holidays. Chapin, a former assistant dean of the Harvard Business School, granted in modified form some of the demands, including two blacks and two whites with an equal voice on the admissions policy committee.

On May 9, Eboni members with 10 non-students, three of whom were identified as Black Panthers, went to Chapin's office to get a final answer to all their demands. Their way was barred by whites supporting the president. At a critical moment someone sounded the Black Panther cry, and eerie invocation to trouble. Only quick thinking by Chapin, admitting the blacks, quieting the whites and leaving his office to the occupiers, prevented what would almost certainly have been serious violence and destruction. With the great majority of the school supporting the president, the crisis subsided, although with no assurance that it will not be precipitated in the fall.

TACTICS SUCH as those applied at Emerson are alienating not only white students who start out, as a recent Gallup Poll showed, with a deep sense of the injustices in American society, but they are having a damaging effect on the civil rights movement. The moderates among the blacks, the preponderant majority, are paying the penalty. In the universities they are being told by the militants, "You'd better be with us or else."

The university is a testng ground. The confrontation on the campus is a forecast of what is likely to happen in the outside world.

British Hopes Revived For Common Market Role

By JOSEPH GRIGG

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's stalled bid for European Common Market membership has received two powerful boosts in less than a month.

Yet British officials warn that this country may still have a long wait ahead before it finally joins France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg in the economic club.

THE FIRST apparent breakthrough was the defeat and resignation of former French President Charles de Gaulle at the end of April. De Gaulle twice vetoed Britain's bid since it was made in 1963.

The second was a strong plug for Britain this week by West Germany's finance minister, Franz Josef Strauss, who called for immediate resumption of negotiations between Britain and "The Six."

British hopes were further boosted by the fact that Gaullist candidate and former Premier Georges Pompidou has indicated he might ease the De Gaulle veto if he wins the French presidency.

BUT BRITISH officials, after having had their fingers burned by the De Gaulle vetos in 1963 and 1967, now are playing it cool.

Having been snubbed humiliatingly in the past, Britain is unlikely to resume banging on the Common Market door in the near future unless she is invited to.

British officials see no prospect of new moves, in any case, until after the French presidential elections in June and West German parliamentary elections in September.

One reason for this caution is a feeling that, despite encouraging noises from the continent, it is far from certain that all the Common Market members really want Britain in right now.

FRANCE, with problems of its own, would be in no real hurry to expand the market.

Regardless of Strauss' statement, many British officials are not convinced that West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger is all that enthusiastic about bringing Britain in.

The only thing this country can do, British officials say, is to play it by ear and grab the first serious opportunity for getting negotiations started without risk of a new, and probably fatal rebuff.

There's Still Man In Larkspur Who Cooks On Wood Stove

The other day we met a man who never runs out of stories.

He is William Frizzi. He lives on the side of the mountain in Larkspur and you get to his house by going down a steep path past some pigeon houses.

Bill Frizzi is America. He was a licensed radio operator aboard the steamer Willamette, an electrician at the Rose Bowl, a contractor, and he was drafted at 45. He knew the Barbary Coast and, economically, he's been up and down, having pulled himself up after the depression.

Frizzi fishes, he hunts, he plants strawberries and rhubarb. He keeps bees. He has invented an electric fly catcher. He tries to trap raccoons so they won't eat his garden. Often they outwit him.

SINGLE, FRIZZI does his own cooking over a wood stove and he believes he is probably the only person in Larkspur to cook with wood.

His father, Gus, died in the same house Frizzi lives in about 90 minutes before the 1906 earthquake. "When my old-man went through the gate," says the lively septagenarian, "he shook the hell out of things. He was shaking so that the nurse said, 'Gus's coming back'."

Frizzi was with the Larkspur Volunteer Firemen 25 years.

We asked him why he has holes in the tops of his shoes and the bee man replied, "To keep my feet healthy. I punched holes in them."

He does look very healthy with reddish cheeks, a wild tuft of hair sticking almost straight up and, apparently wiry, he seems to leap about the mountainside from terrace to terrace.

BORN IN 1897 in downtown Larkspur, Frizzi calls himslef "the oldest native born in Larkspur."

His fahter was Swiss-Italian from Canton Tessino and had a bar in Larkspur called "Gus Frizzi's Exchange" when beer sold at five cents a glass. His mother ran a store, "Frizzi's Bakery, Ice Cream and Candies."

Asked about the times today, Frizzi commented, "We've gone a long way since Marconi."

"What about the moon?" we asked. The outdoorsman replied, "It's not for man. No oxygen. How the hell is a man going to live?"

He explained that if he didn't hunt and fish he might be in the cemetery now.

We walked by the fly trap and asked if it works. "Damn right it works," said our host.

We walked down the steep slope past the bee hives and Frizzi cautioned: "Look out for the eyes is the main thing."

FRIZZI SAID the original fighter Joe Walcott used to train in Larkspur and ran between Larkspur and Billy Shannon's in San Rafael.

Grapes grow up and down along the path on a trellis in the tightly planted garden. "There isn't a man who comes here who doesn't say: 'You've got every inch used,' " said Frizzi.

The twinkly eyed man gave us a bottle of honey and honey vinegar, then pointed out a large crock outside in which the vinegar — made with honey, water and yeast—was bubbling.

Then he took us up to the barn. "My mother milked a cow in this shed," he said. "I'll bet I'm the only man in Larkspur who can show you the barn where his mother milked a cow."

Also a scull builder, the lively man says he has built about 30 which are used for duck hunting. When he leaped up to get some old pictures, he chuckled and said, "I could write a book."

"YOU SHOULDN'T have come here," he admonished as if it's usually hard to pull stories out of people but with him they just flow.

We told him that we live by the story and to talk on. He did.

The hunter said he used to hunt black sea brant but that they are not plentiful any more. On questioning what a brant is, Frizzi hopped off into another room and brought back an article and a book on the birds.

Frizzie said he last worked regularly for Rex Electric in San Anselmo. "I was a damned good motor man," he said casually. What's that? we asked. "I rewound motors — armatures," he replied.

We walked up the steep path to the gate, past the pigeons, past the barn where Mrs. Frizzi had milked the cow, our bottles in one arm and behind — a new story friend on the mountain.

Need Money For Recreation? Just Produce An Over-Run

WASHINGTON — The District of Columbia almost had a crisis on Memorial Day weekend. The recreation department of the city decided not to open the 15 municipal swimming pools because the department did not have the funds. Mayor Walter Washington, who was informed of the decision by newspaper reporters, angrily ordered the pools opened and said he'd get the money somewhere.

Since Congress is in charge of the city's budget, the mayor could find himself in trouble. The reason is that Mayor Washington will probably appeal to Congress for funds for recreation facilities on the grounds that he needs the money to cool off the summer and give the kids in the district something to do to keep them out of trouble.

MY FRIEND DOYLE believes this type of appeal is a waste of time.

"Congress can't get excited about such arguments," he said. "They've got much bigger fish to fry."

"But what's the solution?"

"The solution to Washington's recreational budget problems can be found in the Defense Department."

"I don't understand."

"Congress is constantly telling the city it has to live within its budget. If it doles out X amount of dollars, then the district shouldn't come back and ask for Y."

"THAT MAKES fiscal sense," I said.

"It does," said Doyle, "in every department but defense. What is the most popular word in the military-industrial complex?"

"Overrun?"

"Exactly. Whenever a defense contractor finds that it's going to cost him more money to make something than he originally thought it would be charges it to overrun. This is something Congress understands. No one is this country expects a defense contractor to stay within the price he originally bid to win the contract."

"Of course not," I said.

"OK," DOYLE said. "Congress is getting use to overruns. One hundred million dollars here, $500 million there, a billon dollars someplace else. It is all part of the game."

"But what has that got to do with Mayor Washington?"

"Instead of the mayor going up to the Hill and pleading on his hands and knees for extra money to see him through the long, hot summer, he should go up there and proudly announce he's had an overrun on the recreation program of $10 million and apologize to Congress that it wasn't more."

"WOULD CONGRESS go for it?"

"Of course, if the mayor explained it. He could say the overrun was caused by inflation, spare parts for recreation centers, labor problems and mistakes made in his department in estimating the recreational needs of the district."

"He'd be speaking their language," I admitted.

"The mayor would continue by warning that Moscow now has more playgrounds than Washington, and the playground gap might become insurmountable by 1975."

"WHY, IT'S the old Soviet gap trick," I said.

"Right! When Congress hears that Moscow is building more playgrounds, it will not only demand parity but superiority in the stockpiling of playgrounds. The mayor will not only get his money, but they'll insist he take more than he needs."

"It could work," I said.

"Of course it could work," Doyle said. "But it all depends on the mayor's attitude. If he's humble, Congress will have no respect for him. But if, after he gets his funds, he warns them that he can't guarantee there won't be another overrun before the summer is over, they'll carry him out of the hearing room on their shoulders."

Bay District Gaining In Smog Battle

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Pollution from all sources in the Bay Area during 1968 decreased by 265 tons per day from 1967, despite another big increase in auto pollution, the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District board was told yesterday.

The district's staff reported that while total pollution decreased by 2.7 per cent, pollutants emitted by automobiles and other internal combustion vehicles increased by 143 tons daily, or 2.2 per cent.

Vehicle pollution is the responsibility of the State Air Resources Board while pollutants from other sources; such as factories; commercial districts and dumps, are the responsibility of the regional pollution control district.

The report showed contaminants under its control were reduced during 1968 by 408 tons per day, down 13 per cent from 1967.

Overall; the district estimated that 9,473 tons of pollutants per day were belched into the skies each day in 1968, 71 per cent from vehicles and 29 per cent from other sources.

In 1967, the daily average was estimated at 9,738 tons per day.

District information director Edward W. McHugh said another staff report to the directors told them that if current air quality standards being considered by the state are adopted, the district may have to impose stricter regulations to bring its pollutant sources into conformance with the state standards.

In other action, the board adopted a $1.8 million budget for 1969-70, up from $1.45 million this fiscal year. Most of the increase —$225,000 —was to provide improvements on the district's building at 939 Ellis Street so offices of the San Francisco Redevelopment Agency can move in this fall.

Another $57,000 will pay for a new air monitoring station at Livermore and the rest of the increase will pay for a general 5 per cent salary increase and the addition of five new employees.

State Lobbyist Gets New Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's legislative advocate in Washington, D.C., will be appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan as his chief assistant for intergovernmental relations, administration sources said today.

Edgar M. Gillenwaters, who has held the lobbyist post the past two and one-half years, will succeed Ronald B. Frankum, who is expected to join the staff of Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke.

Gillenwaters will be replaced July 1 by James E. Jenkins, lobbyist for the city of San Diego.

In the new job, Gillenwaters will be the governor's liaison man with city and county governments and coordinate state relations with Congress and federal government agencies in California.

Substituting Flag Pledge With Quotations Touches Off A Roar

By JOANNE GRANT

A proposal to replace the flag salute with a patriotic quotation touched off a scathing indictment of some schools, administrators and students yesterday at a meeting of the San Rafael Lions Club.

Lions, lunching at the San Rafael Elks' clubhouse, also voiced strident disapproval of the idea itself.

The proposal, currently under discussion at Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo, was outlined by Dean of Students Thomas E. McEntee and student Richmond Young.

McEntee explained the state education code requires a "daily patriotic exercise" in the schools but leaves the form to local authorities.

Until last year, Drake's governing body, the Tamalpais High School District board, had required daily recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance. Last year, the Tam board authorized choosing between the flag salute and a patriotic statement, with the final decision in the hands of principals.

"This year some students felt the Pledge of Allegiance left a little to be desired," McEntee said. Working through channels, including an opinion from the county counsel's office, students agreed they would like to try daily patriotic statements. (The practice has not yet begun.)

Young, a prime initiator of the move to change, explained that through constant repetition, the pledge had become meaningless to many students.

He pointed out that being required to say "I pledge of allegiance" every day makes it seem like allegiance is an impermanent thing.

Some students object to the line "with liberty and justice for all" because they doubt that's exactly true of the nation.

Another reason students wanted to change was that having to say the flag salute makes it seem "that somehow our educational system has failed." History, government and other classes should instill loyalty and devotion to the country, he explained.

Patriotic quotations would make people think, the high school junior maintained. The intent of the education code is to foster greater understanding, greater devotion, he said. "Repitition of the flag salute does not lead to greater understanding."

McEntee read from a list of possible patriotic statements by men generally considered impeccable — William Pen, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and John F. Kennedy.

For example, a statement from Thomas Paine, "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must, like men, undergo the fatigue of supporting it," and Kennedy's, "And so my fellow Americans, ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country," were cited by McEntee.

Several Lions asked for clarification of specific points in the presentation and many more were critical.

"What are you kids doing to make it (the country) better?" asked Robert J. Brusatori, voicing an angry recommendation to think of the boys fighting in Vietnam — as he questioned Young's loyalty.

"Might it not be wise to consider the adult community who pay the bills?" queried Clifford S. Lund. "We disagree with this permisiveness," he said castigating school administration and young people, who he said, "do not have enough experience to decide what's right or wrong."

McEntee pointed out that people don't even come to Parent-Teacher Association meetings to discuss matters of concern.

"Was the individual who sponsored this connected with any left wing organization?" asked Jack E. Bucknum indignantly.

"No I wasn't," Young replied.

Another Lion told Young he had noticed the youth omitted the phrase "under God" when he recited the pledge yesterday.

Noting he does believe in God, Young answered, "I think it's kind or arrogant to assume naturally that God has given his blessing to the United States."

McEntee pointed out if the idea is put in perspective "it's not trying to do away with something, it's trying to look at things from a different standpoint."

Veteran Loans Hurt By Bonds

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A huge backlog of more than 3,000 applications for California veterans farm and home loans has resulted from the state's inability to sell bonds, a legislative committee learned yesterday.

Frank Nicol, newly appointed director of veterans affairs, said his department is financing only 250 loans a month, compared with the usual 1,250 loans.

He told the Senate Rules Committee he is giving top priority to alternative methods of financing veterans loans, possibly issuance of revenue bonds.

Petaluma Annexation Approved By County

The Sonoma County Local Agency Formation Commission yesterday approved the annexation of 49 acres on Ely Road to the City of Petaluma.

The land, known as the Bazanno annexation, is adjacent to La Tercera School and will eventually become a subdivision. The are also includes a proposed three-acre park site on the city general plan.

Mass Hearings Set In U.C. Park Feud

BERKELEY (UPI) — It was a confused scene in the Berkeley Veterans Memorial Building yesterday when more than 400 persons jailed in a mass arrest of alleged People's Park demonstrators had their day in court.

Berkeley Municipal Judge Mario Barsotti divided the defendants into three large groups which will appear separately next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to have a date set for their jury trials.

About one-third entered pleas of innocent and others withheld their pleas until their next appearance. nobody pleaded guilty.

Among the defendants are Richard W. Beban, 21, and James Kimo Campbell, 22, students at the College of Marin who were working for the Berkeley radio station KPFA when they were arrested.

Neither entered pleas yesterday and were scheduled to return Tuesday.

Both gave copies of letters from Lincoln Bergman, news director of KPFA, attesting that the two were working and that he had forgotten to get them a daily press pass, to the district attorney's office in an effort to have charges against them dropped.

Several major motions were made on behalf of the defendants.

The first asked that charges against six defendants be dismissed on grounds that their rights were violated during the mass arrest and during their confinement at the Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center. Some 200 defendants later joined in the motion.

Another motion asked that about 75 defendants be tried independently of the groups in which they had been placed.

Meanwhile, University of California authorities launched a barrage of serious disciplinary charges at Daniel Siegel, who is slated to be next year's student body president at Berkeley.

The six specific charges and other unspecified ones were to be reviewed today by the Committee in Student Conduct, composed of five faculty members and four students.

Most of the accusations sprang from a May 15 speech by Siegel at Sproul Hall in which he told a rally: "Let's go down and take over the park."

Siegel also faces arraignment on June 24 on a criminal charge of inciting a riot.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The husband and mother of a woman killed in a commuter train accident in San Mateo County have filed a $500,000 wrongful death suit against Southern Pacific and three other firms.

Mrs. Barbara Walsh of Los Altos was one of three persons killed when a pipe rammed through a San Francisco-bound train Feb. 10.

Her husband, Thomas, and mother, Mrs. Virginia W. Morse, filed suit against S.P., Southern Pacific Pipelines, Alec Robertson-Bakersfield Construction Co. and ARB Inc.

They charged S.P. "carelessly and negligently caused, permitted and allowed certain construction work to take place in dangerous proximity" to the railroad tracks.

Novato Cuts $410,870 Police Fund By $2,105

In its second budget session, the Novato City Council last night cut $2,105 from the police department budget, lowering it from the $410,870 recommended by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown to $408,765 for fiscal 1969-70.

It is still $52,445 more than the $356,320 budget for the current year.

The council deleted $600 for a three-wheel patrolster, $1,735 for a parking enforcement vehicle and first aid kit, and $200 for the police reserve uniforms. The police no longer have a reserve, Brown said. the council added $430 for radio expenses.

The council left unchanged Brown's recommended budget of $127,330 for the engineering department, $6,450 more than the current $120,880.

The maintenance budget for public works also was left unchanged from the manager's recommendation of $109,630, which was $7,460 less than the current $117,090.

Councilman Babe Silva questioned having a superintendent, foreman, and leadman in an 11-man maintenance crew. The council left this question to be answered at a later budget meeting with Public Works Director Clifford E. Temps.

The only other budget approved by the council was the $31,045 traffic stafety budget, up $3,960 from the current $27,085.

The council will resume budget deliberations at 8 p.m. today.

THE REV. AND Mrs. Samuel L. Banks Jr. of Marin City have served as a foster home for children in Marin County for three years. They relax with their own children, Javette, two years old, picking the piece she wants to snap into her game, and four-year-old Samuel III on his father's lap.

HOMES FOR HOMELESS

Family Opens Its Home To Children

Third in a series describing the goals of an inter-agency committee searching for substitute homes for Marin men, women and children in need of a warm and understanding atmosphere.

By JOAN LISETOR

A crash on the freeway — the occupants of the car, a husband and wife, are injured. In the back seat of the car are two small children.

Mother and father require hospitalization, but what happens to the two small children who have no relatives in the immediate area?

If the accident had occured in Marin County they would have been placed in a receiving home until relatives could have been contacted or the parents had recovered.

THERE ARE three types of substitute homes for children in Marin County, and the Samuel L. Banks Jr. family of Marin City has served as a foster home in each category.

"We heard there was a need and thought we might be able to help," says Bobbie Banks, whose foster mother career began in 1966.

For one year the Bankses opened their home to children who were separated from their natural parents and in need of a home for a variety of reasons such as illness, unemployment, imprisonment or mental instability of the parents.

"When it was time for our license to be renewed the social worker told us of the need for a receiving home, and again we thought we might be able to help," Mrs. Banks explains.

DURING THE time the Bankses home was one of Marin County's three receiving homes they were on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Their home was continuously available to children of all ages who otherwise would have no one to care for them in an emergency.

The Marin County Probation Office and the police departments know when relatives, neighbors or friends are not available they can call on one of these families at any hour, and the child who is stranded will receive a warm and reassuring reception.

"It is a very demanding role to be available to children at all hours, but receiving homes perform an important service for Marin's stranded children," says Helen Williams, supervising social worker for the Marin County Department of Public Social Services and a member of the Out-Of-Home Placement Committee. "It is because of these families that we do not have to rely on the big detention shelters found in urban areas where large numbers of children of all ages are housed."

Children stay in receiving homes usually for just a few days to keep space available to accommodate the next emergency. If his parents or relatives are not able to care for him for some time, he must be placed in a regular foster home.

"IT TAKES time to select the right foster home and to prepare him for this new experience," says Miss Williams. "Because of this we are attempting to develop the third type of substitute home — good neighbor emergency homes."

The Bankses are now serving as a good neighbor home, the only one in Southern Marin. Reverend and Mrs. Banks have two children: Samuel III, four years old, and Javette, two years old.

"The children are used to having other children in the house and have developed no hostilities. To them having children come and go is the normal way of life," says Bobbie Banks.

Good neighbor homes are needed in every neighborhood of Marin County. If children could remain in their own neighborhoods and could continue in their own schools, the social workers could have the time needed to get to know them and could select foster parents according to their needs.

IN THIS case the child would have an opportunity to become acquainted with his foster parents before moving into the home, and while he is becoming acquainted he could remain in a neighborhood familiar to him and continue in the same school so he does not have to undergo the additional shock of being suddenly placed in totally unfamiliar surroundings.

"The impact of this crisis," explains Miss Williams, "can be reduced by maintaining what ties we can to the things with which he is familiar and by having enough time to prepare him for placement in a foster home."

Substitute homes of all types are needed in Marin, but the Department of Public Social Services is concentrating its efforts currently on a search for families who are willing, on occasion, to open their door to a homeless child for a relatively short period of time.

Explains Helen Williams, "Unlike the receiving home, a good neighbor home need not be on call day and night continuously. Such a family need not have an extra bedroom, only an available bed or two and the capacity and warmth to understand and respond to a distressed child."

NEXT WEEK: A home for former mental patients.

REVEREND BANKS and son Samuel practice a golf swing in front of their house. The Banks family is being used by the County of Marin as a good neighbor emergency home for distressed children in need of temporary homes with families who have the capacity and warmth to understand and respond to their needs.

Travel Plans Delay Parties

By MOLLY MARIN

Summer social activities for the Marin Ball debutantes will begin later than usual this year, as many of the girls are planning travels and other summer activities away from Marin.

The girls will gather at an instructional meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Fred Scatena Jr. in Kentfield on Tuesday morning. Mrs. Scatena is chairman for the Dec. 20 ball.

The only early summer party scheduled so far is a tea to be given by Mrs. Dewey Donnell for her daughter Sandra at the Francisca Club on June 18. Sandra is a Marin Ball debutante and is bowing also at the San Francisco Debutante Ball on June 21.

Other party dates for Marin debs are set for the latter part of August and early September. The Peter Behrs of Mill Valley will host a dinner Dec. 19, after the rehearsal for the Debutante Ball, to honor their deb daughter, Trudi. The setting will be the Ft. Mason Officers Club in San Francisco. The ball will be held the following evening at the St. Francis Hotel, the second year that the ball will be held there.

IT'S A BIG week for Air Force Academy Cadet John W. Martin Jr. of Montgomery, Ala. Yesterday he, as wing cadet commander at the Colorado Springs Academy, was chosen to present a saber to President Richard M. Nixon following the President's speech to the graduating class of cadets at the academy. And tonight he will arrive in Marin to be married Saturday at Hamilton Air Force Base to Karen Traverso, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Normand Traverso. The coupe met when Karen was a deb at the Hamilton Air Force Base Debutante Ball and John was selected to be her escort for the formal evening.

LINDA TRIEBER of Belvedere and Bonnie Cooke of Kentfield will spend six weeks traveling in Europe this summer under the auspices of the Foreign Study League. The girls, both juniors at Redwood High School, will be staying at colleges in England, France, the Netherlands, Germany and Italy, where they will study comparative government and culture. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trieber of Belvedere. Bonnie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Barry Cooke of Kentfield.

The Triebers and their younger children, Lisa and Ricky will vacation in Mexico, visiting Mexico City and Acapulco.

SEVERAL MARIN residents have just returned from a three week tour of eight countries in Europe with a group from the Bay Area accompanied by television and radio personality Joe Dolan. Marinites making the trip were the Elmer Hembergers and Mrs. Agnes Johnston of Belvedere, Mrs. Myra Falch of Corte Madera and the Russ Lauterwassers and Melvin Collinses of San Rafael. The group stopped over in London, Paris and Rome.

MR. AND MRS. Douglas Schef of Mill Valley report a highlight of a vacation in the south was a visit to Rosedown Plantation and Gardens in St. Francisville, La. This is a restored plantation empire in the Felicianas, the region made famous by the artist-naturalist John James Audubon, who painted more than 30 of his famous birdlife studies there a century ago.

Other Marinites who were recent visitors to the plantation were Dr. and Mrs. K. G. Walkmeister of San Rafael.

Disappearing Wrinkles Launched Thriving Business 40 Years Ago

TRENTON, N. J. (UPI)— More than 40 years ago face lifts were virtually unknown. It was a time of trolley cars, ice boxes, silent movies. Beauty treatments were in the embryonic stage.

But the theory of tightening excess skin to eliminate the tell-tale creases on the face made good sense to Alice Taylor.

She hit upon a specialized adhesive- back cloth which, purely from a sense of whimsy, she cut into the shape of wings.

The best time to stick it on, she figured, was at night. Facial muscles are relaxed during sleep and can be manipulated more easily. As a working woman, proprietor of Trenton's first ready-to-wear dress shop, she also knew it was most convenient to apply the wrinkle fighting wings at night.

Thus began a nightly regime of cleansing, massaging and tightening. Soon, and almost as much to her surprise as her friends', the hateful wrinkles disappeared. And equally surprising she found herself the entrepreneur of a thriving—if non-paying business: producing hundreds of her patented "wings" for friends with similar problems.

Aided by her good friend, Trenton's famous woman banker Mary Roebling, she launched what was to become a thriving business. One request followed another and "Hollywood Wings" were born—the Hollywood added in recognition of the many demands pouring in from filmdom where a wrinkle could mean unemployment.

Today the business, marking its 40th anniversary, is carried on by the inventor's daughter, Betty Taylor Kerney, also of Trenton.

"I suppose you could say it's just another 'better mousetrap' story," Mrs. Kerney says. "Our advertising budget is small. It's mostly a case of one woman telling another."

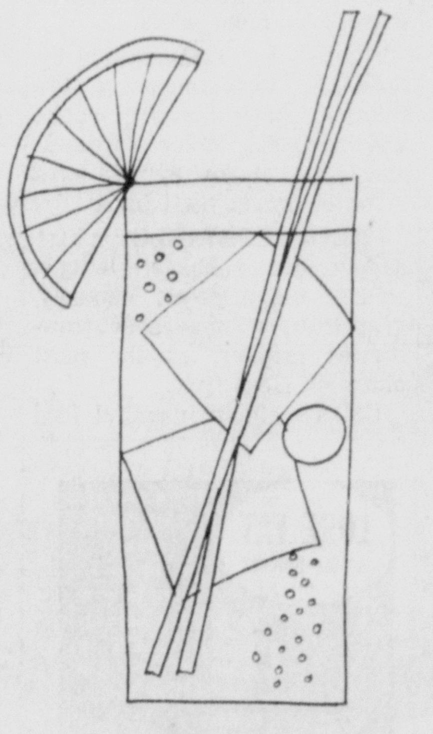
A "wings" scrapbook of letters reads like a "Who's Who of Beautiful Women," but they're not for publication.

"We've become a very public kind of society," Mrs. Kerney said. "But a lady's wrinkles still are just between her and her Maker."

Regarding beauty advice, Mrs. Kerney will only quote her mother in saying—"Start early."

"Don't wait to see that first wrinkle. Replenish the natural oils daily with a good rich cream, massage the face and neck methodically and religiously, apply a frisky astringent to spur circulation and, of course, use Wings in the danger zones."

The danger zones: between brows, on the forehead and around the mouth.



This is a cool-you-off.

We have cool-you-offs too. Not to drink. To wear. We have dresses that bare themselves like bathing suits. We have shirts and skirts and shorts and such made out of sheer little fabrics like voiles and lawns and eyelets and such. We have breezy culottes and things with halter tops and swingy skirts and see-through shirts and short pants and shorter pants. Plus all kinds of things with all kinds of cut-outs. Not to mention the fact that all of it is just waiting for you to try on in sweet air-conditioned comfort. Like to play it cool this summer? Then run right in and collect a bunch of cool-you-offs. Now. At our place. They're better than iced cold lemonade.

Airman Writes Girl Friend But Is Not Allowed A Date

DEAR HELEN:

I always thought advice columns were just a silly gag, but now I need advice, so I'm hoping yours isn't.

Two months before I went into the Air Force, I met a beautiful girl. She was 15 and I was 19, and her folks wouldn't let her date, much less an older guy.

So we met wherever we could. Her parents figured we'd forget each other, but instead we wrote every day while I was away — until her father dug out some of the letters she'd been saving, read them and got the wrong impression. They weren't bad, Helen, but a guy has to say it when he likes a girl.

Well, she was forbidden to write or receive letters, but got around that by using a friend's address. Now the friend is moving, and besides I may be coming home on leave soon, and I want to date my girl. I don't want to sneak any more.

How can I get accepted by her family? She is now over 16 and allowed to date, but I get the impression it won't be me, if her dad has anything to say about it. — STOPPED G. I.

DEAR G. I.:

Perhaps a sensible, thoughtful letter to your girl's parents might win you a good conduct pass. But don't start it, "I always thought parents were just a necessary evil . . ." Learn a little tact, Airman! — H.

PERSONAL TO "POET IN THE GRASS, ALAS!!" I think your pipe dreams have gone to pot. Your writing shows promise, but if you'd make a living as an author, remember this: Pothead poetry won't get you a can of beans — or even a lid. You'll never be in clover while you're on the grass, my friend. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Four of us are writing this letter. We live in a friendly neighborhood where a bunch of us 14- to 16-year-olds get together to play records under the supervision of a parent.

There is a boy of 17 who horns in and ruins everything. He gets on the good side of our folks by bringing food and gifts. Then, when the adults' backs are turned he tries to get smart. One time when my girl friend's mother went to the store, he turned out the lights. By the time we got them on again, my friend's blouse had been ripped. He persuaded her mother it was just an accident, but it isn't always an accident when he gets handy.

We don't want to make trouble, but he spoils the fun. We've hinted for him to leave (he's always the last one to go home), and even tried throwing him out but he made a joke of it. Can you tell us how to ged rid of an over-eager pest? — UNSUCCESSFUL PEST EXTERMINATORS.

DEAR UPE:

Give your parents the straight dope and let them hit the pest exterminator button. — H.

Pork And Beef Prices Up, Remain In Plentiful Supply

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that food shoppers will find good displays of meat and poultry and some choices in fresh fruits and vegetables in food stores and supermarkets this first weekend in June.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys continue to lead as the most abundant meats. Beef cuts in the abundant class are roasts and steaks. Pork items that should be in ample supply are ham and smoked picnics in most areas along with bacon, Boston butts, chops, roasts, and sausage in some areas.

The fish list, as submitted by the U.S. Department of the Interior, shows that fish sticks and portions, Maine sardines, and fish fillets are the fish buys to watch for in most areas.

FRESH VEGETABLES in best supply are cabbage, lettuce, onions, and potatoes. Bananas, grapefruit, oranges and strawberries continue as the most abundant fresh fruit.

USDA's official plentiful food list for June features milk and dairy products. Other plentifuls are canned and frozen sweet corn, canned tomatoes and tomato products, turkeys and rice.

IN THE WEST:

Both beef and pork prices are higher in all Western markets while eggs, butter, and poultry prices remain largely unchanged from last week.

Beef ribs are higher in San Francisco and Portland. Beef loins are lower in San Francisco and higher in Los Angeles and Portland. Other choice beef cuts are higher in all markets.

Fresh pork loins are higher in San Francisco and other markets. Boston butts are higher in San Francisco and other cuts are higher in all markets. Smoked hams are higher in Portland. Sliced bacon is higher in all markets and slab bacon is higher in Portland.

CHICKEN FRYERS are lower and young tom turkeys under 22 pounds are higher.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include: Apples, avocados, bananas, cherries, grapefruit, oranges, strawberries, cabbage, lettuce, onions and potatoes.

Great Snack

Spicy applesauce on waffles is good for breakfast or an after-school or late-night snack. Heat a 1 pound can of applesauce, ½ teaspoon of cinnamon and ⅛ teaspoon of nutmeg in a small saucepan. Makes enough for a 9 ounce package of frozen waffles or 6 servings.

Combed

Combed cottons have been "combed" of short fibers, leaving the longer lengths.

'A Father Holds You Tight When You're Little, Afraid'

NEW YORK (UPI) — What is a father?

"A father is a man who picks you up and holds you tight when your (sic) little and afraid."

"A father is a person who most little boys fight over who has the strongest or the smartest."

"A FATHER knows when you're too old to be kissed."

These definitions of what dear old Dad means to his children are excerpts from a delightful little book out just in time for Father's Day June 15. Its authors are Lee Parr McGrath and Joan Scobey, it is illustrated by Lisl Weil, and the book is done in cooperation with schools in New York and Texas.

"What is a Father" Essandess division, Simon & Schuster will make you laugh, but also treasure the head of the household that, as the authors say, "those who may see him least — love him best — his children."

CHILDREN SEE fathers in assorted lights. To one, "a father is your next best friend." The child didn't say who is the best friend.

To another, "a father is someone to be respected. He sometimes takes the place of God."

A little girl wrote that "If we "Daddys (sic) were put on the earth for the purpose to take care of us kids. And some do and some don't."

A LITTLE GIRL wrote that "If we never hed (sic) a father we would have never been and that's something we should be grateful for."

One boy came to defense of the father who is asked to help around the house — "A father shouldn't be given all the household chores to do."

ONE LITTLE BOY was a bit doubtful of Dad's role. "You go to a father when you're in a spot," he said. "He gives you some advice and sometimes it can get you into trouble. A father is a help at everything but there's one thing you have to be careful of he's not always wright (sic)."

"A father is the man who sits at the head of the table," wrote another. "Sometimes he pulls teeth out. He is the best at putting worms on fish hooks, or taking off the fish. He is always bursting with advices."

One little girl said father "isn't the boss of our house because my mother is. But she lets him stay up to 10 o'clock p.m. just to see the news." Another child saw father as "ruler of the household and television set."

TO ONE little girl a father "for most children he is an idle (sic)." A little boy described Dad as "a person hoo (sic) coaches your baseball game when he's not the coach."

Another said a father was a man who "keeps saying when I was your age."

Boy Scout Council Forms Codicil Club

The Boy Scouts of America's Marin council has organized a Codicil Club and set its goal at 250 codicils in wills, moneys from which will be used to advance scouting in Marin County.

So far the club has 25 codicils, Roy M. Michael, chairman of the Boy Scout Trust Fund said today.

He explained that interested persons may make out a codicil, an addition to their will, naming the council as beneficiary.

The person need not disclose the amount he has set aside in the codicil nor is one's name made known unless the codicil writer wishes to publicly acknowledge it, added Michael.

Funds will be used to send needy boys to scout camps, build new facilities and make scouting available to more youths as the county's population grows.

The council's three camps — Tamarancho in Fairfax, Marin Sierra at Emigrant Gap, Nevada County, and the recently acquired Camp Ruppert near Ukiah, will also benefit from the codicils, Michael said.

Michael says that the club has a film which tells about the benefit of codicils to scouting which is available at the Marin council office at 739 A Street, San Rafael.

He stressed the fact that persons do not have to become a member of the club to help the council in their wills. Other avenues, he said, include securities, real estate, life insurance policies and personal property.

Human Error Held Cause Of Gas Explosion

GARY, Ind. (UPI) — The gas explosions that rocked Glen Park in Gary Tuesday were caused by human error, an official of Northern Indiana Public Service Co. said yesterday.

Nipsco district manager James Breed said a company crew was responsible for the explosions and subsequent fires. Breed said the crew was in South Glen Park testing lines in the area which had been converted from low to medium pressure when it discovered a leak in an eight-inch pipe.

Breed said workmen were about to reduce the pressure to repair the leak when a valve that separates the medium pressure system from the low pressure system "was inadvertently opened" by the Nipsco crew.

The sanity hearing was ordered after her attorney, Albert Rizzo, told the court she would not cooperate in the preparation of her defense. She had been examined by two psychiatrists who submitted recommendation.

Mrs. Walsh, 42, is accused of the manslaughter of her patient, Mrs. Gloria Giannis, who died Jan. 5 from an overdose of drugs at the women's apartment in Santa Rosa. She is also accused of forging Mrs. Giannis's name to two checks after her death.

Mrs. Walsh is to be sentenced Monday in Marin Superior Court for the theft of valuables from the home of a Fairfax couple by whom she was employed.

San Rafael School Bonds On Ballot Again Tuesday

Voters in the San Rafael Elementary School District will go to the polls Tuesday to cast ballots on a $2.1 million bond measure, a repeat of the proposal defeated in February.

Board members say they have called another election because of "the continued critical need for classroom space."

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. till 8 p.m., and there are 16,619 persons eligible to vote.

Funds would be used to build a Glenwood Middle School, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, improve Davidson Junior High School and make improvements at older schools.

The intent is to convert to the middle school system throughout the district, eliminating sixth grades at elementary schools, and to relieve overcrowding and eliminate portable classrooms.

Generally, the same program was offered in February, gaining 60.4 per cent approval from voters, about 6 per cent short of the two-thirds majority needed for passage.

Board members estimate that passage would increase the district's bond tax rate 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation, costing the owner of an average home an additional $7.50 a year. The bonds would be redeemed over a 25-year period.

No formal argument against the proposed measure has been submitted to voters.

More than 400 pupils are being housed in 17 leased, temporary classrooms, which board members feel are costly and educationally inadequate.

"San Rafael taxpayers are paying a 25 per cent premium to use temporary classrooms," the board stated.

Your Elementary Schools Committee, campaigning for bond passage, noted that temporary classrooms "cost $16,000 each to purchase whereas a permanent classroom costs $25,000 approximately to build" but a permanent classroom lasts three times as long.

"Construction of a third middle school and the shift of sixth grade classes will provide the needed classrooms in neighborhood elementary schools," the committee reported.

Board members said the proposed new construction would cost about $19 per square foot, about the state average, but noted construction costs are rising, and delay will prove more costly.

Although the increase in pupils hasn't kept pace during the past year, the increase over the past five years has been about 3 per cent a year, and the district must plan for "about five new classrooms per year," the committee said.

Building additional classrooms at existing schools would be 12 to 14 per cent more expensive than building a new middle school, the committee contended.

Board members said passage of the bond measure would avoid "such alternatives as double sessions, shortened school days and over-crowded classrooms."

The planned Glenwood Middle School would be constructed in a cluster arrangement with a capacity of 900 pupils. Students would be housed in five units, accommodating 180 pupils each.

The hub of the campus would be a resource center housing a library, a language laboratory, science laboratory and an administration wing.

There would be an art building housing a home arts and art room, shop area and music room, with a small theater area — seating about 200.

There also would be a gymnasium and playfields and an outdoor amphitheater that could accommodate the entire enrollment.

The district didn't specify what improvements would be made at the older elementary schools, but board members noted these schools "are in need of modernization, particularly improvements in lighting, hearing, roofing and erosion control."

Polling places will be Sun Valley School, West End School, San Rafael City Hall, Farley residence, 1480 Lincoln Avenue, Gallinas School, MacPhail School, Oliver Hartzell School, San Pedro School, Boy Scout Hall, Second and A streets, Schools Administration building, Third and E streets, Davidson School, Laurel Dell Intermediate School, San Quentin Recreation Room, Bahia Vista School, San Rafael High School, Dufficy residence, 31 Palm Avenue, Coleman School, Tait residence, 71 Lochinvar Road, and Glenwood School.

Mill Valley Employees 5 Pct. Raise Budgeted

Mill Valley City Council lust night granted city employees a 5 per cent cost-of-living pay raise, ending a series of hearings with a proposed 1969-70 budget of about $2.1 million.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer estimated the tax rate would be $2.44 per $100 assessed valuation, as compared to the current rate of $2.31.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen called the expected tax rate hike "disgraceful" in view of increases in assessed valuation of property in the city.

Mayer countered by saying that if the tax rate "is disgraceful," it comes from a budget that was generally approved by all councilmen.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer reported to the council Monday that preliminary estimates were that the city's assessed value has increased from $34,976,690 to $37,588,763, as the result of reassessments of property.

Councilman George Wickham estimated that the city's tax rate would have reached $2.70 per $100 assessed valuation, if there hadn't been any assessment increases.

'INFLATION SQUEEZE'

Andresen contended that the rate should be held at $2.31, but Councilman Rodric L. Robinson said "The city is caught in the inflation squeeze, the same as an individual."

Councilmen granted employees the raise at a cost of $38,800 and four-week vacations after 15 years, without estimating cost, but rejected their requests for medical insurance payments for dependents, estimated to cost $10,138.

Joseph Khattir, representing the Mill Valley Employees Association, said all three requests were presented "as a package" after negotiations with Balmer, and the vote on fringe benefits wasn't acceptable.

If the dependent medical benefit is denied, then employees must have four weeks vacation after 10 years, "or we'll have to go to a mediator," Khattir said.

LEFT UNSETTLED

Since Balmer wasn't present to report on the agreement reached in negotiations, the council agreed the differences over fringe benefits would have to be resolved at another time.

The cost-of-living pay raises were granted for the entire 1969-70 year, a departure from the city's past policy of granting raises twice a year.

It provides however, for adjusting salaries in January to bring them to the median of 17 Bay Area cities which Mill Valley uses for a salary guide.

Before the council voted the 5 per cent increase for the year, several other salary motions were defeated.

A motion by Councilman Jerome C. Haucke to grant 5 per cent on dependent medical benefits was defeated by a 3-2 vote with Wickham and Meyer dissenting.

A motion to grant a 5 per cent pay raise "with no stipulations" about future action, was defeated by a 3-2 vote with Wickham, Andresen and Meyer dissenting.

The medical insurance for dependents was defeated by a 3-2 vote with Robinson and Haucke favoring it.

The four week vacation after 15 years was granted by a 4-1 vote with Haucke dissenting.

LIBRARY BUDGET

Councilmen also approved a library budget of $144,561, eliminating a new librarian, proposed for hiring in the second half of the fiscal year.

Robinson and Andresen opposed cutting the new librarian and voted against the library budget in protest.

Wickham pointed out that requests for new positions by the fire chief and police chief had been turned down,and in view of that he couldn't see granting a new position for the library.

Without county contribution to help pay for service to out-of-city residents who use the library, the council has approved charging nonresidents $14 a year for a family membership card in the library. Balmer has estimated the nonresident fee would produce $14,000 in revenue.

Under capital improvements, the council added $8,000 to complete payment for moving the existing recreation center to a site near the horseman's ring off East Blithdale Avenue, provide a parking lot at the new site, landscaping and repainting of the center. The vote was 3-2 with Wickham and Andresen dissenting.

Meyer noted that a street resurfacing program wasn't included in the budget, nor was a reserve fund established for a future recreation center.

BONDS SUGGESTED

Wickham said such major needs could be offered to the voters in a bond proposal, since they would serve the community over a number of years.

City Finance Director Frederick D. Kerr said he would present a summary of the proposed budget, including all revisions made during budget hearings, at the council's June 16 meeting.

Kerr said the new total is about $2,100,000.

Councilmen postponed discussion of the proposed major street improvement program, estimated to cost $331,000, since it involved only gasoline tax funds.

Among items eliminated from the capital improvements budget were replacement of a footbridge on Cascade Avenue, crossing Old Mill Creek, $2,400; utilities for the harbor site, $30,000; culverts at Vista Linda at Sheridan, $2,600; at Hill Street at East Blithedale Avenue, $14,000; and at Miller Avenue and Una Way, $15,000.

Burglar Takes $527 Loot In Sausalito

A burglar stole cash, jewelry and other items valued at $527 Tuesday from the residence of John C. Arpels, 150 Cloudview Trail, Sausalito police reported yesterday.

Missing, Arpels told police, were $240 in $20 bills, a clock-radio, a lighter, a watch, a ring, a money clip, three pairs of shoes, a Spanish letter opener, eight bottles of liquor, three ornamental daggers, a denim jacket and a pipe.

Court Official Talks Of Suit Over Raises

Marin County Court Commissioner E. L. Nininger yesterday demanded that County Clerk George H. Gnoss be paid another $1,500 a year as jury commissioner and threatened a court suit if the amount is not paid.

He made the statement late yesterday during a hearing on the superior court budget before the Marin County Board of Supervisors. In a sharp exchange, Supervisor Chairman John F. McInnis replied he does not like to be threatened.

The supervisors refuesed to allow the $1,500 and declined another request by Nininger that his secretary; Junetta Younglove, be given a raise of $275 per month; and approved the county administrator's recommendation of $326,219 for the superior court budget, up from this year's $296,137. Most of the increase is for the newly established fifth superior court department.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said he would refuse to pay the $1,500 on grounds that Gnoss's $19,500 salary already includes pay for his added work as commissioner.

Nininger argued that his requests are needed for smooth operation of a new jury assembly system which he is instituting so that a large jury panel is set up from which to draw jurors from for several trials instead of a panel for each trial.

The County Administrator replied that such pay requests should have gone through the county personnel director under the normal salary schedules.

Nininger then made his parting shot, warning he could not be responsible for the jury assembly system.

Tomales High Office Issue Postponed

Students at Tomales High School have postponed until fall the controversial question of whether the school principal or the students themselves shall determine a student's fitness for office in the student government.

The question, originally to have been put to a student vote yesterday, will be taken up by a constitution revision committee during the summer and presented to the students the first week of school in the fall, according to Madelyn Angress, a member of the committee.

Anthony Matulich, superintendent of Tomales High School District and principal of Tomales High, said that trying to deny the school administrator the power to disqualify a candidate would be foolish, because the school trustees and not the students were running the school.

Questioning of the student body constitution came to a head last week when Matulich, as permitted by the constitution, refused to allow Robert Borello to run for president of the student body. Matulich gave no reason. At the election Tuesday, Borello nevertheless won with a write-in vote of 91-86, defeating Dennis Rodoni.

Matulich then refused to allow Borello to take office, causing some 59 to 75 students to stage a sit-out, during which they elected a committee to undertake revision of the constitution.

Meanwhile the students agreed to accept Rodoni as president, since that was in compliance with the existing constitution.

This was the first election in which cheer leaders and pom pon girls were elected and the office of secretary-treasurer was separated into two offices.

A constitutional revision to make these changes was also to have been voted on yesterday, but was not ready. It was to be presented to the student assembly this afternoon for its vote so that these officers could be installed.

Gay Mann, a senior, has been chairman of the constitution revision committee, but will not be working on the constitution this summer because she is graduating, Miss Angress said. The other members of the committee who will be working on it are: Dennis Rodoni, the new president; William Hendren, Teri Senton and Linda Tremari, according to Miss Angress.

W. R. Lomax New Poverty War Head

A former supervisor with the San Francisco Economic Opportunity Council has been hired as executive director of Marin's EOC program.

Willis Robert Lomax, 34, started work yesterday at the EOC's multiservice center at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. He will receive $14,000 a year.

Lomax replaces Victor H. Cary, who resigned to take a position with the model cities program of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Lomax's last job was as supervisor of program and contract compliance monitoring with the San Francisco EOC. Before that he was a job development and program monitor with that agency.

He also is a former job developer, employment specialist and field representative with the Bay Area Urban League and did social welfare research with the United Community Fund of San Francisco.

Lomax was a member of the citizens committee that established an antipoverty program for San Francisco and later was a member of the board and chairman of the Western Addition Community Action program.

WILLIS R. LOMAX
Cary's replacement

Born in St. Louis, he graduated from a Flint, Mich., high school and earned a bachelor of arts degree in social welfare from San Francisco State College in 1966. He is now doing graduate work in social welfare and public administration.

Lomax lives in San Francisco but is seeking a home in Marin.

Greyhound Mediation Try Opens

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Federal mediator called union mechanics and Greyhound Bus Lines officials together again today for talks aimed at averting a strike which could strand 23,000 Bay Area commuters, 4,000 of them from Marin.

Roger Randall of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, met with negotiators at 10 a.m. but a quick settlement was doubtful.

Meanwhile, Greyhound rescinded a layoff notice issued last week which would have idled as many as 500 drivers fom Novato to Palo Alto tomorrow.

Randall said the notice was issued when a strike by the 300 members of the mechanics' union — Lodge 1305 of the International Association of Machinists — appeared imminent.

Although he said there is no immediate threat of a strike while the talks are continuing, Randall said, "Realistically, there is still a real possibility of a strike."

Union officials have agreed to withhold strike action while the talks continue, at least through today. They have the authority from the rank and file to call a strike at any time, however.

The union is demanding $1.50 an hour more in pay, $58 a month in health and welfare payments and other benefits.

Rancher Fined $100 On Creek Pollution Count

Wilson D. Beebe, owner of a ranch near Olema, was fined $100 and put on three years' probation in Northwest Marin Justice Court yesterday after being convicted of polluting a creek on his ranch.

Judge David R. Baty levied the fine and ordered Beebe to correct the condition which has allowed cow manure into the creek and resulted in the killing of fish. Beebe was arrested May 28.

Baty also fined three non-Marin fishermen for taking over their limit and undersized clams or abalone.

F. A. Zehringer, 51, and Robert E. Dutra, 38, both of Pinole, were fined $150 each and had their fishing licenses suspended for two years for taking undersized red abalone on Tomales Bay.

Rene Heysteck of San Francisco was fined $50 for taking 42 undersized clams and 47 more than the legal limit on Tomales Bay.

Two Tribes To Take Over College Lot

Some "Trobriand Islanders" of the South Pacific and "Kwakiutl Indians" of Vancouver Island, British Columbia, will hold a festival at the College of Marin tomorrow complete with baked salmon and roast pig.

The two peoples will reenact activities such as marriage, gardening, magic and shamanistic curing ceremonies.

The "Kwakiutls" will display a scaled-down long-house (dwelling place) which they built and the "Trobrianders" a yam hut.

Ceremonies will start at noon at the large parking lot off Kent Avenue and the pig and salmon, being started at 6 a.m., are expected to be ready for sampling by 1 or 2 p.m.

The festival givers are not really from foreign lands but students of Diane Wickstrom's cultural anthropology class, student Mary Mohler reported.

Two Guns Taken

Two guns, a 30-30 carbine and a 12-gauge shotgun owned by Robert B. Borzini of 105 Bayview Street, San Rafael, were taken from his unlocked garage sometime after May 26. The guns were valued at $140, police reported today.

Quentin Visit Rules Tightened, Draw Fire

A general cutback on civilians entering San Quentin Prison has drawn criticism from an American Friends Service Committee spokesman who claimed the Quakers' work at the prison has been hampered.

A Quaker counselor, Jan Marinissen, who has screened prisoners for the Austin MacCormick House, a half-way house in San Francisco, for seven years was denied "open gate privileges" April 11 in the general tightening of admission.

However, Associate Warden Wayne Bartels said Marinissen's work "was a duplication of effort, something our probation people can handle."

Bartels, explaining the cutback on civilian entrances, said, "We've reached the saturation point" The prison does not have the staff to properly supervise growing numbers of visitors, many of them volunteers."

He said San Quentin and parole authorities use the half-way house and said inmates will be released to go to the MacCormick house for screening.

Quakers, like anyone else, can also apply for a pass, and if approved can go in.

Bartels said other cuts have been made in some of the volunteer programs such as Inside Out, a group of businessmen who help the prison prepare inmates for release.

"Nothing has been eliminated," he emphasized.

Bartles also said that not a single inmate has asked why Marinissen is no longer coming to the prison.

Larkspur Turns Down Murray Park Shops

The Larkspur City Council last night refused to be swayed by promises of conservation of trees and restoration of an old house and turned down an appeal to rezone a site in Murray Park for commercial use.

Charles McLeran, who was appealing a denial by the city's planning commission, told the council that his plans for the site included "high quality" shops patterned after San Francisco's Jackson Square and the restoration of the 100-year-old Murray home.

The portion of the approximately 2.6-acre parcel fronting on Magnolia Avenue at the north end of Larkspur is already zoned for commercial use but McLeran was asking that the business zoning be extended into part of the residential area of Murray Park.

Speaking for the project were attorney William M. Bennett of Kent Woodlands, who said most of the trees in the area would be retained, and architect Eugene E. Crawford, who describes preliminary plans for small shops and the old house.

A petition signed by about 45 residents of Murray Park, many of whom were present to voice their opposition last night, was presented to the council saying that the residents did not want the commercial zone.

The councilmen voted 5-0 to turn down the project, saying that they liked the plan but it was intended for the wrong place. Councilman William G. Fleckles suggested that McLeran design a "planned district" for the site.

In other action last night, the council voted to close a temporary access road over private property into the Meadowood subdivision on Dec. 3.

Although 300 residents of neighboring Heather Gardens had signed a petition asking that the extension of Holcomb Avenue be left open to prevent traffic hazards, the council decided that the access had been promised for only two years when agreed upon in 1967.

Mayor Neil R. Brixon said that giving the developer of Meadowood, Harry Reed, until December to use the street gave him time to develop aother access. Brixon recommended that Ward Street be made the permanent entry into the subdivision.

The council voted to leave a walkway three to five feet wide on the present access road.

The Larkspur City Coucil also:

POLICE — Heard a plea from Raymond Kesner of the Support Your Local Police Committee asking tha Larkspur not accept federal funds for police and that the city support state legislation declaring a moratorium on administration of such funds.

LAUNCHING — Discussed a proposed boat launching ramp at Greenbrae but held back approval until plans for policing boats on the creek can be presented.

COMMISSION — Reappointed Charles Curley to the planning commission.

BUDGET — Set June 18 for budget hearings.

Switchboard Hopes For Fairfax Dance

AN IDEA

Are you reading the Want Ads every day, hoping to spot a good buy? Then consider for a moment another way of doing the same thing which we think may be better.

It is a fact that often OUR best buys never get advertised at all. We have over $13 million in Marin property listed for sale at any one time, and naturally we can't advertise all we have for sale every day. And furthermore, we call OUR buyers BEFORE a property gets to the papers, and if it is what they want, it is sold before it is advertised at all!

So our suggestion is that you tell us what it is that YOU are looking for in Marin. Chances are we have it listed now, or if not, that we will have it listed soon, because we have a continuous flow of new listings from a backlog of FIFTY-NINE YEARS of selling here (relistings) as well as from our complete coverage with SIX MARIN COUNTY OFFICES.

As soon as we spot what you are looking for, WE WILL CALL YOU FIRST, BEFORE WE ADVERTISE THE PROPERTY. Become one of our buyers . . . call

Profits Held Irrelevant To Proposed Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Public Utilities Commission examiner ruled yesterday Pacific Gas & Electric Co.'s profits from electricity are irrelevant to its proposed $35 million hike in gas rates.

Examiner Carol T. Coffey said the commission was not currently interested in electricity profits as he denied a staff attorney's request for the figures.

Coffey agreed with company attorney John C. Morrisey that "the gas department has to pay its own way" and such information would not be relevant.

PUC counsel David R. Larrouy requested the electricity profit figures during testimony by K. C. Christensen, PG&S senior vice president.

Central Committee Picks GOP Women

Three Marin County Republican leaders have been named associate members of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, committee chairman Charles Michals said today.

Named to the committee were Mrs. Diane G. Bramman of Mill Valley, Mrs. Else Innes of Ross and Mrs. Loris O'Leary of Tiburon.

Plans Sought By Rec Panel

The Strawberry Recreation District board last night asked the Marin County Planning Commission to request developers with projects in the district to present their proposals to the board prior to action by the county planning commission, secretary Jeanne Heick reported.

The request applies particularly to requests for changes in the master plan and rezoning, Mrs. Heick said.

The board also heard that tennis court resurfacing has been completed and that summer lessons for adults and children will begin Saturday, she said.

The board set a special meeting for 8 p.m. Wednesday at Strawberry Point School to discuss the proposed community building.

King School Principal To New Post

Robert Thompson, principal of troubled Martin Luther King School, is being reassigned within the Sausalito School District.

Thomson would not say whether he requested the reassignment, and Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato and Bruce E. Woelfel, president of the district board, said they didn't know the details.

Supt. Phillip W. Schneider announced at a parents' meeting last night that a five-member committee, including teachers, himself and board member Martha Freebairn-Smith, would seek a new principal.

Schneider said the new principal would have to be "experienced in a multi-ethnic setting" and "committed to integrated education."

Amato said Thomson's new duties were uncertain.

Co-Ed Charged In Santa Rosa

A Corte Madera co-ed and a Los Angeles musician were arraigned yesterday in Sonoma Central Municipal Court on charges of indecent exposure.

Ann Estelle Zimmerman, 18, of 66 Birch Avenue, was released on $625 bail and set for a preliminary hearing June 13 at 9 a.m. Her companion, Michael Stephen Taylor, 19, was released on $625 bail and set to appear June 12.

The two were arrested Tuesday afternoon when a resident of the 5400 block of Petaluma Hill Road, Santa Rosa, complained that they were nude in a nearby grassy area. Sheriff's deputies arrested them as they were walking toward the road.

Degrees Earned In New England

Two former Redwood High School students are among 325 graduates of Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt., who received bachelor of arts degrees this week.

Douglas K. Ashby, a political science major, plans to enter Stanford Law School in the fall. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ashby of Kentfield.

Another Kentfield resident, Otis R. Johnson, received his degree also in political science. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Russell Johnson.

Burglary Charge To Superior Court

Adam Nicholas Mikolon, 38, of San Anselmo yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of burglarizing a Bolinas home last November. He was told to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

Mikolon was arrested inside the home of Thomas Jones Barfield after a neighbor called deputies to say that a burglary was taking place.

TENSE DIALOGUE

School Turmoil Remains Thorny

By DAVID DIETZ

Parents and staff in the Sausalito School District found little agreement last night as they opened a search for causes of the turmoil surrounding Martin Luther King School.

After nearly three hours of tense and sometimes bitter debate, the meeting broke up inconclusively, but the group agreed to meet again next week.

The meeting, summoned by the Sausalito School District Parents Club, drew about 100 persons to St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

It opened on a hushed note as Dist. Supt. Phillip W. Schneider said, "I've never been involved in so many rumors and speculation — which indicate to me that you people are scared."

Some whites accused the administration of permissiveness with problem students and of failing to support disciplinary measures taken by teachers. They told of incidents of white students being assaulted by blacks.

Blacks, including members of the district staff, criticized a lack of participation by whites in the affairs of the district and said full integration could not be achieved at Martin Luther King School until more black teachers and staff were hired.

One black teacher at King, William Bradley (Chaka), who has been aswirl in convtroversy since he joined the district early last month, said harmony could not be attained until "concern was shown to black and Third World students as much as it is to white students." He asserted that there were no disciplinary problems in classes taught at King School by black teachers.

Michael Harris, a white parent from Sausalito, saw black and white students "being polarized into camps" and wondered where the responsibility lay. He also questioned whether apparent increased emphasis on a black-oriented education was not as harmful as instruction geared to whites.

Also, he asked, were cracks beginning to show in the "noble experiment" of an integrated school district established four years ago?

Schneider said integration would never be achieved "until we have no more Marin City per se," and a solid educational program supported by parents and administration, but that black and white students at King school had "done some very beautiful things together."

Polarization was inevitable, he added, because the "black youths had to get themselves together and deal with life as white youngsters have been doing almost intuitively." But Schneider said the polarization would help parents and administrators to recognize their mistakes, thus closing the gap.

Asked about the district policies on discipline, James T. Toliver Jr., assistant principal at King school, said the student was counseled and, if that failed, the parent — on whom the "basic responsibiltiy falls" — was summoned.

"How can the whole world know what's going on (at King school), but the administration doesn't?" asked a black Army sergeant and parent. He said his daughter was beaten and robbed of lunch money.

"Why have an administration?" he said. "Why not get rid of them and let the teachers and kids run the schools?"

"Where instruction is good, discipline is good," said Schneider. "Where it can't be improved, people have to go."

This led to a discussion of whether teachers who apparently couldn't teach in an integrated atmosphere could be discharged.

"There's no question that an administration and school board should start proceedings to dismiss any teacher who is ineffective," said Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel. "But boards are usually reluctant because of the hassles involved'.'

He said tenure laws didn't prevent teachers from being discharged.

The group said it wanted more teachers to attend its next meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Church.

James O. Quiett of Marin City, who is chairman of the Marin County Human Rights Commission, urged parents to try to verify reports of incidents at school and said more parents should visit King School.

He critized whites for demanding "integration on your terms. You meet me half way." Urging calm, he added, "Pull the mask off. Get to the nitty gritty."

$50,000 To Marin City For Planning

A $50,000 two-year planning grant for Marin City has been allocated by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, reported yesterday.

The funds were sought by the Marin City Council through Marin County which will put up one-third matching funds, $25,000, or equivalent in services, over the two-year period.

Mailliard said the funds would go for a revision of the Marin City master plan, a survey of community resources, development of community improvement programs and a study of the economic potential of the community.

One of the initial undertakings is expected to be a survey of the community to community needs, particularly housing.

Bench Warrant Set In Narcotics Case

A bench warrant with bail set at $5,000 has been issued by Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court for Gerald Max Gonzales, 29, of Sausalito, who failed to appear yesterday for a preliminary hearing.

Gonzales is charged with having methedrine and narcotics equipment in his possession when arrested in San Rafael Feb. 24.

Pro Golfer Lee Elder Complains Of Racial Taunts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee Elder says there are many Negroes who could be successful on the professional golf tour but they can't get the necessary financial backing.

Elder, one of the few Negroes on the pro tour, also says racial taunts at some of the tournaments he's played in California, Tennessee and Florida has persuaded him to consider bypassing those events.

The 32-year-old Washingtonian definitely will not play in the Monsanto Open in Pensacola, Fla., because, he says, the racial bias by the galleries is the worst he has encountered. The Monsanto tourney formerly was called the Pensacola Open.

"There are lots of Negro players who would do real well on the tour," Elder said in an interview. "I can name a whole list of them, but they don't play because they can't get the backing."

Elder said the golfers on the All-Negro circuit, which he played for 10 years before joining the PGA tour a little over two years ago, might encounter some minor problems because of the courses.

"They don't get an opportunity to play this kind of course on their tour," he said, pointing out over the plush Bethesda Country Club in suburban Maryland where he qualified for the U.S. Open.

"They come off the public courses and see a country club like this and have to face shots they didn't have to before. But it's like everything else, with a little practice they'll come around."

Among the Negro golfers he cited who would do well were:

Mose Brooks and J. W. White of Dallas, Henry Barbarin and James Walker Jr. of Los Angeles, James Mason of Washington, Jimmy Wilburn of Philadelphia and James McMillan of New York.

There are now 10 Negroes who are considered regulars on the PGA pro tour including Charlie Sifford and his nephew, Curtis Sifford; Pete, Cliff and Howard Brown, none related, and George Johnson.

Elder said he plays about 30 tournaments a year but in four or five he has been the target of racial taunts from the galleries.

"I'm tired of being called Nigger or Black Boy," he said. "It's just come to a head. I haven't said anything about this before but I feel I've held it underneath long enough and believe it should come to a head."

"There has been some improvements but some of the places are just as bad as they ever were," he said. "It's really hard for me to play in the South. And California is just as bad in some places.

"Unless things are improved, I'm just going to skip those tournaments," Elder said. "I talked to some of the sponsors at one tournament in California and they said things would be different next year, Well, we'll see. If things haven't improved, I'm just not going to go back."

Monsanto Open officials said yesterday racial slurs which Elder said he received here never were called to their attention.

Magazine Calls 49er Draftee A Sleeper

Running back Eugene Moore, fourth-round choice from Occidental who signed a contract with the San Francisco 49ers yesterday, is featured in this month's issue of Sport Magazine in a story titled: "Ten Sleepers In The Pro Football Draft."

Judging by the Niners' 22-year record of futility, that's what they've been drafting all along — sleepers.

Anyway, former pro great Buddy Young writes in Sports Magazine: "The 49ers have good inside runners in Ken Willard and Gary Lewis, but need somebody who can turn the corner to the outside. Moore can."

MILL VALLEYAN Tony Settember, not to be confused with August Busch, Tuesday Weld, Don January or April in Paris, drove his Class A Sedan to victory last weekend in the 30th annual Santa Barbara Sports Car Races. In overall competition he finished second.

Champ Skiers Get Together

JACQUES TILLEMENT, 23-year-old European and France water ski champion, is a Marin visitor this week, practicing with world champion Mike Suyderhoud of San Anselmo for international competition this summer.

Tillement, from the city of Metz, France near the German border, is staying at Suyderhoud's San Anselmo residence and the two of them are working out daily at Mira Monte Marina north of Novato.

The next big meets on the water ski agenda are the Berkeley championships June 14-15 and the Europe versus The Americans tourney in London June 22 at which this week's roommates will be friendly rivals.

TERRA LINDA southpaw Bill Lee is going great guns in his budding professional career with the Boston Red Sox farm system. In his first seven games for the Pittsfield, Mass. Red Sox of the Eastern-AA League, the ex-Terra Linda High and USC pitching ace compiled a 4-1 won-lost record. In 45 innings he has yielded 34 hits and 23 runs while striking out 32 and posting a nifty 2.20 earned run average.

Guess Who Won The Raffle?

CARL J. BROWN is head basketball and assistant varsity football coach at Drake High School, see? Well, the other night the Drake Benchwarmers Club held a raffle, first prize being an all-expenses paid, three-day vacation in Las Vegas, see.

We wish Coach and Mrs. Brown a happy holiday.

Incidentally, drawing the lucky number out of the barrel was former Drake star Reg Carolan of the Kansas City Chiefs. (Maybe we should wish Brown and Carolan a happy holiday.)

ABOUT A MONTH ago I reported the Fairfax-Sleepy Hollow Little League presented the first annual Dave Geoffrion Memorial Trophy for sportsmanship to a fine young lad named Dave Geoffrion Jr.

He Likes To Strike 'Em Out

Well, the 12-year-old St. Rita's School seventh-grader, whose civic-minded dad was killed in an auto accident last December, is going great guns in sportsmanship and pitching departments. Last Sunday he struck out 17 of the 18 putouts and in 28 innings this season has 71 strikeouts. It seems the boy is fulfilling his late father's fondest dreams.

SAN RAFAEL golfer Lou Buecher, a member of the Marin Country Club of Novato, has entered the fourth annual Pat Boone Celebrity Classic golf tourney at Ocean Shores, Wash. June 20, 21, 22. Buecher, a celebrity tourney regular, recently won a top prize in the Daryle Lamonica Invitational and a second place award in the Harrah's Invitational at Tahoe.

WHAT, FOOTBALL already? Yep, Redwood High will conclude its spring practice session with a scrimmage tomorrow, 4 p.m., at the Larkspur school field.

JIMMY UNDERHILL, retiring after a long career of coaching and directing athletics at Santa Rosa High, will be honored at a testimonial dinner tomorrow night at the Rose City's Flamingo Hotel.

Wayne Zahn Leads Pro Bowl Tourney

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — — Wayne Zahn of Tempe, Ariz. held the lead by 82 pins today after 18 games in the $70,000 Smallcomb Enterprises Bowling Classic.

Zahn took over the lead in the six-game afternoon round and maintained it in six games last night.

He had an 18-game total of 4,273 pins for a 239-game average going into this afternoon's six games.

The field, cut to 80 last night, will drop to 16 who will go into match play tonight.

Joe Dignam of Everett, Wash., rolled the second 300 game of the tournament but was far down in the pack.

HAPPY, HOPEFUL ATHLETES

Athletics To Begin Road Trip

OAKLAND (UPI) — Maybe a long road trip is what the Oakland Athletics need to shake them out of their doldrums.

The slumping A's, who head for Detroit and a 12-game trip tomorrow, completed a nine-game homestand last night by dropping a 6-1 decision to Tom Phoebus and the Baltimore Orioles.

3-6 RECORD

For the nine games, the A's had a dismal 3-6 record. Overall, Oakland has lost 12 of its last 15 games.

The story yesterday was that the old home run bugaboo returning to haunt Jim Hunter. The young righthander, who was second in gopher balls yielded last season, gave up three—to Don Buford, Boog Powell and Clay Dalrymple—and they raised his total to six given up in the last eight innings.

14 BLASTS

In the 75 innings he's pitched this year, Hunter has been tagged for 14 homers.

Powell also drove in another run and Brooks Robinson accounted for Baltimore's final pair with sacrifice flies.

Phoebus, in upping his record to 6-1, was touched for five hits, all singles, and the run scored off him was unearned.

Ace For 11-Year-Old

ELLSWORTH, Kan. (AP) — An 11-year-old boy who has been playing golf about a year, made a hole-in-one at the Ellsworth Country Club yesterday. Matthew Seitz used a three iron to sink his ace on the par 3, 121-yard hole No. 3.

Bitter Clippers Officially Announce They're Leaving

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Clippers have finally called it quits, but not without leveling a blast at the organization that runs soccer in the United States.

The Clippers called a news conference yesterday to confirm what had become obvious for some time—professional soccer couldn't make money in this area. Nearly $1.5 million had been lost in the effort, in fact.

But William Brinton, board member of the Clippers, said attendance was far from the Clippers' only problem.

Constant quarreling with the U.S. Soccer Football Federation and its regional subsidiary, the California Soccer Football Association, rendered much of the Clippers' efforts ineffective, Brinton said.

"It was our lamentable dealings with this governing body," said Brinton, "which was more responsible than any other single factor in compelling (the Clipper ownership) to reluctantly decide to exit from this sports field."

Brinton said the Clippers were investigating the possibility of an anti-trust suit against USSFA which, he said, harassed the team's efforts to schedule and promote its games.

"I don't think USSFA has much money," said Brinton, who is an attorney. "So the suit would be for nominal damages and would try to give the next guys who came along a chance."

The Clippers were narrowly edged for the North American Soccer League Western Division title by San Diego in 1968 and this year dropped out of the NASY because it contained no other West Coast teams.

Playing international competition, the Clippers averaged 5,000 fans a game and turned in a 7-6-2 record.

Tennis World Mourns Rafael Osuna's Death

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Tennis players, officials and fans from the United States, Australia and Europe joined Mexicans today in grieving for Rafael Osuna, who was killed in the crash of a jet plane in Monterrey yesterday.

Osuna, 30, had climaxed a brilliant international career by leading Mexico to a stunning 3-2 triumph over Australia in Davis Cup play concluded on May 25. He had defeated Bill Bowrey and Ray Ruffels in singles, and teamed with Vicente Zarazua to win the doubles and thus eliminate the Australians from cup competition for the first time in 32 years.

Osuna's death destroys any chance Mexico had of gaining the cup, or even of challenging the United States, the current holder. Against Australia, young Joacquin Loyo Mayo lost both his matches to Bowrey and Ruffels, and Zarazua is not noted for his singles play.

OFF TOUR

Osuna had not played the international tour in recent years, accounting for his absence from the current French Open championships. He had been concentrating on his duties with Cigarrera Nacional S.A., an affiliate of the Philip Morris Co.

In New York, Joseph F. Cullman III, chairman of the board of Philip Morris and the general chairman for the U.S. Open at Forest Hills this year, said he was "stunned by the tragic report from Mexico.

Giants Win, Head Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Just when they were beginning to enjoy playing the Montreal Expos, the schedule brought the San Francisco Giants home today for a short step up in competition.

The Giants are off today before entertaining Philadelphia tomorrow night in Candlestick Park, with Gaylord Perry the likely Giants' hurler.

18TH STRAIGHT

The Giants went into Montreal with a five-game losing streak and left with a two-game winning streak after handing the Expos' their 18th straight loss, 8-3, last night.

Philadelphia holds the major league loss record at 23 straight in 1961. The Phillies now are next to last in the National League East while the Expos are on the bottom, 21½ games back.

A five-run uprising in the 4th inning overcame a 3-0 Montreal lead and brought Mike McCormick his third victory against two losses.

ROUGH START

Tagging the veteran southpaw for five hits in the first two innings, the Expos scored twice in the second on pitcher Mike Wegener's single with the bases loaded.

Manny Mota's walk, Rusty Staub's single and Bob Bailey's sacrifice fly brought in the Expos' final run in the third.

With two out in the fourth, the roof fell in for Wegener. He had walked Willie Mays to open the inning before retiring Willie McCovey and Ken Henderson.

BIG INNING

But he walked Dave Marshall and Jack Hiatt singled in a run. Hal Lanier's single brought in another and McCormick scored two with a double. Don Mason's single brought in McCormick.

The Giants added three more in the ninth on singles by Mason, Bob Bonds, Mays and McCovey, and a sacrifice fly by Tito Fuentes.

McCormick held the Expos in check until the ninth, when he was relieved by Frank Linzy.

TROUBLE

"McCormick had a little trouble getting coordinated," said Giants' Manager Clyde King. "Once he got his rhythm, he was okay."

Expos' Manager Gene Mauch said Wegener "was pitching great until the 'murderer's row' of Hiatt, Lanier, McCormick and Mason came up in the fourth."

Cal Bears Have Yen, Still Need Dollars

—You may recall in our last episode of My Son, The Pitcher, the Cal Bears baseball players were getting ready to play the Oakland A's for the funds that would take them on a tour of Japan.

For those of you good enough to ask for a progress report, this is to reassure you that everything is going snidely. Everything is peaches and ketchup. Communist China should have it so good.

IN THE first place, several people showed up for that Cal-Oakland game — most of them wearing cleats. I've seen more people at a burglary. The public address announcer didn't say "Dear Sir," but the game needed a laugh track for television. It was Bat Night. Not the wooden kind, the winged kind.

IT WASN'T the kids' fault. They sold tickets. But it turned out to be the night of the seventh game of the Lakers-Celtics on TV and the Oakland A's couldn't buck that competition if they were playing the 1927 Yankees.

THE KIDS found the Oakland A's had muscled up considerably since they played them last year and it was a good thing they weren't paying for the baseballs. My son pitched well. Nobody got on base against him, most of them because they coundn't find the ball, but two of them because WE couldn't find the ball. Still, I've seen Jackson and Monday hit 'em out against $100,000 pitchers. In the immortal words of Billy Loes, who was jumped by the manager because Henry Aaron hit a homer off him, "That's what they pay him for, ain't it?"

Anyway, the Cal athletic department began to go around to Old Blues in the alumni for funds for baseball in Japan. I mean, guys throw money out of the windows for football but, for baseball, you got to go with your hat in your hand. Baseball is the orphan of major college sports.

STILL, THEY would have made it all right. Only, all of a sudden, there was that smoke in the sky again in Berkeley. Another beer hall putsch.

Abruptly, the only way a guy could solicit funds for Berkeley was not a gun. Industrialists, lawyers, doctors and organizations which had run to the bank before to help "The Big U" suggested icily, "Why don't you take your SOS to the SDS? The last contribution I made, they're throwing bricks through."

THE JAPANESE Baseball Assn., which had issued the invitation, had ponied up a million yen (or maybe it was a billion — Japan is the only place where, it you say, "I have a yen for you," the person is insulted); it had the stadia ready, the lodging, the games. All Cal had to do was get there. But they're waiting at the dock.

It is time for the cavalry. Ed Pauley, oilman, one-time economics prof who played tackle for Cal, is riding up the draw. So are Jonie Taps and Mike Frankovich and their Friars' Club. But we're still $8,000 short. The oil companies are being pumped. Bob Hope is being paged. Has anybody here seen Crosby? Come in, please, Frank. Lordy, wish Spence Tracy were still with us.

"AW," YOU SAY, "he's doing it for his kid." Well, there's nothing wrong with that but, no, I'm not. I'm doing it for 20 kids. In a sense, I'm doing it for 20,000. The innocent are the first victims of any revolution, good or bad. There are 20,000 kids up at Berkeley caught waiting at the dock. I'll help them out any way I can, too.

Iowa Schoolgirl Arrives In S.F. To Play Basketball

Denise Long To Talk Shop With Mieuli

CABLE CAR DRIBBLE—Denise Long, Warriors' draftee, dribbles around cable car gripman Cornelius Miller at the end of the Hyde Street line in San Francisco to amusement of bystanders. (AP Wirephoto)

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "The first thing I thought when I heard I'd been drafted," says Denise Long, "was, 'Do I have to play?' I thought it was like the Army."

After she learned that the choice was strictly hers and that being drafted by the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association was something more than just a publicity gimmick, Denise got intrigued by the idea of playing professional basketball.

So yesterday she arrived in San Francisco to see if maybe she could play and go to college at the same time.

COLLEGE TOUR

Warriors' owner Franklin Mieuli was in Detroit at National Basketball Association meetings when Denise, her parents and sister arrived, but he is due back today and has promised to take her for a look at several Bay Area colleges.

If she can find one she likes and if she and Mieuli can agree to terms, she could be the mainstay of a girls' league that'd play before the Warriors' regular games next season.

Averaging 69 points per game during her senior year in high school in Whitten, Iowa, Denise had her fill of basketball and was thinking about giving it up.

PRESSURE

"It wasn't as much fun anymore," she said, "there was more pressure. I was getting sick of it. But when I got drafted the enthusiasm sprung up a little. I think people are going to be interested in girls' basketball."

Denise is 18, stands 5-feet-11 and is a bright and lively girl whose pictures somehow seem not to do her justice. A trip to New York and an appearance on the Johnny Carson show made her nervous, she said, but she enjoyed meeting Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey, Bob Hope and especially Robert Wagner.

"He's a real cutie," she said.

After she had heard the Warriors had drafted her, Denise said she thought it was a joke.

"I've had people come up to me and say, "Denise, someday you'll be playing against Wilt Chamberlain," and 'Someday, you'll be drafted by the Boston Celtics.'

"I knew I could never play against men," she said, "But when they said it was a girls' league, then I thought it would go. Girls' basketball shouldn't be thought of as any less feminine than ice skating."

Cubs, Mets Continue Their Red-Hot Pace

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Chicago Cubs, leaders of the Eastern Division of the National League from the first day of the season, continue to ride the hot bats of Randy Hundley and Ernie Banks while their nearest competitors, the New York Mets, surge to the top of the standings behind razor-sharp pitching.

The Cubs won their seventh straight game yesterday with Hundley's three-run homer the key blow in a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros. Banks drove in two runs with a homer and a single as Chicago maintained its 8½-game lead over the surprising Mets.

New York got a combined 15-inning shutout from rookie Jack DiLauro, Tug McGraw and Ron Taylor as the Mets ran their winning streak to seven games with a 1-0 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers. The seven consecutive victories tie the longest Met winning streak in their eight-year history.

In other National League action, San Francisco defeated Montreal, 8-3, Cincinnati downed Pittsburgh, 5-3, San Diego blanked Philadelphia 3-0 and St. Louis edged Atlanta, 4-3.

Montreal blew a 3-0 lead as it went down to their 18th loss in a row to set an expansion club record for consecutive defeats. The Mets held the previous record of 17. Winning pitcher Mike McCormick doubled home two runs to highlight the five-run Giant fourth and the Expos never caught up.

Dick Kelley doubled home two runs in the ninth but needed relief help in the bottom of the inning as the Padres won their sixth straight game. Jack Baldschun and Billy McCool came in to end the Phillies threat.

Bob Gibson fanned Clete Boyer with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to preserve his seventh victory of the season. Vada Pinson knocked in the winning run with an eighth inning single.

Hurlers Sent Down

MONTREAL (AP)—The Montreal Expos of the National League announced last night that relief pitchers Carroll Sembera and Steve Shea have been assigned to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League.

43 Horses Die In Fire At Saratoga

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Forty-three harness racing horses perished early today when fire raged through a large barn at Saratoga Race Track.

Track officials said one horse, Adio Bet, escaped by kicking open his stall door. Attempts to save other horses were unsuccessful.

Among the horses killed was the filly Jostle, valued at more than $100,000. Jostle reached the national standings two years ago as a 2-year-old.

A groom, Joe Huska, was in the large wood barn and discovered the fire about 4 a.m. He attempted to get three horses out of their stalls, but was unable to do so.

Huska and a track guard then called firemen and concentrated on preventing the spread of the flames.

Carew Is Quite A Home Stealer

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota Manager Billy Martin says stealing home is not a forgotten art, but American League pitchers are having trouble getting the picture where Rod Carew is concerned.

The Twins' second baseman swiped home for the fifth time in five attempts this season in Minnesota's 4-2 victory over the New York Yankees last night and closed in on a couple of records. He also rapped out three hits and raised his major league-leading average to .399.

Elsewhere, Baltimore trounced Oakland 6-1, Detroit nipped California 5-4 in 10 innings, Cleveland pounded Seattle 10-4 and Washington beat Kansas City 3-1. In the only afternoon action, the Chicago White Sox hammered Boston 7-2.

TRIPLE STEAL

Carew doubled in the sixth and eventually scored the winning run on Graig Nettles' sacrifice fly and stole home with an insurance run in the eighth on the front end of a triple steal against Lindy McDaniel.

"Martin tells me to watch the pitcher when I get on third," said Carew, who has stolen only 10 bases all-told. "Watch his windup, his timing. The slide is important, too. But I can't tell you all my secrets because I might get caught."

The American League record for stealing home in one season is six by Detroit's Ty Cobb in 1915 and Cleveland's Bob Roth in 1917. Pete Reiser of Brooklyn set the major league mark with seven in 1946.

Leo Cardenas and Ted Uhlaender singled in the first two Minnesota runs in the fifth and reliever Ron Perranoski picked up his 12th save by halting a bases-loaded threat in the eighth as the Twins increased their lead in the American League West to 3½ games over Oakland. Bill Robinson homered for the Yankees.

Al Kaline drove in Detroit's first four runs with a double, infield out and sacrifice fly and then singled in the 10th inning to set up the winner as the Tigers ended a three-game losing streak. Pinch runner Dick Tracewski stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored on Bill Freehan's infield single.

Lee Maye doubled home a pair of runs and Tony Horton singled in two more in a five-run Cleveland fifth against Seattle. Vern Fuller homered in the ninth for the Indians, Sam McDowell struck out 10 Pilots in 7 1-3 innings and reliever Stan Williams fanned three more.

RBI SINGLES

Ken McMullen and Bernie Allen stroked run-scoring singles after Frank Howard's double and an intentional walk to Mike Epstein in the sixth inning as Washington beat Kansas City behind Joe Coleman's first complete game since April 9. Epstein hit his 13th homer in the fourth.

GOLF NOTES

Tam Team Awaits Tourney Results

Paul Wata, coach of the Tamalpais High School golf team, is still waiting for official word on just how his boys did last Thursday in the Bay Area Tournament of Champions at Lake Chabot Golf Club, Oakland.

He knows his Indians didn't win, but he doesn't know where they placed among the 27 schools competing.

Skyline High School of Oakland and Fortuna High tied at 368, with Skyline winning the playoff. Tam's five golfers finished 14 strokes back at 382. Par score would have been 360.

Wata said Piedmont High School's Jack Stack, golf coach and tourney director, hasn't sent out official results of the tournament yet. "But I think we'll finish in the top 10," he added.

Individual scores for the Marin team were Wayne Smith, 72; Steve Goldfien, 75; Jeff Devoto, 75; Craig Smith, 80, and Dean Rider, 80.

MARIN COUNTY CLUB golfers are getting ready for the first and second rounds of the President's Cup Tournament scheduled Saturday and Sunday on the Novato club's links. Pat Niles, Bernard Varney, Armand Cueva and Jim Alexander teamed up to score 54 and win last weekend's best ball foursome tourney at Marin C.C. Second place went to the team of Sil DeMaestri, Frank Conti, Ross MacKay and Al Shaddy.

MEADOW CLUB of Fairfax will be hosting the Marin County Tournament of Champions this year, but date has yet to be set. It will be the third annual event, the first two tourneys at Novato's Indian Valley and San Geronimo National courses. Host site is on a revolving basis.

Winners of the first two events were George Scherba of Indian Valley club in 1967 and Russ Adams of the Mill Valley club in 1968.

The second annual Marin Women's T of C. is set in August at San Geronimo. Mrs. William May won the crown last year.

Bill Ranney of Fairfax will be out to defend his title in the Petaluma Jaycees 13th annual Walkathon from Petaluma to Sonoma Saturday.

According to race officials, more than 500 walkers are expected to compete in 12 different categories — boys, girls, young and old. Persons under 18 must have written consent from a parent or guardian.

The starting line will be the Safeway parking lot in Petaluma, with the finish in the main part of Sonoma.

BOWLING TIPS

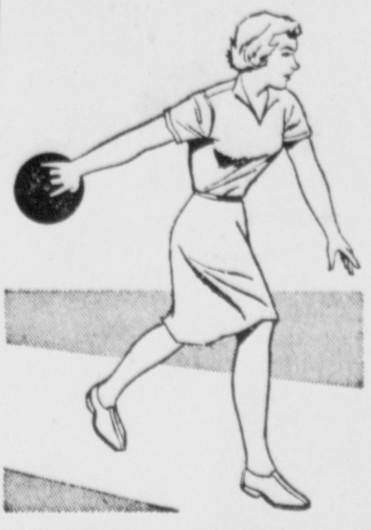
By MARION LADEWIG



It is always better to have a too-short backswing than one that "reaches the ceiling." Actually the best backswing for a woman, who wants control in her delivery, is probably slightly less than shoulder-high, but there are many excellent bowlers who swing back even less than that.

Police Schedule 'Shoot For Fun'

San Rafael Police Association will hold a "Shoot for Fun" event the next two weekends at the Police Pistol Range on Irene Street, off Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

The shoot will be held Saturday and Sunday, and the following weekend, June 14-15 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and is open to the public.

Main event will be the shotgun event, with competitors shooting at clay pigeons for points, redeemable for prizes. There also will be events for pistol and 22 caliber rifle.

Proceeds will go to assist the San Rafael Police Pistol team.

Jack Nicklaus Doesn't Like Favorite Role

MIDLOTHIAN, Ill. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus ranked among the favorites—but didn't want the role—when he set out in defense of his Western Open Golf Tournament title today.

"I don't think you can really pick one man and make him a favorite" the Ohio strongboy said. "Any one of 40 or 50 players could win it. There's just too many good golfers out there to make a choice.

"Of course," he added, "there always are certain players you have to figure you have to beat."

CASPER

He didn't name any names, but Bill Casper, twice a U.S. Open champion, winner of more than $205,000 last year, quickly took himself out of that category.

"I'm just not playing well at all right now," said Casper, who almost had to pull out because of another in a series of allergy attacks.

"I don't feel well at all," Casper said.

RESTING

Nicklaus, the 210-pound Golden Bear who has won all the world's major titles and champion of the last two Westerns, also has had some minor problems lately.

"I've just been resting most of the time," said Nicklaus, among the last in the classy field of 143 to tee off in the first round of the 72-hole tourney on the 6,654-yard, par 71 Midlothian Country Club course.

FRAZIER'S VERBAL ATTACK

Mild Reaction From Clay

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Frazier's verbal attack on Cassius Clay has brought a mild reaction from the former heavyweight champion, but Angelo Dundee, Clay's manager and trainer, says Frazier "couldn't lick one half of Clay."

Frazier, recognized as heavyweight champion in six states, called Clay a "big phony' 'and a "disgrace" among other things.

"That's pretty strong talk," Clay said in Houston where he is seeking dismissal of his conviction for refusing induction into military service. "Let him keep talking. All I've got to say is before he can talk about me, he has to get by Quarry."

Frazier made the remarks at Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., where he is training for a June 23 title defense against Jerry Quarry.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, June 5, the 156th day of 1969 with 209 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1917 more than 9.5 million American men between the ages of 21 and 30 began registering for the World War I draft.

In 1933 President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed a bill abolishing the gold standard.

In 1966 astronaut Gene Cernan left Gemini-9 for a two-hour, 10-minute "spacewalk."

In 1968 Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot and fatally wounded in Los Angeles by an Arab.

A thought for the day: President Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "There is no indispensable man."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Repeated Leads Of Side Suit Damages Strong Trump Suit

It is well known that little drops of water will wear away the hardest stone. This applies to bridge, where repeated leads of a side suit will wear away even the strongest trump suit. You can defend yourself against this kind of erosion by coming in out of the rain.

DIAMOND LEAD

South ruffed the first heart with the eight of spades, led a diamond to dummy and returned the singleton trump to try a finesse with the nine. West won with the queen of spades and led another heart, forcing South to ruff with the ten.

By this time South's magnificent trump suit was reduced to three cards, and he had to use all of them to draw West's trumps. When West took the ace of clubs, he ran the rest of his hearts, and South was down three.

South should have made the contract by refusing to allow all those drops of water to wear away his trump suit. After ruffing the first heart, South should lead the ace and king of spades and then abandon the trump suit.

UNBLOCKS CLUBS

South leads a low club and plays dummy's queen under West's ace. West leads another heart, and now South and West each have only two trumps.

Declarer must not lead a trump to force out the queen because West would then return a heart to make South use up his last trump. Instead, South simply leads a club to the king and continues the clubs, allowing West to ruff with the four.

West returns a heart, and South ruffs with the ten. Declarer then goes back to the clubs, and West can get only his queen of trumps. South regains the lead with the jack of trumps to take the rest of the tricks.

South can manage to stay one trump ahead of West as long as he doesn't greedily try to limit the trump loss to one trick.

A new business opened at 4380 Redwood Highway, in the Margarita Plaza at the entrance of Northgate Industrial Park is Optoelectronics, Inc.

In the words of the president of the company, Robert A. Bell, it was established " . . . for the research, development and fabrication of sophisticated infrared sensors and related components." Initial output of infrared sensors will be for governmental agencies, but according to Bell they will also have application to the field of medical diagnosis.

Present offices will be used for engineering. And an additional 2,500 square feet will be taken nearby for temporary research and development laboratories. Another facility later will house the permanent laboratories and a fabrication plant.

The luxury retirement structure contains 279 studio, one and two-bedroom apartments, and according to the management, three out of four of them have been taken. Facilities include a formal dining room seating 300, a 55-bed hospital, maid service, lounges on each floor, a theater and library. Landscaping around the buildings is in progress. Extensive recreational programming is being planned.

An open house is scheduled for late this month and formal dedication ceremonies will be held in the fall.

READY FOR OCCUPANCY — A few of the apartments in the Tamalpais retirement residence in Greenbrae have started lighting up at night, but in this scene they are outdone by the dramatic lighting on the circular three-story structure which contains the dining rooms, kitchen, hospital auditorium. Residents will be moving in the main towers throughout the summer.

Wall Street Jitters On Brisk Trade

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks closed irregularly lower today, with declines topping advances by almost 100 issues. Trading was fairly active.

The fourth consecutive decline this week again reflected the threat of a boost in the prime lending rate from a record high of 7.5 per cent, and uncertainty over Vietnam peace prospects.

Department stores were irregular. Sears Roebuck and J.C. Penney both reported higher sales.

Steels generally edged upward following some price hikes on steel plates and structural shapes.

Superior was on the uptrack in the oils after sliding 4 in the previous session. Standard of Ohio backed off. The issue jumped 25 Wednesday. It has announced plans to merge with BP Oil Co., a unit of British Petroleum traded on the American Stock Exchange.

Motors tended easier following plans for reduced production schedules this week. Sales in the final 10 days of May declined.

Glue Firm Offers Promising Future

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Our son will graudate from engineering college shortly and we would like to make him a gift of a growth stock. What stock would you recommend? — J. J.

A. As an engineer, your son probably will appreciate the potentials of H. B. Fuller Co., maker of over 4,000 adhesive products. Although incorporated in 1915, the company went public only a year ago. Since 1963, sales have more than doubled, while profits have been reported annually. Earnings last year at $1.10 a share showed a 35 per cent gain year to year. First-quarter results of 30 cents were double those a year earlier on a 16 per cent gain in sales.

This company's adhesives, coatings and polymers have numerous applications including an epoxy bead used on all NHL hockey sticks and for laminating cooking pouches for packaging frozen foods. Although 92 industries are served, 37 per cent of sales are to the paper and paperboard industry, 18 per cent to wood products and construction and 15 per cent to the packaging field.

It is in the area of construction that H. B. Fuller anticipates the greatest growth. Innovative building techniques utilizing Fuller adhesives, which save both time and money over conventional construction methods, will help to solve the crushing problem of low-cost housing.

Q. You have mentioned in the past that certain Treasury bonds are accepted in payment of federal estate taxes if owned by the decedent at the time of death. Please give me the exact name of one you would recommend. Would these be made out "to the bearer" or to a specific name? — A. K.

A. Coupon bonds made out "to the bearer" are more immediately negotiable and therefore preferable if the bonds are to be kept in a vault. Although age at the time of purchase might have some bearing on the choice because of interest rates, the usual criterion is cost. Since the bonds are accepted at par, the larger the discount the better. For that reason a 3.5 per cent 11/15/98 Treasury bond selling in the low 70s would be my choice.

Teachers Oppose Tam Board's Raise Offer

Tamalpais High School District teachers last night turned down a proposed 4.2 per cent 1969-70 salary scale increase saying that it would not even keep up with inflation if federal and state taxes were paid as well.

The $500 increase, plus the automatic annual step raise, would total 8 per cent — or $945 per teacher.

The teachers, who are asking for a 10 per cent increase, called a general membership meeting for 4 p.m. today at Redwood High School's Little Theater to present the District board proposal to members.

Trustees, meeting for the sixth time to discuss salaries, also offered 88 teachers, who have reached the 13th and final salary step, a 14th step so that, in effect, every teacher would get an 8 per cent increase.

Trustee David D. Ring said the board's offer is based on the position that there would be no tax rate increase in the district in the near future, that the auditor had recommended a reserve of between $900,000 and $1.2 million and that it is poor financial planning to look at only a one-year budget.

Following a caucus, teacher spokesman William B. Wilkinson told trustees they had totally ignored priority recommendations of the superintendent for other budget cuts. Wilkinson said that anything less than an 8 per cent across-the-board scale increase — aside from automatic increments — puts the district in a disadvantageous position to hire quality teachers.

In addition, Wilkinson added, the board ignored the teachers' request for health and welfare and fringe benefits which could be financed by an override tax.

Trustees set 8 p.m., Monday to meet again with the teachers and set 4 p.m., June 11 as a meeting date to discuss administrative and classified salaries. Both meetings are to be in the district office, Edward J. Neumeier, administrative assistant, reported.

In other business the board authorized renting, under a lease purchase contract with Speedspace Corp., Santa Rosa, a four classroom portable to be used for the proposed Opportunity School.

The agreement is to rent the portable for two years at $18,593 per year and then to decide whether to continue to rent or buy the building. If the decision is to buy, the cost would be $121,711.

Point Reyes Cash Urged By Senate

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The state Senate today unanimously passed a resolution urging the federal government to buy more land for Point Reyes National Seashore and to put a freeze on sales of any it already owns.

The resolution by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, calls on Congress and President Richard M. Nixon specifically to purchase the 25,000-acre ranch now owned by A. W. Sweet of Coos Bay, Ore.

Sweet, a banker, has announced he will start dividing the vast ranch into 40-acre parcels for sale because his family is no longer able to carry the financial burden of holding it.

The resolution opposes a proposal by National Park Service officials to sell about 9,000 acres of the seashore property for private development.

Reps. William S. Maillard, R-Sixth District, and Don H. Clausen, R-First District, have introduced a bill to raise the authorization for the park to $57 million from the $19.1 million already authorized.

Of the 64,415 acres originally designated for the national seashore, 29,155 remain in private hands.

District Votes Sewer Extension

Ross Valley Sanitary District directors last night granted Eliseo Land Co. a public sewer extension from the area between the Tamalpais in Larkspur to Bon Air Road for the final undeveloped area in the Bon Air area, manager Ralph C. Noah reported today.

The board heard a report by engineer Warren E. Nute on his current study of a proposed transmission line from Stadium Way to Bon Air pumping station. No action was taken, Nute saying he will make a specific recommendation in two months.

Three routes are under consideration: one through Marin Catholic High School property; one following Corte Madera Creek to Highway 101 overpass and one to follow the Corte Madera Creek to Bon Air Road, then to Sir Francis Drake to the Bon Air pumping station.
